PSA.103:1 Bless the LORD, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name.

(Jesus says:) Blessed means it goes on; it prospers. A blessed tribe had lots of people and all that they needed to go on living in a land; their children were healthy and many; their animals had lots of babies and grew strong; the pestilence and sickness didn't wipe them out; other surrounding people groups didn't come to rob away their food and belongings, or take them away to be their country's workers, but left them alone to live and prosper; they were able to make their land safe and a strong place that could withstand it if they were invaded by selfish people, or even stronger wild beasts.

So to be blessed is a good thing.

"Bless the Lord" it says. Are you blessing Me today? Are you helping to make Me known to others, so that in My Kingdom there are many people and children of God; those becoming the "sons of God"? Are you using the power of heaven, the power of praise most of all, to chase away the enemy and make you strong in the spirit? Are you having a praiseful attitude, of faith toward Me, rather than letting bitterness and doubt ruin our relationship, and make you sick and unwell?

Praise plays a good role in blessing My Kingdom and letting it prosper, and you can do this by loving Me and telling Me how thankful you are that I am in charge and doing all the hard work to make life better, and changing people for the better.

How much have you declared to others how very powerful I am, and that nothing is impossible? Do people really know how very strong and undefeatable I really am—that I will complete what I have began? –This whole Earth project, and the lives of countless people.

"All that is within me". What and who is that? All the people that were yet to be born, his seed, his children is one thing that it means. Those who were yet to come. He wanted to praise Me and bless My Kingdom, and to have all his descendants do the same—all of him, all parts of him, including his children, his seed, and all their children and those who followed.

How can you do this too? You can first of all declare the goodness of God to those around you, and even to your own heart, and you can write and publish the accounts of the amazing acts of your righteous and all powerful, ever caring and loving God. Then people can read it, just like King David went on to do in many of his psalms.

There are other ways you can declare how God works and is, so that others will come to join His Kingdom—you can declare things in audios, in videos, not just in books. You can do shows of praise and worship songs and sing of the goodness of the Lord. You can write letters to friends or chat with them about what the Lord has done and is doing with you and for you.

Another way you can bless the Lord is by praying—praying for the Work of God to prosper, for his people to be blessed and cared for well; for victories and healing; and for the defeat of the Enemy's work in people's life. So with praise and positive declaration of the Lord's goodness, as well as with fighting in prayer for God to work, then can I and My kingdom be blessed and flourish and prosper, and bring much good and joy to many. Bless Me and I will bless you.

PSA.103:2 Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:

(Jesus says:) As you bless Me, as you praise Me, as you pray down My blessings, I send you benefits, things that are beneficial for you; things that help you to do a good job, and thus be rewarded for your good efforts. You might not do everything perfectly, and you might sin and make big errors, but I'll just help you to do some good. You can be a benefit to others and to My work as you continue to bless and praise Your Lord God, exalting Him, letting His goodness be known.

Why don't you make a list, or tell Me in prayer, all the benefits that you would like to have for serving Me fulltime and not giving place, any place in any way, to the destroyer. Would you like a long life? Or would you like a short but very happy life? Would you like to see your dreams come true, if they are good for My work and will benefit others, and yourself as well? Or perhaps you'd love to have a very pretty and Godly wife who cherishes you and wants to go and do whatever you want, and doesn't push her own way? Maybe you'd like children who are kind and respectful, who you love to be with and aren't changed for the worse by the evil that is in the world.

Tell Me what benefit, in this life time, you might most like to enjoy, and I'll see how to best accommodate it. I love to give special benefits to those who love and honour Me, and want to bless My Kingdom with their words of praise and acclaim, and their works of good for the benefit of My Kingdom.

Open your eyes to the things I want to show you each day, for this is how you will find the pathway to the right life I have for you. You can pray and wish for great things, and I can approve these plans, but if you won't talk with Me each day and learn to hear from Me about how to go about reaching the best goals, as well as how to be eligible for My special benefits, then you might miss all the best things in life. We must work together and be a close knit team, that is how our relationship can then bring about the best benefits—for you and for Me.

