(Jesus speaking:) My Word brings division. It always has and always will, from Abel and Cain, to the bride and the whore of the book of Revelation. You are either for Me or are against Me. To love Me and what I stand for, or to be even in fear of Me is easier said than done. Eventually there comes a time when you have to do what you say, and that is when the pinch really comes. For when you actually start doing some of those dicey doctrines and sayings of Mine, ouch, then it hurts. It hurts those who don't want to see or hear you doing and saying those things, and it hurts you as well, for you do get persecuted. But fear not these things. When they persecute you in one place, you can flee and abide somewhere else.
