

16-Feb-2022_dream about the testing

(Dream: ) I had a dream last night. My husband had some small thing he went to the doctor for. It was a Chinese woman doctor or receptionist. He told me when he got home what she had said. This is all in the dream.

She'd looked in his Covid test records history, that were meticulously kept, to see how many times he had been tested, and his wife and all the info written on it.

He couldn't have gone to actually see the doctor that time unless he took a test and proved to not have Covid. So it was a forced test. No test, no doctor. (Note: I didn't know that this is actually happening in some places now.)

But then she was saying to him, "I see you have had lots of Covid tests... and this and that has happened". She said even that "your wife hugged her mother at the time when someone else in the house proved positive in the testing..."

These were things all stacking up against him and us. The more tests you had done, the less chance of getting medical help and being admitted to the doctor; yet you couldn't see them unless you got a test. And each time you got a test it went on your record. So if someone had lots of Covid related incidents on their record, then it was more and more questionable if they could be allowed to be treated.

From what I understand in the dream, my husband was either untreated, or it was one of the last times he could be admitted for medical care due to his "history" on their records.

So it was being clear in the dream that the future health needs were really going to need to be the Lord bringing healing and miraculous help, as the doctor option was going to dry up soon, with so much "evidence" on our record.

Right now, in real life, no one hears about or knows about records being kept on them on file. At least I have never heard of it. They are compelled to take tests. For example some teachers and other workers have to take a test twice a week to be allowed to keep working. I haven't ever been tested, and don't plan to if I can help it, as I don't want anything to do with that "game" or regime. And I seemed to sense that things are all on file, and I'm glad to stay off of their files.

But it was very vivid in the dream, how they were going to use even the forced things, like testing, against you as if proof that you had some sort of virus happening to you if you had to keep getting tests. A time in history when the doctors didn't really want to help people, or the Chinese instituted ones, after ousting all the others, for all I know. People's medical needs weren't really important. The less people the better.

But maybe it just meant that China was overseeing all the doctors and keeping tabs on people.

Just think, with their nation of billions, if even just one billion of them monitor the rest of the people in the world, each one would only need to keep track of 6-7 people's social media and activities. But there will be less and less people even than that, real soon. And of course not all people are on social media, or they are too young. So it's really easy for a nation to call on its citizens to suddenly be the top class in the world and monitor a certain amount of people, as part of being loyal to their nation.

(And then the interesting thing that today, after writing up the dream and telling no one, I was told about some doctors and hospitals, in the states at least, when someone was admitted in for whatever reason, for some injury for example, had to be tested, and if it was a positive test, they were very mistreated with medicines that would be enough to kill people. It wouldn't be too much for the next step to be saying "you can't be admitted". Or for people to wise up and say, "it's too risky going to the hospital. It could cost my life to get treated" if the test malfunctioned and said they had covid. And since the tests are so unreliable—for example even once a papaya proved "positive" and had covid. Tests could be rigged of course, or altered to show up anything. So either way, it's Jesus that needs to keep us and heal us, in these strange and dark days. Maybe that's why faith healers have been fought so much, as then the control of using false medicine practices can't get people. If Jesus can heal anything and everything, then we and others escape the snare of the fowler. )

Lord, do you have anything to say about this dream?

(Jesus speaking: ) You know not what is on the horizon, but up ahead the keys of the Kingdom will be a “key” way to get through some of the tightest places that were narrowed in, allowing few to pass.

If you crack open the code and see it lie plainly before you—how to use the keys and for whom they will work--and you align yourself to be such a person that is eligible, you’ll be just the right size and shape to make it through all sorts of doors.

See the doors and stipulation just keep getting more complex—the worldly doors to freedom. And each place you live, there are different doors and requirements to get to do this and that, according to who is in charge and is trying to be in control.