And as this verse instructs, please don't forget all the benefits I have given to you and to others. I never tire of hearing a word of thanks—even if it was for something I did hundreds or thousands of years ago, or if it was just last minute. It's all the same to Me, it's all now and before Me. I can see it all, and I do remember what I did for you. I'd love to know that you also bring these things into remembrance. This shows Me that you have faith that I will continue to care for you, in the best ways, always.

There are something that are good to forget—like the multitude of faults and failings of others in your life. I said in My Word that I also forget yours, and put them behind me. And “forgetting those things that are behind” is a good thing for you to do. Put the failings and hurts of the past behind, and walk forward, like it says, “press towards the mark of the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.” Those are a lot of words to say look toward the goal and the glorious prize, the reward that I said is with Me when I come. If you are called, which all believers are, then follow and leave the should-be-forgotten things in the past, and do your job well for Me. And what are you to remember? All the benefits—those yet to come, and those I have already dispensed and poured out. These will give you strength and motivation to keep on going, and then to actually get the prize and rewards being offered. I love you!

PSA.103:3 Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases;

(Jesus says:) “All” is something only God can do—of anything. I can make “all things work together for good” for those who obey Me and heed My call, and do so out of love.

“All things” are possible, and nothing is impossible to Me.

“All that the Father giveth Me shall come to Me.”

I can forgive all your sins. I have power to heal all your diseases.

All is a big word, and leaves nothing out.

My eyes are in every place, that is in all places, beholding all that goes on. Nothing escapes My view, or escapes My hearing.

I am in tune and aware of all My Works

My Word talks a lot about the “all” that I can do. Here are some examples:

PSA.105:7 He is the LORD our God: his judgments are in all the earth.

PSA.111:7 The works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are sure.

PSA.113:4 The LORD is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.

PSA.119:119 Thou puttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross: therefore I love thy testimonies.

PSA.119:128 Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every false way.

PSA.119:151 Thou art near, O LORD; and all thy commandments are truth.

PSA.119:168 I have kept thy precepts and thy testimonies: for all my ways are before thee.

PSA.121:7 The LORD shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul.

PSA.135:6 Whatsoever the LORD pleased, that did he in heaven, and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places.

PSA.136:25 Who giveth food to all flesh: for his mercy endureth for ever.

PSA.139:3 Thou compassest my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.

PSA.139:4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but, lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.

PSA.145:17 The LORD is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

PSA.145:18 The LORD is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth.

PSA.145:20 The LORD preserveth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he destroy.

PSA.147:4 He telleth the number of the stars; he calleth them all by their names.

So what can you do?

PSA.2:12 Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

I can do all things, and know about all things; I am in all places. And I love it when everyone, all people, can trust in Me, for there is nothing that I can't do, and I will perfect all that concerns you. I will make everything turn out for good—your good, My good, and everyone else's good.

PSA.103:4 Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies;

(Jesus says:) Let's look at each word in this verse here. Every word has meaning and can mean a lot to you, bringing meaning to your life and joy to your heart, if you stop and think about it.

Who—I am the “who”, the mystery man, the unseen miracle worker that loves you; the ‘I am’ of all ages. I can be whoever you need. I can be all things to all people, no matter what they need. Who am I? The God of all flesh; the one who loves you, who gave His life for you; who won't rest until all the lost are home safely in the fold, “whoever will”, whoever wants to come. Who made you? Who will never leave you nor forsake you? “It is I, be not afraid”. That's what I said when My disciples wondered “who” was out there walking on the water. Who can do all things? I can. Who is behind the scenes of all that you see? I am. Who will save you, and is the only one who can? I will.

Redeemeth—I payed the price and got back what belonged to Me. I gave My life and now all who wish to be Mine, are Mine, for I have payed the price of death, so they can have eternal life. Have you been redeemed? I am the redeemer. I did My part. Will you trust in Me, or will you try instead to pay your own way into the courts of heaven? That won't work, because only those that have been redeemed by “the Lamb of God” can enter. Only the Lamb of God can take away the sins of the world.

