

7-Jan-2021_remove the clothing of the past

(Spirit helper speaking: ) Baby, I love the way you shine after the rain. It's the tears that make you sparkle like you couldn't do before. They wash away the dust of the petty things that don't matter, and give you a new joy that you pulled down fresh from Heaven.

The world has slime, but God's beloved ones have shine. But it only comes from forsaking what you don't want anyway, and putting on the fresh love of Jesus.

I'm going to hold and cherish you, snuggle you and embrace you tightly. I love freshly washed, shining with glory souls who love Jesus more than anything or anyone.

I'll take off a few more layers, so we get right down to your heart and soul.

Oh, that worries you, does it? What does that mean you'll yet have to give up, or what will be exposed? But it will all be done in love, in great love, and then we can have great extasy once you are free of these other things.

What are they?

You still are hoping for things to change, somehow in your favour, or magically go back in time and make things all cozy again. But the future is where we are headed. You won't make as fast headway if you keep looking back to the way things were. That's like clothes getting caught on briars and thorns; or like trying to swim fast with heavy clothes on. These are like the things that hold you back from taking leaps, not just into the future but in the now, without looking backwards.

So what is ahead? What do you set your sights on now? The goals you are to reach in this next year or two. Remember how you had to forsake whatever it took to make the changes to take in this little child? The same now holds true for reaching your goals. Whatever change is now a part of life, if it is actually helping you make speedy and great headway, then be glad, and never wish to go back to the past.

More joy will be yours and you'll reach these goals so much more quickly.

Come let me tell you how much better you'll be without the trappings of lost hopes and wished for's. Just don't give the past your attention. There is too much to grasp for now. Get running and let the old, the stale, the outdated mode go. Jesus will make the now just what it needs to be to accommodate what He's asking of you.

So what is He asking of you? [He lists it—to do with Word based missions.] Do this and you'll be glad. We all will. Jesus can and wants to use you right where you are, with what you have available to do it.

Wanna dance with me? You know it's not just a joy ride, but it will cost you. You'll have to give something up. But the dance will be so tender and enjoyable as you yield to my hands removing the past, the passé, and you can then run and dance with so much more freedom of movement. Think of the moves you can make without being all tied up in old garments.

[Note: Song playing from LJ album said just now, after typing this last line, said "removing all the covers".. wow!—on album "Embrace".]
