

4-5-Sept-2020_endure contradiction

(Jesus speaking:) Stop your carnal mind—taking in the thoughts that give you comfort, or make you get the comfort of humans, rather than their rebukes and oppositions. Read now words from your elixirs of heaven (messages from spirit helpers). Let these cheer you and uphold you.

To enjoy a comfort, to find a haven that is in opposition to all that I have showed you, is to rebel from My ways. Go the opposite way. The “not peace” the “cross” the “endure contradiction of sinners” way.

God’s way will always have its enemies. That’s what you must get comfortable with and learn to abide, for it must be. You must endure contradiction. I will hold you through the night. Be wise and look into God’s eyes.

If you think you can come up with all the right answers (without the new Word, without angelic counselling), that’s when you will fall.

(Jesus speaking:) Waver not for the meat that perisheth, but hold on to the plough, your plough. You can’t direct others in what they are called on to do, but you can be very stubborn in holding to your own. It’s not that [they are] entirely wrong. Searching and pausing isn’t resisting. It’s just a time of seeking. It’s not a time of strength or progress, but it’s not altogether resisting the Holy Spirit knowingly.

You, however, do know your Master’s will, and there will be plenty to pay if you disregard it for the favour of others or even for your union. Don’t put your marriage above what I’ve called you to uplift. I didn’t. I gave My all, even though it cost Me more than you’ll ever know.

I love you and love you the more when it costs you the comfort of family and friends and having a group that accepts you. Gird up and be strong. All you can do is keep blowing the trumpet, preparing for war, and hope that others will take action too.

I am alpha and the omega. I know the end at the beginning, and work to make My will come to pass. Fight to maintain that strong connection with Me. I will bring you through this next pass, this next turn, unsinged. You will rise victorious. Unsinged? Because I heal all and renew you day by day.