Thy—It's a personal thing. This is talking about you. Not just the people of the world as a massive crowd that I came to save, but you, personally you. Will you accept Me as your Saviour? If so, then I can be with you, you personally, forever. I love you, as an individual. I love you more than words can say. Am I a personal Lord and God, King and Saviour, Friend and Redeemer for you? Are you getting to know Me personally? Let's start today. Ask Me to tell you something interesting that you didn't know before, something that shows you a bit more about how I feel and what I think about. You might be pleasantly surprised about what I let you know. And tell Me some things about yourself, something you might not be willing or brave enough to tell just anyone. Let Me know your secret thoughts and desires, or things you feel bad about. I'll listen and give you wise counsel when you need it—and I won't tell others your secrets, the things I know you just want to be kept between us. Okay? I'm the best Friend you can imagine having. Then as you get to know Me and as our love and bond of friendship grows, you'll start feeling able to share a bit more love and kindness with others too. That will be one out growth of our closeness—My love in you will start to shine out a bit more on to others. You'll start caring then about others too, and this will enhance your life and make your relationships and friendships with others better and richer and deeper, because you'll be truly caring about them, as I care for you. Your own needs will be getting met, your emotional needs and communication needs. This makes you able to show casual loving care, without getting too intense or wishing to get all your needs met by those around you. When someone is in a “getting and receiving” mood, it's hard for others, as they have to constantly be giving and giving to the taker. But if someone has a closeness with Me, and are getting their heart's needs met, their kinks worked out of things that bother them, and I am helping to work things out for them, then they can have a happier time getting along with others. There has got to be a ‘you and Me’ thing going first, then there can be an ‘us’ of our friendship with others. But if I am out of the picture, it's going to be a rough and wild ride, as you try to get your ups and joys only from others, as well as let out all your steam and frustrations on them as well. It won't be a good or happy picture. No one can manage everything about you, but Me alone. And you can't manage everything about someone else either. I've got to be the middle man, the communication link, that each one goes through and to, the majority of the time. Only then will your link with others, the connections you have with them, be what they should be. That doesn't mean that all things will go perfect, but there will be a whole lot less rifts and anger and harsh words and cold moments. I can take it when you tell me what you are feeling. Most people can't without having some kind of reaction that will negatively affect you in one way or the other. So let your steam off on Me, and then please listen to what I have to say that will direct you in the right way, the way of peace and beauty. So much goes wrong in life because people miss this very important part of the plan. You all have to talk to Me much more than you talk to anyone else on this planet. And even when you are talking with or writing to others, or listening to them speak, still you can be secretly in your heart and mind, communicating with Me, so as an interpreter I can give you the right sense and correct judgment and wisdom so that you take it all in the right way that will bring good.

Life—I made your life. That’s what I do: I create life, I breathe life and bring things to life again. I love the living and want them to live forever. I make each life with a purpose and meaning, a reason for their existence. And each life is a bit of me, like an extension of me. —Like what parents feel about their children, they are a part of them. I feel the same about the lives that I make, and I’d love for the souls that I make to be around for a very long time—like forever and ever; I never want a life to come to an end, but for it to fulfil the reason I created it to begin with, and for us both to know the joy that comes when that happens. It might take a long time, but in time all can work out, and all the living can rejoice with their Living God, the Creator of all. I gave My life on Earth, a precious gift, so that you can live forever. Life forever with God will be a truly joyous event, for all Heaven, and for the person themselves. Long live Life! And it will be long, for I made it to go on and on.

From—When you say you came ‘from’ something, it means you are no longer there. I take the people who believe in Me from the gates of the pit of hell that they were destined to go to. I take them from the valley of the shadow of death. They are no longer ‘from’ this world, but are full citizens of God. When I came to Earth I came ‘from the Father’ and descended first to Earth, and then lower yet. But then I could be reunited with My Father who sent Me. You who are saved and born again are now sent to the world, you are also now ‘from God’ your Heavenly Father. I send you into the world as a witness, but before too long you will return to Heaven.

Destruction—An unhappy ending. Destruction consumes, removes, abolishes, does away with, and all that. There are some things to be destroyed, that will come to an unhappy ending or they will cause the destruction of much more, so they must be stopped. But those whose lives are redeemed and saved from destruction, those who choose to have a very happy story of their lives, go on to help save others from the otherwise unhappy ending that they could have had. Happy endings to the stories of lives, and very happy new beginnings, making all things new, is what I do.

