

26-MAR-2021_the surprise will be so exhilarating

(Jesus speaking: ) My beloved angel dear, thank you for coming to Me quickly. This indeed is a sacrifice, to use what tiny bit of time you have to work, to find out what I'd like you to write.

Darling, this time of muck and goo is trying indeed, but darling it won't be forever, and not for that much longer either, for I will arise with Healing in My wings.

Just a while longer. I feel the collective suffering of the church, all My brides that are living in this time of the end. But chin up, we are rounding the bend, you just can't see us yet. We're riding in and going for the kill. The surprise will be so awakening, so exhilarating. Thrilling and fantastic.

Keep yourself occupied and don't give in to defeat. Keep heading through the stormy waters, you'll see the sunlight shining through as you ride up and out of the waters on the other side.
