

30-Sept-2021_to receive the phax or not

(Jesus speaking:) You were nice while you played their music, and danced their dance. But now that it's time to put in your chips while the ante is upped, it's every man for himself.

Are you in or not? This game is going nowhere. It's just something to keep people occupied so the wicked ones can get their bases set up and march in and destroy the lives—what is left of the lives—of the nations; unless they cry out for mercy. But they will get none. You know that.

It's "line up, be counted, and then get shot". Down will so many fall—fall to vice and crimes and so many other evils.

It's losing game, to try to stay in, do what they want, when all that they want is you dead, in the end. There is no glorious "save the world" scheme. Just less and less people. The possessed of the world are enacting all the devilry plans. --To take over the world? No way. They don't want what it has become. They just want to take the world, and take it down, bring it all down. There is no victory plan. They are not trying to make things better, any more than termites have a good plan for doing what they do—to eat away and to break down. Yes, it will help to nourish the soil for the new good tree that will spring up. But the old rotten tree is just breaking down by the minute. As that is what it is supposed to do. Down go the kingdoms of this world, and up will come, at long last, the good one. So, should you stay in the game of the troublemakers? What will that achieve? Nothing.

Are they going to take charge of your money and use it for their purposes? Too late to be asking. They already have. They are in debt and can't afford to give out the funds that were placed there by the slaves of the system. Why else would they be scrambling? They are done for, and down goes the paltry pittance that people worked their life to achieve and to store up.

What are you to do? Don't trust in uncertain riches, for indeed they fly.

What? Give up your health and your righteous stance so you can keep making more dollars, that can be taken again from you?

Oh, little ones. The yoke, the chain has got to break for each of my precious Brides. It's getting to the point now where it's Me or them. Jesus or Mammon. If for mammon you keep playing by their unrighteous rules, down you will fall. But if for righteousness sake, because you are showing yourself strong in Me, you cut any ties that keep bringing you into bondage (bondage meaning doing things against your will for the gain of another), I take notice.

I do not fail My Brides, those who love Me and depend on Me as their Husband. I am a faithful provider. Yes I can use the worldlings to do it, I will use whatever I have to to accomplish My will. But of course I can also create things out of thin air, or simply cause the very need to vanish. When you are close to Me I do provide. When I hear your full of faith voices, then I take action.

So if one well dries up, do not be disheartened. I own the hills, I own it all. Do you need the system to provide for you? No. Of course not. I will use it at My discretion whenever it suits Me; and when not, I will use some other means. You have not because you ask not. Ask in faith; seek Me for your little ones, your sons and your daughters; ask Me of things to come concerning My sons and the works of My hands.

Remember I made you, "not ye, yourselves" (Psalm 100). I fashioned you for a purpose, for My purpose, and will complete it, no matter what appearance things take on.

Do you need to keep in the game and take the "pill" that is being offered? Take the medicine? Only the fearful, the unbelieving, those whose hearts are set on the fashion of this life will do all that it takes to stay in the game of death that is being played the world over.

Care for others, and I will care for you.

Ye have not because you ask not. What do you want to ask for the "saving of your house" –that is to say the people I have and will yet intrust you with?

I'm not talking about money, but about doing the "Will of your Father" in Heaven. What have I entrusted you with; what are you to complete there for those you can yet reach in whatever ways I make possible? What are you to actually get done?

Who am I to you? Someone nice to talk with at the close and start of a day? Someone to forgive you when you feel bad about something in life? Someone to lead you through a maze of life's challenges—somewhat like a phone, an email account, and a GPS? Or am I also, actually the head of your house, the one in charge of the provision and the work you are to do?

So make Me the focus. Never look to the money to be your provider. I may use it, like I have, but I am the boss. I actually hold the bag, in a good way. When you start thinking "we need money for such and such" and then the thought basically stops there, you have put Me out of the picture and forgotten who I really am. I am the one you go to when you have a need. If money is needed, then I'll send it; or I'll make you do without what you are wishing for if that is best, and you learn something better that way.

On preparation:

Stock up the food; stock up the seeds, for food is what every one needs, and can be very beneficial in working out the needs of others, feed the flock, raising your young.

Find out what you can do to have ample supplies to get you through the next while. When you are to be feeders of others in these deep and heart rending times, feeders of both bodies and souls, make sure you are stocked up and ready, then I can use you to feed both hearts and minds.

How much to have on hand? What are you to do? You don't need a large and wide variety of food stuffs, just sufficient to work with.

Soups and stews can be easily made using some canned goods added to something dry to be cooked. You'll survive this time. A little flavour, a lot of bulk, and you are good to go.

A little "candy" on the side might make things feel less drab. [Home made chocolates with honey, etc] But be careful, for not all goods are actually that. Test then and see what things are good for consumption.
