

15-Jan-2022_unusual storm

Note:

--The sky was flashing with white sheet lightning last night, 14th of January, Friday night, on and on for hours! One flash after the next, sometimes just seconds apart. Seldom a sound of thunder, just lightning flashes like a flash of a camera covering large parts of the sky. And some very sudden hard rain at times. When thunder did come it was very loud and strong. It was a most unusual storm, that just kept going on and on. Before this happened when I was in the kitchen I heard a loud explosion, like a gun or something. It wasn't thunder nor fireworks. Was it the starting sound for the race or the battle?

--Someone else in the neighbourhood said the thunder he did hear in the night was unusual, and was like explosions or explosives, not what it normally sounds like.

--Lots of other odd things happened that day. Baby had three nearly bad accidents but Lord spared from any actual hurt. The pouring rain from the storm filled his sand box, like it always does, and was filled more than usual in the night, but before morning came the water was gone! The sandbox pit in the ground was completely drained out! Usually it takes at least a day or two to drain. But it was like the baby wasn't to bear any of the consequences of the storm and battle; the water was removed. His play area wasn't to be a causality. It showed it was a spiritual battle indeed, and clean up was done.

--Also that day there was the first ever, strange and angry arguing in the neighbour's yard, involving about 5 people. Knowing what I had be learning about (see file on "salvation vrs selvegion") I claimed the Keys of unity and fought the evil ones who were attacking them. Very soon it simmered down and they once again behaved like the well mannered elderly adults that they were. (Someone said the same thing happened to their neighbours too!)

***

(Jesus speaking: ) The storm has heightened. The battle rages on and you must be well girded with the voice of My Spirit to guide you, or you too will fall. Where to go and when; and if you are to be invisible at times when attending this or that event. For that now too is an option.

You mustn't know you are invisible, for that will make you act in different ways than you should, knowing you are watched. But if other humans aren't to know you are there, this can be easily done, if you pray. Always pray that if you are not to be seen, that you won't be. Just as Moses was not seen when he was on the mountain, for the cloud covered him, so can My cloud of witnesses, My angelic hosts cover you that you be not seen.

The raging unusual storm last night was a show for all to see that fighting is in exponential amounts now, and you are in the heat of the war.

Write now some of the events for others to hear.

(So I write here these things; prophecy continues after this: )

--The teen (whose dad passed away) couldn't come to visit and play cricket with our boys due to "close contact". (If people are tested "positive" they are to give the names of those they were with, and all these people and families are "locked down" in their house-prison.

--The young adults who are starting to have a ministry with teens and young people at the church nearby couldn't come and do something with our family today (cricket with the boys, or visiting for singing and fellowship) as also, right before they have been labeled "close contact". So they are barred from doing things also for a week; locked at home.

--A former missionary friend of ours is standing up against the phax, yet his ex wife took two of their children and had them jabbed, against his will and knowledge. His other son got Covid, and it was no big deal. He has natural immunity now and so doesn't need to jab. The dad tried so very hard to get Covid from his son, so he took could have the natural immunity status; but couldn't get it! This supposedly very contagious thing, no matter what he tried, wouldn't catch on him!

--He ordered the special stuff that cures Covid, to give to his son, but is now basically illegal, and the package was opened and it was confiscated upon entry to the country. And I heard about someone who did give it to their son, in the states, who got Covid, and the "child protection" people came to try to take the teen boy away because he was "at risk" for having this medicine given to him.

--This man, whose son got Covid, his parents are in a nursing home, both of them there, are "locked down" and not allowed to see each other! Married elderly cut off in the same building from each other. (And when we went to see them, the police were called to get him, as he was not phax'ed.)

--My husband continues to get notes from relatives pressuring to phax. One even went so far as to phone a singer that we know well for years and has worked with my husband lots, to try to get her to convince my husband. Thankfully she is now a Christian and told the man/my husbands brother "why don't you pray to Mk's God to protect him" --as they are saying again and again " we don't want you to die! Take the evilphax!"

--40 % more deaths are now occurring, after the evilphax has been introduced. They are not dying of CVD, but of heart situations, heart attacks and so forth; things that the evilphax causes. (So for example, if one insurance company usually has about 100 deaths in the month of May, then May now has 140 deaths. It is said that if even 5% increase in deaths is a huge deal; so 40% is really outrageous. The poppies message is happening.)

