

6-FEB-2021_ tools that I use to create things

(Jesus speaking: ) Come into My work shop and see the different things I am making. Each creation is at a different stage. (Vision: I am in a carpentry shop type of room, but for making things like wooden toys; yet the things He shows me don't have a familiar shape. He shows me three things that are partly made—and says with each one, the name of each one of my sons.)

(Messages continues: ) There are different tools that I use to create things, and shape them in a certain way.

This “blemish” on your childhood/motherhood experience was a tool—both for your good and for theirs.

Like that quotation, “Into every life a little rain must fall.”

I did it to keep you soft, moldable, and pliable, so I could shape you quickly into the woman I needed to you to be, and to make you able to hear from Me clearly, due to your constant state of brokenness.

I have lots of tools, and some of them produce basically the same effect, but it's used in a slightly different way, and takes different speeds to produce the effect. So do I choose what tools to do what actions on a person's heart and mind.

It's all about the spirit, and the heart and the thoughts, and what you get access to in the next life. It never was all about the physical things that were used to change and shape you and your boys, and husband, too. It was all about the goal, and what needed to happen in the spirit.

So, were the goals reached? Did it bear more good fruit than hinder and bring sorrow?

The results are still coming in. Things are still being assessed. But for the most part, the fast progress in gaining depth in the spiritual plane, was accomplished. It moved you all into deeper living, learning deep things, and gaining greater access to Heaven's storehouse of spiritual knowledge and gifts of the spirit, fruits of the spirit.

But you are all still in My workshop, all a work in progress. The shape you will be isn't seen clearly yet, except in My mind. I can see where I am heading and what I wish for you to become. But when you look around, you can't make out just what I'm making of your sons, and are clueless about why certain tools were used to make what I'm making still out of them.

Patience, my darling, and I'll make something out of nothing, and a work of art it will be. Yet, in the meantime, wonderfully, I can still use you and create of you something useful, that can be helpful to Me, even while it's in its fashioning stage. Though uncomplete, I can still work with you and have you do special tasks for Me.

It's not something you can clearly see just yet, all the strokes and tools that shaped and fashioned your young ones into who they are today, for it is a vast project, that will take a long time of explaining. But one day I'll part the veil and say, “sit back and watch while I show you what I have done”. It will be easier to explain it all to you then, as more parts of the story will be able to be shown. Wait for that time, and in the meantime, trust that all things really will and have and are working together for yours and for their good.
