More from the "Seeds of David": Spirit of deep and soul searching Honesty

Gird up the loins of your mind and be sober. Take on the full armour of God so you can withstand the fierce attacks of satan who comes to batter you up, first this way and then that way. Its pointless just being "honest" about the same things, again and again, the same battles that you keep allowing to use the land of your mind for.

You never then actually get fully deep and pull out those treasures from the depths of your heart to be discussed and replaced as is needed. When you let the same surface troubles hit you, just because you aren't willing to fight, then you seldom do get deep, really deep with the Lord in heartfelt, heart to heart communication and deep heart cleansing.

The more time you spend in the Word, of course, the more you are going to get cleansed. Why? Because the landfield, battle zone of your mind is more protected from the petty things, the repeated distractionary battles, and at last you can delve more deeply into what you actually should be dealing with, getting help and prayer for, and taking to the Lord for counsel and renewal.

If you let the little things constantly trouble you, the repeated issues that you are meant to forsake and put out of your mind, then you are just constantly distracted.

So if you find yourself talking to your Lord for the millionth time about something that wouldn't be a problem anymore if you'd just at last yielded to His will in the matter and gave up whatever He's asking of you, maybe it's time to have a reboot. Time to get "renewed" in your mind, so you can get a bit deeper, and talk about some new things that might really matter to you, but have been tucked away for so long.

How to get rebooted? Ask for it with all your heart, and the Lord can refit your mind, and give you new thoughts.

You can become a new you, if you ask. Wanna wake up tomorrow with a new mind and a fresh outlook, and gain maturity? Let the Lord's mind and thoughts become more your habit. And you can only do that with the gift of on-going prophecy, hearing from Him, getting His thoughts about the things you see and do each day.

Just letting His thoughts take over more will make a mind revolution, which will start a heart revolution. And a revoluted heart is an alive heart that keeps going. It gets addicted to getting and keeping clean, and being filled with new waters. It gets used to being right with God, and wants to keep letting Jesus' love and thoughts in deeper and more fully.
