

6-Jan-2021_exploring the mind of Christ

(Angel speaking:) Come on in, service with a smile! I take you in my fast zooming silvery flying vehicle, and away we go. There are new places to be explored, and I love having someone as eager to learn about the things of the spirit as you.

Out we step when we have arrived at our destination.

You walk out and see the planet type and territory. It's really something unlike all you have grown accustomed to while stationed on Earth. But that's what you like about it, it's all new, it's all unexpected, nothing goes along quite in the way you think it might or perhaps should. It's something you can't figure out. And that's good. You need some quandaries that leave you puzzled for some time, because what does that do? It gets you, or should get you asking new and interesting questions, and you end up learning far more than if you just took everything at face value.

I sit you down under the shade of a tree. What's causing the light sensation you don't know yet, but it's one of the questions you'd like to ask, along with "How did we get here? And where is "Here", exactly?"

We are deep in the spirit, and that is where the fantastic can take place best. You are not sure how to get here, but one thing you figured is I do know how, and thus if you travel with me as your companion, you'll get to this place and other new ones as well, that I might know how to get to.

After a long time of chatting and getting few questions answered, and the answers actually stirring up yet more questions to be asked, I take you to yet another location.

This time we don't travel by spirit vehicle, for it's nowhere that can be seen or felt or discovered with your usually senses, even by the senses of the spiritual realm. We are simply there, instantaneously.

"Where are we?" you ask.

"We are exploring a special place in the great and grand mind of Christ Jesus. We are free to roam and look around. It's one of the most beautiful places to be."

And so we do, and for quite some time. Beautiful are the things we learn, and we are left with much to ponder on in our own little minds as well. When we "emerge" and are back at the planet we are visiting, suddenly we can see colours far more vibrantly; the sounds of the nature around suddenly make more sense as well.

Gaining more understanding from the mind of Jesus makes everything else, no matter what realm you are in or in any place of Earth or Heaven, make more sense. Sometimes, if you were particularly dull in mind and spirit, it makes it all now look like it's in colour, for the first time.

Welcome to the realm of the spirit world where the deeper you go, the better you know what Christ is thinking, and the more enjoyable your life with Him, and us all, will be. The more you know, the more you are shown; and the more you get to see. You ask to understand, and He rewards you with a deeper knowledge and better vision. You are rewarded in these special ways, because He wants a friend like you, who He can share His thoughts and understanding with.

Okay, I'll take you back now to your own little planet of learning. It has wonders of its own. And you can learn so much there too, especially as you tap into Heaven's vast source of all wisdom, knowledge that can be imparted to you through His Holy Spirit. It's there for you, all you have to do is look to Jesus and listen, and trust that what He shows you is what you need to be understanding, though it might not always be what you wish to be hearing. But once you grasp a new thing in the spirit of your mind, click! new things will also start to fall into place and set things up for yet more and more deeper lessons and greater understanding.

Why do some people say that the grass looks greener after they have received the gift of Salvation, received Jesus into their heart? Something happens to your spiritual senses when you gain deeper understanding, and it can be reflected in your body while on Earth as well. And why not? That's all you have for now, for the most part, to learn and love and live with. So it's bound to show up in the way you view things there as well.

Explore the mind of Christ, and I'm happy to take you there when you are ready.
