(Spirit Helper speaking:) Come on another adventure with me. Let's put down the hankies, and bandages with spots of blood, and the dustbin full of tear-filled tissues, and let's just go. It's time for refreshment. You need it more often now that you are fighting more fervently.

You didn't know this was part of the deal—more fighting means more frequently getting refreshment.

I'll take you again to that lovely, awesome castle, somewhere in paradise. I took you here for your time of heart healing from a certain situation in the distant past. Here we spent the night in the master bedroom, and dined with others in a glorious feast, with all kinds of other pleasures as part of the experience.

Today we'll sit out on the one of the large patios, way up high, overlooking the glorious landscape. There's lots to see, and most of all it's just real relaxing. We sip on some juice and eat bits of nibbles that are fun and light. Here we have time to laugh and enjoy a pleasant time.

I know you miss having engaging conversations with those whose hearts beat in the same rhythm as yours. You see, I have the pleasure of becoming whatever is needed, and today I make an excellent conversationalist. We can have such good discussions, and know what each other is talking about.

What you don't and can't get here while on planet zero, will be there for you, provided for you by your Heavenly Husband. How do I know you so well, and love to hang out with you?—With no strings attached? I'm created and fashioned so. It's that simple. Let's enjoy what we each are created to enjoy.

It's like that way on Earth, is it not? Two people can go on and on conversing about something they both enjoy and know something about. And it feels so good to talk and talk, as it's rare to have a moment like that. But here, you can have these moments with lots of people, every day. It really fills up the cup of "loneliness" that was felt plenty in Earth Learning Station.

I have a large shell here on the table, with little slips of paper in it. On them are written some interesting questions that those sitting here on the porch might like to ask each other. It's nice to have some Heavenly ideas of things to talk about.

It's more than just a way to meet and greet and have fun fellowship, but primarily a way to learn. Yes, learn. We learn lots from each other, because we are each, individually always learning more from Jesus. So, talking is a fun way to learn; a fun way to pass on to each other things we've both learned.

Wanna hang out with me and get to know new things? I'll listen to your stories and to your questions, and we can converse about things you will find very interesting.

I know you are stocking up your desire for these fun times together with friends.

Be faithful and enjoy what you have there, also. —Time. Still time to do this or that; learn this and that; and stock up rewards in the next life while working hard.

Come to me tonight and let's fly away, up and away to this special place. We'll talk some more, okay?

If you are not satisfied with just any odd dreams, ask that your time asleep be used in the best and most potent way, that really gives you a boost. You're going to need it. Ask and be filled.