--Sudden strange deaths of children too. Like some weeks ago some children were jumping on a big jumping castle, (inflated with air shaped play area) when the wind took it up in to the air 10 meters! Sudden wind, when it had not been windy, and then crashed it to the ground and all the child died. Next day a dad takes his children on a little airplane ride (he was a millionaire) and it crashes and they die. Keys and prayer keep us all alive these days, when the battles aren't just humans causing hurt, but spiritual forces reaching through the veil and causing injury and death suddenly. Of course suicide stats are way up there, like 8 a day or something, here that is, on average.

--We were going to go for 5 days to stay with baby's relatives, but suddenly days before, we hear that's canceled, as his bio dad was taken way and put in prison, without his parents or friends knowing where he is or what is going on with him; and the baby's grandmother (the dad's mother) is very unwell and needing hospital care. Boom, from one moment to the next there are fallen and things are cancelled. Only the Lord's power can uphold anything.

--We hear now even some caravan parks are going to require phax; so where we go, if we go away for a break, giving the boys some inspiration, is going to be a miracle.

--Lord has kept us free from being in "self isolation" or "house arrest" as it really is; and supplied for us daily, abundantly, though we have not "burned incense to the Roman emperor" (phax) and have lost most jobs we depended on. Now we live by faith.

--Talked to someone whose brother was told by his wife that he would be kicked out of the house and not able to see their first and new little baby unless he got the evilphax; so he did. And now he has health troubles and all.

--The stats are off the charts (in the many 1,000's what used to be a couple hundred a year) of children and young people and strong-aged adults who are having heart troubles now and many, many deaths, due to the evilphax.

--Someone's Christian sister said to her, "you shouldn't even have a bankaccount if you are not phax'ed".

--Phax'd people who then have vigorous exercise are at risk of dying. And that's not because they are unfit. I heard that 3 football players, strong and famous, died when they did their next games because they were forced to take the evilphax, or something like that. Might not be the perfect rendition of the story, but basically that; same result.

--Someone who we visited who lives on a mountain said he didn't want any of is phax'd relatives to come there and hike around, as they might just drop dead or have a medical emergency. It would be hard to find them or to access them to rescue them out in the bush like that. Valley vaxxer's need to say in the valley, close to hospitals.

--There are now "self testing" kits to take your own testing of CVD at home... but if its positive and you don't report yourself, then woe to you! Big fines or worse. People were lining up for 4 or 5 hours to get mandatory testing... and that is very uncivilized in this place. It was looking bad for the government. Our friend who works in another place had to get a test every few days in order to be allowed to work!

(Jesus continues speaking: ) So, darling, things are tightening up, and your belt of prophecy will come in handy. Strap on the sword of the spirit and stay in prayer about where you go, what you do, and when you do it. This will guide you through the fires.

Note:

The prophecy mentioned, and was mostly comprised of talking about being invisible! I thought this curious and interesting. And all the more when I heard what had happened on that night of the storm.

(Jesus speaking: ) “If you are to be invisible at times when attending this or that event. For that now too is an option. You mustn’t know you are invisible, for that will make you act in different ways than you should, knowing you are watched. But if other humans aren’t to know you are there, this can be easily done, if you pray. Always pray that if you are not to be seen, that you won’t be.”

A friend of ours who lives nearby, on the night of the storm, told me the following day what happened that evening. His neighbours were having a party of sort, but the blaring, very loud music playing was demonic; unusually so. And it went on and on past midnight. He was having a very hard time reading the Bible or connecting with the Lord. There was some spiritual force fighting. He fought and kept reading until the Lord came through. But in the course of the evening thought to go to the neighbours and tell them to quiet it down. He wanted to give them a piece of his mind. However, when he stood there, and walked on their property to talk to them, it was like they couldn’t see him. They would not look at him. He prayed and the Lord said to just leave them to do what they were doing, and don’t bother talking to them. After that, our friend got peace in his heart, and was able to even go to sleep, literally in the midst of the storm—both the wild lighting storm for hours, as well as with the wicked sounds playing in the air for all those hours. When I talked to him the next morning and he said this, I asked an unusual question, “Do you think they saw you?” as in, were you even visible to them, though you were standing right there on their property. That was an interesting thought, and very much seemed as if they had not seen him, though he stood and walked around right there beside them. Then I read the message I got about the storm and about being invisible at times.

So the Lord really can do that. If it was safer and better that he not get involved when the wicked ones were doing their nasty celebrations, and just spy on them and pray and leave, then the Lord did it. They didn’t see him.

So especially in these days when you’ll be reported and locked up at home in a sudden blink, if you happened to be seen somewhere, I need to remember to add on to the prayers about going out, that if the Lord wants me or us to be invisible for that outing or that place, that we will be.