The real leader lurks somewhere in the shadows and keeps close tabs on everything. It’s his game and he wants to play it the way he finds most pleasure in. But you and the lost who are seeking after something higher and better, keep trying to slip away from his evil grasp, and he can’t quite catch up with you. And it’s very very frustrating. He sets up this whole system of levers and gears and booby traps, lures and pathways to get the masses doing a certain thing, but then there are the “escapies” and these lead others out of the trap route.

There is little he can do with those who have access to all of Heaven’s power and are using it correctly, for the good of others. And those seekers, well, they will keep getting caught and brought back into the wicked pathway using some other means to catch them, because they haven’t yet found the Heavenly way out and allow themselves to be lured; mostly because they need things, and haven’t tapped into Heaven being the source of all their needs being met.

If you have a need, you can be pulled right into the contraption. It’s set up this way to prey on humans with needs, real hard needs. However, those who have the right to the storehouse of Heaven, where anything, absolutely anything is possible, anywhere you are, and you are asking Me for your needs, then you won’t have to succumb to the world being your source of “bread and butter”. I can use the world to meet your needs, but you ring Me up first and then I supply for you as is best, and in the way that accomplishes the most for My Kingdom at the same time.

I can use needs to bring others to Me, if you are seeking Me for the support and supply, rather than begging at satan’s system’s door for a few crumbs and are willing to be slaved and abused in the process.

No, My dears, you are princes and princess, merely on a quest to bring the invitation to the biggest and most glorious feast. Disguised as poppers and persecuted folks at times, but that will end when the time is right. Once you are through inviting all you can, then the dinner bell will ring and the celebrating can begin in earnest.

Scenario #1: You have a need that the medicals normally would have taken care of, so without much thinking you go there, like always. But in the end something really bad happens to you and you feel trapped and seriously hurt.

Scenario #2: You have a medical need and you seek Me in earnest, claiming the power of Heaven to come through and deliver you. You ask others for prayer. You ask if there is anything I want to be showing you or teaching you through it so you can learn it fast and be on to victory as soon as possible. Then I either give you instant healing, the moment the reason for it has been completed, or I direct you to others who can help you and they are empowered to help you rightly.

[Note: After I wrote up the dream, here is what was sent to me via email just some hours later!—The same day.]

Dear brothers and sisters

I am hearing terrible stories about very bad things happening in hospitals. The stories are coming from the US, but similar things may be happening in other countries. As someone from a medical family I find it difficult to relate this, but find it my duty to do so.

There are reports from the US that patients coming to hospital for unrelated health issues are being tested positive for covid, and in doing so (with or without displaying symptoms) are immediately placed in an extreme regime of heavy drugs and ventilators tubes, being induced into a coma and being left unattended until they die. The hospital allegedly gets a large sum of money for each patient they treat in this prescribed way.

Relatives who raise concerns are stopped by hospital security, brushed aside and told to leave. Consent from either the patient or a relative is not sought, indeed treated with contempt.

I don't know how true this is, or how extensive, but if true this is monstrous. In no way must medical procedures be conducted to the detriment of patients' health. Medicine is always to be conducted under informed consent, and if not by the patient at least from a spouse or loved one. These principles were enshrined in the Nuremberg Codes after the Holocaust.

I am reminded, in case you don't know this, or if you do I repeat:

The Holocaust did not start with the 1941 Wannsee Conference in which top Nazi officials decided upon a "Final Solution". That's the false narrative that you see in documentaries and history books. It in fact started in 1939 when doctors and nurses started to systematically murder their patients. Many of these same doctors and nurses, now practiced in murder, ended up in the death camps doing "medical experiments". The Nuremberg Codes were developed precisely because of the failure of the Hippocratic Oath.

We do not want to believe that the very people we place most of our trust in are in fact not only no better than the rest of us, but that they have the means to do terrible things and get away with it in a way the rest of us do not. In short the only person we can truly place our faith in for our health, or anything, is Jesus.

[End of email written and sent to me on that day.]

