

8-July-2021_spray the artillery

(Jesus speaking: ) The fight is on, my dear. You have showed your head above the trench. It's been quiet for too long and now it's time to yell, scream at satan and call his bluff. You must aim your weapons out of the trench and shoot hard, for hard is the firing done at you.

If someone is turning you, forcing you against your will to do anything differently than what Your Lord and Love has commanded you, you are simply not to surrender to it. No matter what form or voice it speaks with.

Darling. Keep the faith, though you are the only one in that corner holding the last weapon that hasn't been stolen, hidden, or buried. Alone you watch and spray the artillery.

29-July 2021

(Jesus speaking: ) Put away what is hindering you being baptised more fully in the spirit of prophecy, and so shall you once again shine in the light of My Words.

You spend much time thinking about things that aren't My word. Listen to My words, and it will open new channels of faith. Load up much of My Words, and so shall you be refreshed once again.

And praise Me for all things. Troubles are coming and only those who have honed this fierce weapon of praise will ride alright through the storms.
