

8-8-2020_elixirs and balms of Heaven

(Question: Anything to say on Elixirs and balms of Heaven. I'm seeing that they are real things. They have been poured on me. They seem to be mentioned in use with basically all the other known gifts and tools of Heaven for empowerment, protection, and healing. Any insight on this to build on or fill in a gap, or explain so I get a better idea. I want to know whatever is right for me to know right now, and to use it and to receive the help, so I can run and not be weary, walk and not faint.)

(Jesus speaking: )

Come into My Elixir shop. I've got drinks of all sorts. Oils of all kinds. Balms and salves. I have odours to inhale. Spirits to partake of. Gels. Perfumes. Refreshment.

It takes those who know all that is available to ask for the right prescription, the right ointment, to be granted them for their tasks. Just like the keys have specific uses and can be called on in My Name, so can the powers of these potent ointments and elixirs of all sorts be given to meet a special need.

You, of course, can't see them all and won't know all about them, as you don't know the needs of every heart and mind, and just what type of things will fix what type of broken heart, or relationship, or health problem.

Let the pharmacies of the world remind you of the real thing. There really are places that have all the healing elements that are needed to heal and cure everything this world can do to mess a person up.

Did I not say that healing would come from the tree of life, from the leaves, and that its fruit would cause one to live forever? And are there not 12 type of fruit on it, not just one? So I have many beautiful things created that can heal all the ills in a person's life.

All that the angelic caretakers need to do is ask Me, the "great physician" for the recommendation, after describing the illness or heartache and trouble in a human's life that they are taking care of. They go in prayer to Me, describe the need—many of them things that their human charge expressed in prayer as well. Then I recommend what would work best. I can even tell the human praying, what balm might best help, if they are open and willing to ask for it. But usually it comes through the angelic team who are working on the healing needs of heart, mind, and body.

Then those special perfumes, or healing ointment, or drinks, odours, vials, seeds and so forth are sent to the one who requested it, and in the best container or vessel for it to be passed on with. Sometimes a warm scarf with sweet smelling perfume is needed to change a person's mood. Other times sweet Elixirs in a bottle to be pour out in a cup and placed at the lips of the weak one is what is needed. Other times a potion of healing balm on a leaf of Heaven is brought to bind on the cracks in a person's parched soul or infected body is what is best needed.

Other times, well, golden fluid seeds of heaven, in a most sacred vessel is passed on to ones spirit, in God ordained ways. This is a service of love.

And each one needs a different way to receive what they need from Heaven. The ministering angels who are working with their charges can make requests from the "shop" of Heaven, for needed healing substances.

(The verse just came “Faith is the substance of things not seen” and the verse that says that the smell on a man’s hand “betrays” him—the evidence, perfume, that he was just up to hankie pankie. In proverbs I think. But it’s invisible, the smell is there as evidence. Faith is invisible, but our praise, like frankincense sweet smell, is not seen, praise is the voice of faith, it shows we have faith. When we praise and Love the Lord, we get the sweet smell on us. Maybe the faith is like an ointment that is on us. “Thy faith maketh thee whole” . The healing sweet smelling ointment of heaven gets on us when we have faith and praise, and healing comes. )

This is on the healing elements in the Spirit.

But there is more than can be said, about how you can then request and pass on the fluids, the living waters, the balms of Paradise to those you are being as angels to. You are as messengers, as prophets, as the fighting brethren of the angelic host who are doing much of the same things that you are asked to do there in the known, visible world.

There is so much more to learn.

Ask Me more about this, if these potions of Heaven’s healing store is a tool you need for your ministry. If you are doctors of hearts and minds and bodies, or if you are particularly messed up and wounded, for whatever reason, ask that your joy may be full.

I’ll be at your side bringing refreshing and healing, and seeing that my angelic host that assist Me will tend to the needs. I love to bring healing faster than the enemy can lash out. I will always be a step ahead of him. You don’t have to be losing. I know you say you get hurt more and faster than you can heal, and have a hard time showing joy. But that’s because you haven’t yet tapped into the more potent healing medicine, the fast healing and the protective type that I have available.

Drink it in, ask for it, apply it, be embalmed in it. You will be healed, and you will go on to run yet more and harder races than you have faced up till now. The serum of Heaven can heal and refresh you.

Just like you saw on the days that you fasted both food and water, for your heart was pleading for Me to help, and yet you felt no hunger or thirst, that is because I poured the liquid into your body, straight from Heaven. I can do this when I call for a fast, or when you feel like you just have no will to carry on and have no inspiration to live and only desire to be with Me. But if you just throw yourself on Me, and let Me do as I will with you, then I’ll keep you living and being refreshed as I know is best.

This isn’t talking about rebellion and the spirits of death taking hold on you, but when it’s a heart yearning for Me so desperately, and in anguish you desire to know My mind and to let your weight down and to feel the exhilaration of My hand carrying you, showing you that it really was there all along. It’s a like a miracle that cheers you.

Let me refresh you now also.

So how much and how often and if to fast, and what am I calling you to do? You can’t just stop food because you are troubled in heart and spirit. But if you are desperate to be sustained and feel that desperate need for Me to help you make the changes and adjust to be what I need you to be—kind of like going for an operation and you fast to get better; and as a method to live longer, by putting yourself in My hand to receive only the nourishment from Heaven, and when taken in conjunction with My living and written Word, then you can get renewal.

If you stop the food because you have given up and are rebelling to living, then that is dark and harmful, but if you do it because you want to live for Me to the highest, and you see things are stopping you, and you crave for the closest level you can have, then I'll give you the nourishment and renew you, and gird you up to keep on going.

It's good too, as you see that you can live without the world supporting you--when and if that is needed.

We can be one. My blood can run in your veins. My saliva can be your moisture. My seeds can be your burst of empowerment. My tears can refresh you like dew. My oil can keep you from being parched. Every Heavenly fluid can be shared with you, when you can't produce it for yourself. We are one, and when you are weak, I can be strong and pump into you what is needed, so that you can