Who crowneth—The King of the whole universe, the King of all, has crowns to share; crowns not made with gold, Earthly representation of the real thing. The crowns I give are light weight and light filled, and endure. I am a God filled with all these good gifts that I wish to pour out. But you need to be worthy of them. And when you are, I flood you, I fill you, with goodness from My store house.

Thee—I say this word with love in my voice. I am so glad that there is a “thee” to talk with, to commune with, and to share My vast wealth with. Did you know that there is nothing of the riches of all My vast realm that I would hold back from you who love Me with all your heart and all your soul and all your mind, if it was good and expedient and to your benefit for you to have it, at least for a while?

With—I love this word, when speaking of Me and those I love. We are one; I am in you; together as a team; to have an to hold forever. I am with you always. I love it when we are one team together. Will you walk with Me today?

Lovingkindness—Love in action. It’s just not love—a feeling in one’s heart. But love that does something about it. It’s not just action either, just going through the motions of doing deeds of kindness, but it’s lovingkindness. I can help you to be this way, for this is how I am toward you. I show My love in action, and so must you; to be one with Me, our love must go out and flow out and touch the lives of others. This shows you are a part of Me and partaking of My Spirit. This is the trademark, the symbol, the mark and ensign of God, eternal love that is put into action each day and always.

And—There is always an “and” with Me, for the story of our union and oneness will go on AND on; and the gifts I have, well, I always have more. There is always something more I can pull out and give. I have many things AND more. There is never an end to the life and treasures that I can and will give to those who seek Me with all their heart. These will find Me, and I will generously share the goodness of God with them. It might be a bit of a treasure hunt on Earth right now, for the signs and clues and finding the ways of the God who is nearly always invisible, but there are definite rewards and treasures for those who search for and find Me, and desire what I have to offer more than all the riches of this decaying world system. You can be sure of that. Trust Me.

Tender—I'm sensitive, not hardened. I can feel what you are feeling. I care about keeping you going, and how things are affecting you. I know just what type of experience will do what to your heart and mind and feelings. I have more sensors and sensory detectors than your amazing body has. I can detect everything about every human, inside and out, and about each thing I created. When you make things, you just see and touch and hear them, but feelings of what you create doesn't come into your own mind and heart. But since the things I create are alive, I need to be keenly in touch and sensitive to all aspects of those that I create. I know their needs, feelings, heartaches, and physical limitations. I can make things easier or harder for those I make, according to what lessons they are learning, and the goals that they and I are trying to reach. I have tenderness; I'm never calloused. Everything affects Me that I do for and with My people. And it's all going to work out for good in the end. Please keep a tender heart towards Me, will you? And be sensitive to My heart's needs and feelings. This will make it easier for the both of us. Rest on my soft and comfortable chest when you need a tender touch and others are making life hard for you. I'm tender towards you, My child. I'll nourish you and bring you up like a father and mother care for their young ones. You belong to Me, and I love taking care of you.

Mercies—Mercy is My "middle name" as they say. It's what defines Me and what I have come to do. I show mercy. People don't know what mercy is, they have to learn it by seeing what I do for them. I forgive, I give them a second chance, I love with a perfect love. I do this again and again. I don't just do away with anyone and everyone just because they don't meet up to My much higher standard of behaviour. I realise that it will take time for you and for others to learn how to be like Me, having the same love and compassion, as well as a hatred for evil. These things have to be learned, through mostly hard situations, as that helps you to learn more quickly; because you want to learn it and go on to happier feelings. I won't make the lessons too hard, but they will teach you and train you and push you beyond what you can easily do, and that's all part of the growth of heart and spirit. Will you be brave for today's lessons of lovingkindness and learning how to be merciful? "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy." (Matthew 5:7)

PSA.103:5 Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

(Jesus says:) When you are hungry and your mother makes a really nice meal, how good does that feel?

When the poor in this world feel the loving care of those who give to them their needs, and they are warmed and have clothing and support, water and facilities, they feel very encouraged.

