

14-OCT-2020_what is on My mind

(Question: ) What's on Your mind, Lord? What little part do You want to let me in on, Husband, Lord, King, Commander?

(Jesus speaking: ) You've done well to seek Me to speak on thoughts that are well above your own, thoughts that run even contrary to what you are mulling about. Ah, that is the secret of rising above. If only more would realise it. To try to get My mind—not just my mind on what YOU are going through, but My mind on what I AM pondering about.

For indeed I have many more children to care for than you do, yet I stoop to talk yet again to you about some minor thing to do with your family. And it's good that you seek Me out, for it is in teamwork that we can make steady progress. But I do long for a wife who can put aside all, and I mean all, anything that pertains to this world, and commune with Me on matters "out of this world".

Your love for Me is indeed unfettered and unchained to this world. Hearing of this I will always enjoy. I know it's not of this world because it's something you and others are persecuted for. Another thing I'm always eager to hear about is requests for the salvation of others. This has nothing to do with this world; for it's praying for My Kingdom's citizens, future personnel for a reign and rule that has yet to transpire, in a world that you have never seen but by faith.

I love talking about My Word and explaining things you wish to understand, and spiritual lessons I wish for you to grasp. These things too are unfettered to this world, and in fact are in contradiction to the way things are trying to be run here in the world. So it takes going against the grain, 'against the pull' I should say to you who are gravity controlled: it takes going against gravity. And thus it helps you to "rise above".

So now we sit here, in our little cave again. I bet you didn't think I'd be able to get through to you much with the new job you now have. But that's because you thought you would keep doing things the same way you always had. And that is, when a new factor enters the equation, a new and very big and real something that demands most of your time and attention, that you would have little thoughts left, or time left to hear from Me, like you used to.

But that is what needs to change. I don't want to only speak about this or that challenge you now face—again and again each day. How about you just tell Me what you need Me to change, so that I can make something not a time consuming challenge. Then free your mind to think totally new, out of the box thoughts right from heaven. You don't have to now be chained to think about things of the Earth, and only things about the physical world you are fully engaged in. If you keep your mind on things above, you are less likely to be swept away in the debris of personal battles.

I want you to fight battles, but not the ones you think. I want you to fight for the training of little lives, not just fight to keep your patience through another physical test. I want you to fight the real battles that are shrouded by the physical that you see and can touch and be bothered by. Look past the messes and situations that you can't get to; don't go down that mental road again, seeing all the lacks and things that are getting missed. These visual "to do's" are a distraction to pull you and pull your mind away constantly from the real things that I want to show you and teach you.

Yes, you don't have the freedom to just start typing revelation after revelation, but if your mind is focusing on the Heavenly things, and praying for it, then it will work out. If I see that you aren't just hoping to get the crumbs and messes picked up, but you are wishing to come into My house instead, I just might take you there. I don't just want to be there with you, I want you to be Here with Me, in heart and mind and spirit. That is how you will rise above.

Set your affections on things above, not just on these things of the earth. See, when things are not mentally stimulating, or they are extra physically demanding, you can tend to get on the wrong and blank channels, and get into a deep cloud of despondency, feeling very alone. I don't want you to go there. In those times are when you can be communing deeply with Me and I can truly be one with you.

It's no longer a test to see if you'll cheerfully sit there doing essentially nothing but toy play, while there are so many things you wish to be doing for Me and for your other children. Yes, you need to be cheerful, but how? You need to learn to rise above and touch Me, and let My thoughts take you out of your surroundings and into something totally different. This will lift you and protect you too.

So what am I thinking?

I'm thinking about the world right now; the world I want to help; the world that is nearing its closing hours. There is so much hatred, that seeing bits of love scattered here and there is a real treat. Even amongst true believers, fervent, unfettered love, love that is not linked to something of the past or linked to a desire they wish for, is hard to find.

You have it there, seen in this little one. He has no past record with you, yet he loves and he shows it. There is nothing he can do for you, so you loving him isn't linked to something you are trying to get from him in return. It's a one way giving type of love. And his is an unconditional type of love, divinely given, fresh from Heaven, daily given out to him.

Maybe a display of love is what I was after. Things were getting pretty cool, as you know. A bit of love coals to warm things up a bit was in order and needed, and gets My attention.

What else is on My mind?

You.

Can you stop thinking about this and that for just a bit, and look into My eyes and see the reflection of you in there. I've got eyes for you, and I really care about you, as an individual.

One day you'll get to see, in utter astonishment, what I did for you while on Earth, to safely bring you home again. But for now, just know that I have and will continue to do major things to keep you going safe and steady and on target (most of the time).

I'm with you and I care about you more than you'll ever know.
