

27-Sept-2021_today is a special day

(Jesus speaking: ) Today is going to be a special day. I have reserved potent powers of Heaven to be released in answer to your prayers. It's going to be a victory day. I have scheduled it to be so. Why just today, or especially today? Because of the prayers that have and are going into today's battle plans. So many prayers, hopes, and future needs requested have been laid at My feet about today.

So what do you do? Besides standing back and seeing Me fight, you get fighting too.

Spend a special time in the war room of Heaven, and "fight for your little ones" the children you are given to conduct through this time of no rest.

Together is the only way we will make it. And prayer is the way we can be together.

I love you and need you so deeply.

Fight and pray, and the victory will be won.

And sing too, if you can, for that opens up a vast new room of blessing to be poured out and down and all around. Singing in the spirit yields much fruit.

Go forth with singing and praise Me for the victory, and so will it be showered down upon you.

What else can you do to bring a swift and solid victory? Praise. A time of praise for anything you can think of in a certain amount of time that you commit to doing it.

When I hear these shouts of victory, then I get out My big guns and don't just move the enemy of your soul away, but give him something he won't forget for a long time afterwards. I do it with style and really pack a punch his way.

Praise blasts him in a big way.

So pray, and sing, and praise, and the victories that I already ordained to be granted will come right into your lap, for the time is right.

I do love fighting for you, and I love it all the more when you, in essence, arm Me with all the latest gear through using the methods that I tell you to use. That's how you fight. You ask Me what you are do to, then you do it, and I do all the rest that you can't see and have no might on your own to do anyway.

So what is the battle plan for today? This is it. Do it and the rewards will come.