And when you come to Me, the owner of all things, to satisfy your heartbroken or thirsty for love spirit, I'm going to make you feel really good. That feeling of satisfaction from Heaven is more pleasant than food, water, warmth, clothing, shelter, and Earthly companionship of friends.

Come to Me and I can truly give you all that you need. Do you need a hug, and others are too busy to care about your loneliness? Let My Spirit wrap around you and make you feel loved; and then I might also nudge someone around you to supply your need in the physical as well. But if you come to Me first, telling Me of your needs and feelings, then we'll have a close bond of friendship, while at the same time, your needs are being met.

Just like you need nourishment for your body, that you take in via your mouth, so does your heart need to be fed. Just like your body grows when it gets all the care that it needs, and keeps staying alive, so does your spirit get strengthened and more able to withstand the wear and tear and troubles of life, without breaking down.

When an eagle is strong and healthy it can soar high above the petty things down below in this world. It is not bound to the ground like a critter that crawls. But if it were to give up and wallow in the mud, soiling up its feathers in crusty mud, it's not going to get to that height that it was ordained and created to be able to reach. And the longer it stays on the ground, the older it will feel. The lack of exercise in flight, the lack of finding the food that best suits it, the lack of inspiration, the sickness from the bugs in the soil that cause it sore troubles, will break down its health and make it age and decay. But if it leaves the dirt and grime of the surface way down below and it takes to the windy mountain tops, and it flies in search of food, in the way it was designed to do, then it's going to maintain good health and longevity.

And so it is with you. Your spirit needs to soar high above the petty things that this world has to offer, but that will drag you down. Forsake the world and see things from God's point of view. When you do that, then you are given the nourishment you truly need, that God has prepared just for you. But it might take "flying high" and getting filled with God's spirit, like the wind that fills the wings of the flying birds. You can't expect that you'll be satisfied deep in your heart unless the Spirit of God fills you from top to bottom, inside and out.

When you get filled with My Spirit, and then get deeply satisfied, then you can "run and not be weary" you can "walk and not faint". Learn to get your nourishment from the God of all, who made you. Be comforted, be encouraged, that all you have need of, can be and will be supplied by the Hand of God, your creator, and your upkeeper, the one who will sustain you. Learn who to go to for all your needs, and you will keep 'flying high' like an eagle; you won't be trapped and bogged down.

You weren't meant to be like a worm, eating this earth's dirt, but to be filled with the wind of the Spirit of God, getting a good vantage point to see what I want to show you. Be strong and of good courage. Fear not. If things are getting you feeling weak and tugging you down to the mire, just come up higher; get filled with more of My Spirit, and the troubles will appear smaller to you. Okay? I said that whoever asked Me for more of My Spirit would get that good gift. "How much more shall your Heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask Him."

That's what you need, and then you'll have strength to keep on keeping on. And you'll be happier too. I love you!

PSA.103:6 The LORD executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed.

(Jesus says:) I hate, totally, the money making system that controls the world's system. It controls what people can do and can't do. It's money, money, money that you need to buy your freedom with, if you are one of the trapped citizens.

This system that revolves around the "dollar" so to speak is a weakening machine, made to break down and ruin people's lives, from the day they are born until the moment they die.

But I said to come out from the world and its system of political control—which of course also all dances around the money system. You need to change the world and be a light and force in the right direction. By "change the world" I mean work to change the hearts of people through showing them a new way, a better society, one with the currency of love. Try to change your own hearts, and see that they be not entangled with the choking weeds of the cares of this life.

Break free by telling Me, your Heavenly Father—who already knows your needs before you even speak them—just what you think you need. Needs were made to link us together as you seek for Me to supply them, and as you ask for My strength to help you do what you need to in life, in order to receive My blessings.

Then you stay free, and once again it's just you and Me taking this journey through this Earth together.

When I came to Earth, one of my missions was to "let the oppressed go free". Those in debt are bound, and are not free. There may not be many noticeable slaves around where you live, but it's just a disguise. There are plenty of them, and their master goes now by the name of "money". Rather than just some people being oppressed and forced to pay all this money, now everyone is as a slave who serve the world's system rather than their Lord and Creator, Me, Jesus. There are so many slaves it's rare to see a free man around.

