More from the "Seeds of David": Far-reaching effect

(Jesus speaking: ) The little things along the way, the trinkets, the minor distractions are many, and captivate the thoughts and minds of little men. But if you can look past them, even in faith, that there really is something bigger and far grander to look towards, you will be less weighed down.

That's why My Word says, "Set Your affections on things that are above, not on things of the Earth."

Why? Because that is the simplest and quickest way to get to your destination.

And to even know what your destination/ our untied destination is (for I walk together with you), you need to be looking to things Above.

It's like the difference of being a sight seer, or being there to see the people and feel their needs, using the things they are looking at to get them thinking about something else, something much bigger. Use the sights as object lessons to show and tell about bigger, grander things worth talking about and thinking about--not thinking that the sights are the end of the matter, and are all there is to it.

Be this way yourself, with all you see and hear and touch that belongeth to this planet, it too is for a mere lesson on something. On what? Listen to the whispers. Look to the unseen mind of God. See what you can learn. Let things be as doors to open you to deep wisdom, not be dragged down by the things that are temporal.
