

26-Sept-2021_together forever

(Jesus speaking:) You and Me. Just you and Me together for a time of inspiration and refreshment. I do love putting aside work and telling you of My love. Just a time to focus on the needs of the heart; for it's why I do what I do—to bring yet closer the hearts and souls of people, right into very close proximity to My own heart of love.

So, what would you like to talk about? Something personal that you don't dare breathe to another human being. I do like hearing about such things. I do like knowing that I am that special and trusted to you.

So what else is on your mind? I know you can't hide it, even if you tried. But do you know what else I know? How to make it all work out for good in the end. So it is good that you and I can have some time, every now and then, to discuss and work these things out. I can counsel you how to work your way through it, and what choices to make that will have the least negative impact on your future.

I do know the end, right from the beginning, and I can help steer you to the road that is the most comfortable for all involved. It might not be the choice you'd make, if you were left to figure things out on your own, but I know where each road leads—where each littlest decision will eventually lead to, and I can point out the best roads to take.

Let's do today together, shall we? For without Me you can do nothing. And I do so love to be with you.

So, what are you most concerned about today? This project you need completed? And that other thing that could have big repercussions if it's not played out just right, and I'm not there to cover the bases?

Let Me adjust this and that about the day plan, and let's see. What I'm adjusting isn't your day's plan, for you just will do as you are led by the Heaven team. What I am adjusting and fixing up is the day plan of your Heavenly team and the things that need to be done in order to make the day and its projects turn out just right.

It's good that you are up early enough now so that we can both start the day right—having this time together, as well as having time to do what I expect you to do. Just sleeping more on a fighting day like today won't make the best things work out. If the team that is guiding you have something to work with—your time, strength and focus—this makes it far more easy for them to do their job, and complete it in a good amount of time.

For I don't just need your heart and mind and life, but your hands-on work in actual service time. You can't just sleep and expect everything to get done without giving Me your active work time.

So, shall we get to work?

Thank you for being My hands there, so the job of feeding My lambs can more easily get done.

I love you.