Keep your heart purged from this world's filth and wealth; a wreaking, dirty and soiling system of gaining for one's self. It is a hateful thing. There is no love in it. And the enemy makes sure that people stay impoverished and beaten down, always crying out for more and more money. It's a pitiful plight. And I don't wish for My children, who could get all that they needed, given to them by God, to put themselves under such bondage, or to be put under the satanic ritual of constantly gaining to supply one's meagre needs. I want to free you and your children from this yoke of bondage. Come out, I say, and let Me rule in your life, not your need for finances. This should never be the rod that rules and smites if you don't keep up with getting enough. It is slavery, wicked and idolatrous, abhorring, wickedness.

Let the oppressed go free. Break the yoke and live free. If [someone] needs to pay the bills and can make [their] service to Me do the job, yet [they are] still living for Me, not for the money alone, then for this time I allow it. For it makes it easier for you to do also your own missions. But if at any time things change, and [they are] to quit this way of earning, you need not fear, for I have amply to supply your needs with.

I am righteous and will set all things right, and the righteous will be glad. And all those that abhorred My ways of love will be judged right and well, and this old world purged. It's an on going process to purge out the evil and it takes time. There is much that people still must learn. But when they do and it's time for Me to claim at last what I have earned—all the nations and people—then the right way, the real way of governing, will be known. Right now the money making madness is taking over every aspect of life, and it's a way to control and manipulate them. But when I come to judge the world with righteousness, there's going to be a whole new way of running things. And it's all in the Bible. Those who read and believe and live it, will be placed as officers to execute My will. Those who gave up the old ways, and chose to do things My way as is laid out in scripture, even if it cost them a bit of trouble or made them go without some things, as their gift of loving sacrifice to Me, these will have high ranking positions in the next regime, in God's Kingdom.

PSA.103:7 He made known his ways unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel.

(Jesus says:) I don't keep people in the dark, always wondering what I mean, and what exactly it is that they are to do. I make things mighty clear. But you have to seek, to look, to ask, to reach out and grab. What did Moses do? He got things written down, he made a chest of wood to put the stone instructions in, that were written by the finger of the God of Heaven and Earth.

I wasn't far away; I was right there leading them and instructing them. I don't just meet out punishments for wrong doing, but I first of all teach, tell, and inspire, and then show you a few consequences of what can happen if you don't do as I say.

Everything in My Word keeps you from the evil. I set it up to be that way. It strengthens you to do the right, and it shields you from the wrong. And you need more than text to convince you. Hard times come to the continued transgressor; those bent on doing things opposite when they know right and well what I've told them to do. I can be a tough teacher for the rebellious ones who choose to go their own way, to their own destruction, which I'm trying to save them from.

But to those who love My commandments, I do mighty acts of mercy that they may know that I am King of all kings, and the Lord of all lords. The Words that I speak are like a door that opens to a room filled with My good treasure; to a feasting table filled with the goodness of the Lord; to a realm where all things are possible. Each story of the wonder working power of My Spirit are like a big piece of nourishment for your spirit, and you then see the acts of God and how He moves and is working. It strengthens your faith and takes you to a higher level of understanding and ability.

There is always something more to learn, new to learn. It just goes on and on, because I have so much to show and teach you. And when you believe it and put it into practice, and you see Me working to save, to heal, to restore you, to protect and strengthen you, this is a great reward and joy. You get to see with your eyes what you have believed with your heart.

Moses and the children of Israel are an example, but I could just as well say here the name of a father who serves and follows the God of Heaven, and his children that get to see My words and works in action.

A happy family it is that could be able to place their names in this verse. And how happy I am when a family is able to tell others the great works that I have done for them.

Trust in Me with all your heart and lean not unto your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Me, and I will direct your path.

I love you and want to show you "great and mighty things". So 'call unto Me'. My service with a smile rescue team will be on the job as soon as you call. –And probably a bit beforehand too, since I know you are going to pray and call on My help. I'm ready, all hours of the day and night, ready and eager to show Myself strong on your behalf.

