

14-May-2021_love bone enhanced

(Jesus speaking:) When our love nest is revealed, that you and I have been passionately going at it for years, that will be something not to be embarrassed about, but to celebrate.

I have ways to truly humiliate you that you have no idea about. You have given yourself to Me to do with you as I wish, and all will truly come short of My glory. But that's not to flatten you to the pavement, but to make our love bond be enhanced; for if I love and wish to be with you anyway, for this you are permanently indebted. It's one of those glues that bonds us together. And just the fact that I can and do enact plans that keep you in the humble seat does keep you rather submitted, very respectful. This too humbles you, but in a good way as it draws you closer to know more about this love you scarcely can understand, that loves anyway.