(Jesus speaking:) So, who is your “green growth and prosperity angel” who watches over the “you” that Earthmen see? Anita.

(Anita:) Pleased to meet you and to make our acquaintance. I look from beyond the veil and make this and that happen, prod here and there, so the right things are in place for you.

--The food services that you depended on for your children’s care, or else you couldn’t get what you needed? These ones that just started up when you needed them?

--Or the man who showed up at your door offering a food delivery service when you needed it?

--Or the friend that brings free produce from her little garden to feed your family, especially on days you need it?

--Or the fruit that grew suddenly one year in a neighbour’s yard when you needed it, and they offered you all you wanted?

So many things I can help to work out. I read your mind and see your thoughts, and see the challenges in the world around you, and what it will take to make you and your family have all the needed food.

And what about the free food the other day, as you walked home and were able to pick some veggies from a “community garden” you didn’t know existed? See the Lord can supply food anytime and anywhere, and will take care of your needs in one way or the other. Or can make you not hungry if that is best.

What about making your personal body growth be such that you are just the size you need to be? –While others in the same situation grew entirely differently? Or your sons who didn’t grow tall yet because you didn’t have space yet for larger beds, but as soon as you did, then they grew tall?

There is so much we monitor and assist in.

We were around in the Garden of God, right at the start of humanity, and we are helping you and your family to always have what you need.

Did I notice things like you sharing your only piece of fruit you were allowed each day with the little ones—and help to keep you healthy without fruit for so long? And now I give you permission to have all you wish for. Things come back to you, you know. Or the time you wished for olives, and the neighbour suddenly cuts down big branches off his olive tree, with ripe olives, and the branches fall into your yard.

Oh, we work hard just to keep humans alive. It’s not all fun and games, for death and sickness, and famine and so much more purge lives away from this planet. The wicked ones fight tooth and nail to steal life, to ruin crops, to send storms, to make prices rise in foods for sale, and on goes the list. But we work harder, and have good reason to. We maintain lives that would have been snuffed out 100 times over.

All those neat stories of food supply, and so and so suddenly getting an idea to bring food to someone, and it ends up they were out of food and would have starved, these are all the kinds of things we do. We help many times to do God’s bidding to answer the “give us this day our daily bread” type of prayers—or most of the time, even before a prayer is uttered. It’s just our job to maintain life. When the Lord built into the plan of planet Earth that humans were to depend on food to stay alive, then of course He had workers, us, to make this plan come into being, or life would have been over in the very beginning.

Mother’s milk supply we can help with. Food not running out, or being multiplied we can do on rare occasions, when it pleases our God to bend those Earth rules for an occasion.

Yet, man shall not live by bread alone, but by what? The Word of God. And it was and is the Word of God that sustains all things. We breathe the Word of God, and exhale the life it gives, and this helps life forms on Earth to survive.

Now here is a fun one: Animals too have “green angels” to supply for them.

The scripture says the animals look to God to provide their food. And we are the means to help them get the food that they need. We can direct birds this way and that way; or cause some human to discard this or that that is needed, or cause rain to fall when more grass is needed, or an underwater spring to bubble up and water an area, or dew to fall heavily when a lack of rain would make it hard for the plants.

That’s not to say that each and every cockroach has a little green guardian angel perched on their shoulder. Some things need no assistance. They are thieves and are part of the curse. But if you pray for supply for creatures, or the removal of others (such as locusts) who are destroying crops, then the angels in charge of that area can change things a bit, to meet our Lord’s requirements and wishes. Why? Because it mattered to a human, who God mattered to. It’s a relationship building thing then.

It sounds like it’s about plants, but really it’s all about people.

So if a food supply is about to be cut off, we’ll have worked in advance to prepare alternatives means for life support.

We work with people’s minds, and get ideas going in order for people to have what they need. But we also work with nature and the natural world. We have the gift of interceding and control of nature, according to the instructions we are given.

We make natural means of gaining health to work in some cases, and not work in others. We work with herbs and such. But just because it works for one person, doesn’t mean it’s what another person needs, if it’s something they aren’t meant to do, or it’s not something that is even available. So you don’t have to think, “Oh, such and such is the only natural way to get healed of this—but it doesn’t even grow around here.”

We work with what is available, and for the most part, override the need for it the more you tap into the direct healing from above, right from the Lord.

We help people feel well, and live happy lives doing whatever they are made to do, with as little disruptions as possible.

Just letting you know that I’m around and am looking out for your needs, left, right, and center. Pleased to be acquainted.

And remember, man lives not on the bread of this world, but by the Word of God. And if you take in large portions of the Word on a daily basis, there will be less and less ailments and troubles that need fixing. It’s a time and money and life saver, from head to toe. We are spirit and yet we live. We eat not the dainties of this world, and yet we survive, living on the pure spirit of God.

What to do when or if there is a food shortage? Hear from the Lord in prophecy.

Ah! Now you know the secret of why those people died of hunger. It’s a story that has lingered in your mind for years. Did they only want the bread of this world? Or were they dining and feasting on the Word of God, and receiving it fresh?

If people think the Word of God is all locked up in one big book, and that’s it, then whenever Bibles are removed they starve spiritually. But if they were instead in the habit of taking in daily meals of God’s fresh and alive Word from Heaven, then they’ll “not want [lack]”. Who doesn’t lack good things? Those that “seek the Lord”. What does that mean? Just those who pray “give us bread or we die”? To seek is to see. To visit, to commune, to sup with Jesus, as many times a day as you can!

I love you! Love life and live for Jesus! Yours, in His Care, Anita
