

12-Jan-2021_fiery fuel

(Spirit helper speaking: ) The fuel that ignited the fire and powered up Elijah's fiery chariot, is Heavenly jet fuel. It comes from the Spirit of God. It can burn anything, and light a fire anywhere, it can consume absolutely anything.

I say "jet fuel" because instantly your natural mind thinks two things—one about movement and going places, not standing still, not being on Earth, but movement away from the rest of the world that is gravity-captured; and secondly you might think of speed.

This was one of the aids from Heaven that was given to assist Elijah on his mission. If you go through the stories of this fiery prophet you will find several occurrences that involved fire. And the prophets of the end will likewise have the fire of God protecting them.

So what do you need?

Ask for the fiery fuel to fire you up and transport you where you need to go, eliminate your foes, and protect you. And of course perform some feats that will make the false leaders' plans go haywire.

It would make for a fun study to see the times God used fire to do something spectacular—both in the Bible and in the lives of others whose stories are written down for your inspiration and benefit.

There is Samson and the fire-tailed foxes. There's the tongues of fire on the apostles' heads heralding the new era of worldwide witnessing. And in the modern day there is, more often than not, the protection from fire in supernatural and spectacular ways.

So, need a heart that is on fire, burning with desire to do what your Lord and Maker, King and Creator wants you to? Heaven's fire power can do that.

Need some real fire to consume a team of devils clothed in human form on their way to finish you off? Yep, we've got some of that fuel in stock to be sent down at lightning speed, at precisely the right moment.

Claim the fire power of Heaven, and it will be there for you, when God knows it'd be best.

*(Note: In the evening, as if to bring to life some of these messages, I was cooking and all of a sudden, the electric burner on the stove burst in to a big wide flame. There must have been some oil around it or something. Though this has never happened before or since. I didn't get the fire on me, wonderfully. My husband blew it quickly out.—

In the morning, around the time I was getting this, something else occurred. My 3 boys were walking with a Christian friend, when an agitated angry man was troubling them. Our friend stood up to him, and took him on verbally. My boys had never seen this type of interaction happen before, or seen our friend in "fighting mode". The man had rudely pushed my son, and then said that he had been pushed by my son instead—playing the victim to pick a fight--and was making a big deal about it, trying to get my son in trouble, like it says in the message, "devils clothed in human form". But our friend called his bluff and all. It was a fiery occasion, and nearly turned into a physical fight, or so I heard. But I was so touched that he defended the honour of my son who tried to move out of this man's way, and even apologised to the man who he was bumped by, who had purposely elbowed my boy! Our friend defended him as if he was his own son. That was real precious.

Also on this day in the morning I memorised the key: (and was easy)

Claim the keys for My protection against fires, falls, floods, children's injuries, kitchen accidents, lightning storms, car accidents, or whatever it is that concerns you. I am strong and powerful, and will protect you from all harm.

On this day there was also a lighting storm at night, a trip in car, baby learning to walk and was safe, boys safe on trips out, no falls. The Lord ticked every box in that key promise.
