30-Jan-2022_things are moving rapidly

(Jesus speaking:) You think you know where you are going, but no, things will not be and are not as they appear. Things are moving far more rapidly than you can keep up with. Thanks to the prayers of the saints, the time is drawing nigh to a close. Fear not, for when you are taken from one place to another, the angels await your call and your whispers and will tend to your every whim.

[Note: I found out later in the day about what is going on, starting in Canada of all places, the truckers revolting, thousands of them, to drive to the capital of the country, in protest against the things said against the non phaxxed, and how badly they should be treated, and how there should be a separation of the two camps—much like the days of Hitler. An army that Canada didn't expect, has risen to fight against the mandated evilphax. It could cause hunger, if all the food deliveries stopped. Now other countries are breaking out too, right now. It could be the madness before the "peace" and the man comes on the scene to come in peaceably. Who knows. Also I found out about a pending war possibly breaking out, to do with Russia. Looking forward to Jesus coming! Next day I saw video clips of a crowd of yelling protesters in this city, Canberra, at the doors of parliament house, and a pouring rain storm broke out at that time too.]
