

5-Aug-2021_exceedingly intense times

(Jesus speaking:) The roaring won't stop, really, no matter what you do, for times are waxing exceedingly intense. You could tick every box in the physical and still there will be anger, for it's the anger of the foul one whose days are coming to a close, and it's extremely painful for him as what he called "his world" is crumbling and taken right from under his nose.

You don't have to go by yesteryear's instructions, but there are new instructions that can and must be heeded now to stay free of the enemy's schemes.

--Fight in prayer together as a family; or as many of you who can attend. Prayer before the night will ensure best safe keeping; read a psalm or something relaxing and faith-feeding.

--Anoint with oil of the Holy spirit daily, for you need its empowerment to do anything at all.

--Beautiful are the feet of them that preach the Gospel. Did you do something towards its spread? Good. I will bless, though the tests be many.

You'll have to see what works best on each day, for times change and so do needs. It can't be quite so clear cut and easy. Battle days are for going here, then there, taking it this way and then that, and doing all that can be done each day of your life; not going by yesterday's plans, but today's best tactics.
