

28-Nov-2021_just keep fighting

(Angel speaking:) Oh, darling. I know the way seems wicked and woeful, but you aren't to be dragged down with such treachery and despair. Just keep using the keys.

And if things are still smelling rotten, then remember to praise and to glorify God in the midst of the fires. The fires will burn, and you will have to go through them. It's not going to be peaceful land for quite some time.

You need Jesus, His Word and His angels to fight and win each and every day.

And when there are battles that just won't go away, then gird up with the strongest weapons and fight in stead of simply relaxing. If you put your weapons off, it's no wonder you both get wounded when trying to do something for the Lord.

Just keep using the weapons of the spirit. That's how to make it through these fires of terror that are on all the world.