[Note: I just remembered that 20 or so years ago there was a lot of pressure in the world to make sure that people went to the doctor. Any children's shows or publications that talked of illness had to mention the use of the medical system or else they were charged with negligence and all sorts of things.

Then for several years now, there has been the vax-the-children drive in all sorts of places. Here the funds given for parents from the government was limited or removed if they didn't have their children and little baby immunized regularly. Some countries would try to take children away saying it was "negligence".

And now I see it has all been leading up to where we are now. If that ground work hadn't been in place, the sheep couldn't have been corralled as easily. It's been planned for so long, worldwide. And the so called "child protection" agencies have been used to do it. So those "kids" are now the parents of today, used to it and in the mode of doing it to themselves and to their children.]

[Note: Also there is this very evil thing now in hospitals and it's called, "DNR". "Do not resuscitate". That means, that if the patient starts to have something makes them start to break down and die—due to whatever reason, perhaps even from the treatment given—that the hospital staff will stand by and watch them die and not do anything to help revive them; as if legally restricted from doing anything to save their life.

For example a man took in his elderly mother for medical care and they said, without explaining, "shall I put her on the DNR list?"—like it was on a waiting list for getting some sort of help. Thankfully he kept asking questions to find out what they were saying, and when he knew, then flatly refused to have such an order placed on her. It was almost as if if they thought he was taking her there with the intention to die. My husband said that when he went to the hospital for his appendicitis he was asked the same thing, if he would like to not be resuscitate, but to die without any intervention or medical help if something went wrong or there was a bad reactions to medications, etc. I said to him, "What about your wife and children, did they want to ask us?" Nope.

Imagine, the place that is set up to save life, now asks if anyone wishes to be let to die, as part of the normal procedure. And they could give any kind of medication there and it cause a deadly reaction. And with a “DNR” listing, they’d just watch the patient die and help it on its way.

A quick look in the scriptures shows this:

2CH.16:12 And Asa in the thirty and ninth year of his reign was diseased in his feet, until his disease was exceeding great: yet in his disease he sought not to the LORD, but to the physicians.

2CH.16:13 And Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth year of his reign.

JOB.13:4 But ye are forgers of lies, ye are all physicians of no value.

LUK.8:43 And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any,

MAR.5:26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse,

GEN.50:2 And Joseph commanded his servants the physicians to embalm his father: and the physicians embalmed Israel. [working with the dead is what they did skilfully]

The devil desires to cause illness and pain, and knows that humans will stop at nothing to protect their bodies—even give up their faith:

JOB.2:4 And Satan answered the LORD, and said, Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life.

JOB.2:5 But put forth thine hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse thee to thy face.

(Jesus speaking: ) People will do some of the most outrageous things to save themselves the painful death that illness can bring, and if it’s painted black enough, people will go to great lengths to save themselves from “the plague”. But darlings, you are in My family, and nothing and no one can touch you without My permission. Sometimes a touch of this or that is allowed through the protective shield to get you to pray, so worse things won’t occur.

What does “Lord” mean? The one you go to for every need, big or little. A constant prayer chain and link to Me through all the happenings of the day and life. If I see that you are going to Me as your first recourse, and in many situations am the ONLY recourse, I love being honored in that way. Then I truly am your Lord, the one who holds the bag of provision and gives you permission for all your activities.

Thank you for choosing the path of “least resistance”—that is to say, the easy way of asking Me first off, to help you get through and to support you in whatever is lacking. Any other way, outside of My express permission and provision, is going to bring you heartache, and is a very round about way of getting what you need, a long and hard route to take. The short way, the fast way, the least painful way is to ask Me right at the start of a problem or trouble, and then to keep asking Me what to do, and for My help to be given. Of course you have to follow through with what I say, and that will include doing a lot of things you might not have chosen or wished to do. But when you obey, I melt the obstacles away and make you able to reach your goal regardless of what troubles were thrown at you.

I love you darling.