PSA.103:8 The LORD is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

PSA.103:9 He will not always chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever.

(aPrt 1)

(Jesus says:) I can go a lot longer than you, working with problems, and souls that have problems. I could, of course, in an instant, eliminate all sources of troubles, and bam! they'd all be gone. But that wouldn't teach you anything, because, well, you and everyone you know, and all things you depend on would be gone.

But I choose the long and hard route—much longer and harder than you realise—so that all humankind, all humanity will come to know Me, and that’s a greater joy than the sorrow of struggling with the sources of man’s troubles, and people themselves.

One day I will get to pull out my nifty disinfectant of power and wipe all uncleanness from the face of the Earth, and that will be a wonderful refreshment. I can hardly wait to start again—for your good and for My joy at seeing the way things are meant to be will at last be so. But I can’t skip over the steps I and you, and all on Earth, are meant to take first of all. It’s like baking a cake, you can’t just turn on the oven and out a cake will come, smelling and tasting great. No, you first have to grind some flour—which is seeds, break some eggs, put a mix of all kinds of colours and textures together, add oil and sweetness, and then give it time to bake. The heat starts a bit at a time, and things start to heat up and change. Moisture dries up, and on the heat goes until just the right time.

So will it be with the lessons of this world. I grind to powder the works of the devil’s system; I bring breakings also in the lives of those who wish to help Me with My Kingdom and who belong to Me. I make one big loaf of believers, taken from all lands and nations, tribes and people groups, yet all with a heart that has been washed and given to Me. I pour My anointing oil and Spirit out on those working for Me, I give them a sweet spirit filled with the sweet fruits of My Spirit, and we have tender love for one another. Then time of tribulation and trials come to all on the Earth. The good I have left still on this world are binding together in unity, like a loaf of Christ—in the love of Christ. Then the heat and sufferings will pass and out My believers come, out of the world and into My Kingdom, like an eagerly awaited cake from an oven. I smell the sweet smell of what those who love Me have become and I am pleased.

Then it’s time for oven cleaning—world cleaning. Then all the ashes are removed, and all is made clean and pure. The cake, the believers now in this world, don’t always know why things have to be hot with trials, but I know just what is needed to make the good better and best, and give the wishy-washy and undecided a chance to choose My way and eventually get out of the oven, to or to stay in the heat and become one with the ashes and final burn off. And for the wicked and incorrigibly rebellious, the heating of the trials on Earth is just the beginning. They think they are tough and can stand the cleansing fire of God, but it won’t stop burning until the dross of evil and all the ungodly are consumed. The fire will not be quenched until the cleansing is complete.

Then we can enjoy the refreshing and renewal and fresh new start of a new Heaven and a new Earth.

Through the things you suffer now, personally, or in your country, or all over the world, people are getting a chance to choose. It makes them think and re-decide about what or who they are serving. They cannot serve two Masters. It’s one or the other. It’s in or out. It’s open or shut. It’s do it or be caught as a rebel. One or the other. There are absolutes, and there is a time when the oven door will be shut, the division made between those who are part of the cake, and those who are the stubble and briars and thorns that are burning.

PSA.103:8 The LORD is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

PSA.103:9 He will not always chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever.

(Part 2)

(Jesus says:) Do you want to be like a star that lights up and stays light when the world lies in darkness? Or do wish to be but a passing flame that burns and then turns to the black ash heap? If you are wise, wise in My Word, and wisely wait with Me through the troubles, holding close to Me, even if it seems I am allowing a whole lot of pain. Hold on, hold on patiently. My anger and destruction of the evil will come, I just have to bide My time until the right time comes.

And if things are too hard, and you feel you can't make it in the heat of troubles, then ask for My mercy to be shown, to you and others. I have lots I can give, as you love Me closely and seek for Me. I will give gifts of mercy, answers to prayer, and this will help you make it through the hard times.

