

10-FEB-2021_the on button of praise and love

More from the "Seeds of David": Friar John

I help to orchestrate times when it's just you and I for a bit. Times when we can meet. A time with a friend to just chat and to love with our Saviour and Redeemer. I love these times, for it's then that you open up to Heaven more. You need these times of intimate connection. I want you to feel what it's like to be alone with Jesus. I help pick the settings and draw your heart aside away from the things surrounding you.

Though I say "I am alone with you" what I mean is you are focusing on Jesus alone, without other distractions, and I am there helping to aid you in your experience, though you may or may not actually detect my presence. I'm an invisible helper, but I can help to draw things out of your soul and to lift you above.

I help to set the setting of privacy and aloneness with the Master, for it is then that you tell your most intimate secrets and love Him in your deepest ways.

Thank me for my involvement at times, but focus your love and heart on Jesus. A little kiss my way and that's all I need, for my own love is being filled in Heavenly ways. But this slight interaction enhances our connection, and thus I can help you more. Praise and love brings new and better help from Heaven. It's the "on" button. It's just the way it works.
