

3-Dec-2021_work on hold while fighting

Oh, my darling, My precious one. Tenderly I'll caress your wounds and battle scars, and up you will fly. You have not your comforts of years gone by, but by your God you will rise and defeat all who are come out to seek your life. Work is good, but that is only when the battle is under control. Sometimes you have to go out to win a soul or to defend the young, and work must be on hold for a time. Fear not, for your times are in My hands.

Defeat the enemy first, and then win the spoils of war, with treasures. I love you.
