

17-Feb-2021_ in the realm of words

More from the “Seeds of David”: Brunheld

We’re fighting hard, and so must you. What does this mean for you? We know what it means for us, but sometimes it gets a bit hazy for you. It’s because of the love and mercy of Jesus that your battles appear light, as in you don’t see the blood and feel the blows in a physical way, nor do you face visually the fiends of the netherworld.

So be glad and rejoice that Jesus does veil the battles somewhat from your sight, hearing, feeling, touching, tasting and so forth—like we here must endure. But it makes us stronger.

You fight in realm of words. When Jesus Christ, the Word of God became flesh, so did the battle shift to be all about words, and so was it that words would win. Words are your weapons of choice. Makes it simple. You don’t have to wonder, “Do I use light, or reflectors, or ... “ I won’t list all the many things at our disposal, because the names you have never heard and certainly wouldn’t know what they are used for, or how to use them.

But all you have to do is speak, or think, what your Lord has said to say, or pray, or claim, and then we do the heavy load pulling and battle blasting.

Be glad if it all seems a bit in a cloud or fog, just what is really going on as you simply use words. Say them, read them, memorise them, and fight the hell out of the wicked one using them.

Words are as swords and can bring about good or trouble. Use or refrain from using them as is best for winning the battles right where you are.