I love you and will make it all right for those who love Me, those who I have called to perform My will, and who are actively pursuing the calling and will of their Lord and Master. Don't wait until later to do your Master's will, for though I am patiently waiting for some things, giving time for the unbelieving and bitter to repent, I have less patience—for their own good—with those who are called by My name and have entered into the covenant of peace with Me. With these, My troops, who must obey and heed My call, I move swiftly to teach them what they must learn, or more loss will come.

We don't have much time to win the souls of many folks on Earth today. Time is short on their life, and I need those who I call to do this or that, to move and act swiftly. I won't be so called "patient" as in doing nothing, with My own troops, when I call for action, I expect it. I have bought and payed for you, saved you from destruction, and now you can repay Me in some small way by helping to win those still lost in the world of sin.

Fear not, for I have overcome the world, and Lo, I am with you always, even until the end. And believe Me, you will really need Me—if you don't think so now, just wait till the oven starts to heat up more. Let the heat of the testings change you and make you better. And let it remind you, that though things are getting worse for while, all around you, it's because things are on their way to getting better, for good, finally, at last.

Be glad you serve in these dark days, for it is then that you shine more brightly, and your crowns that you earn for going through the times of tribulation, will shine more brightly too, for you have earned them "through great tribulation". They show the faith that you have, and the lessons you have been able to acquire. If you suffer with Me, going through the fires a bit like the three Hebrew men who would rather be in the oven with Me, than on a throne judging the nations without Me—if you suffer with Me, you will get to sit on thrones of righteousness, and I will pour My Spirit on you.

In that day you will never hunger or thirst anymore—that is have any unfulfilled and painful needs that aren't being met. You will reign—that is to say teach and direct people in the ways of the God of Heaven, the God above all. People will more readily learn from someone who has earned their honour and been through some troubles. They know what they are talking about. It's not head stuffing that got them their crown of authority, but hard work, struggles, and holding on not giving up on Me or on your job for Me though it was tough as nails.

I love you, beloved. Don't give up! Something good, something real good is going to come out of all these troubles and tribulations. "Faithful is He who calleth you, who also will do it!"

Peace be unto you. My peace I give unto you.

PSA.103:10 He hath not dealt with us after our sins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

PSA.103:11 For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

(Jesus says:) I don't "do unto you as you have done unto Me". I am not trying to get back at you out of spite. If I did this, no one on Earth or in the Heavens would survive. I am a merciful God of love, and patiently wish to draw you into a close and nurturing relationship. Unlike humans, whose tendency can be to do wrong if they have been wronged, I don't do that. I do good to help others know what good is, what God is. I don't hold back the rain at times just because I'm angry and wish to cause hurt and pain, but because I'm trying to send a signal, a signal that has been missed in all the others ways I tried to communicate—like a smoke signal to show to those far away.

When people have chosen to move far away from Me and go their own way, sometimes a smoke signal is what is needed to get their attention, calling them. Only, in this case, the one they find isn't someone stranded on a desert island who needs to be rescued, but rather their Saviour who did it to save them from going into dangerous places that would end in their own destruction.

When people come and place themselves under my care, they trust Me with their lives, then I do a special thing. I give extra grace or mercy, I forget the sins of their youth, or when they were too young and inexperienced to know the difference between what is right and wrong, good and bad, up and down.

Those who are strong in faith and have given their all to serve their Mighty Redeemer, don't always do everything right all the time—no one is good, by God, and thus no one is all 100% right in what they think is best to do. They might have the right motives, but their actions or choice of actions might not be the best. So what do I do? I have mercy. I forgive. They seek Me for it, and go through any further training programs that are needed to get better insight, and then I do a special thing. I make it as if that so called "mistake" was really all a part of My plan. I work it in and build on it and make it all turn together for good, because they sought for Me to do so, and know that I can.

Those who trust that I can make all things the best, no matter what happens, if they surrender to Me, trust in Me fully, and learn the sometimes hard lessons that it takes to be a fulltime, strong fighter in My cause. I wipe the mar of it, and move things to work it all out for good. That is Divine mercy and grace.

If you fear Me and trust Me, I can make all things new, all things good, and won't just not give you full punishment for what your deeds cost you, but when you surrender to Me and take the gentle lesson strokes, I can make it all good again. Isn't that nice? So all works out for good in the end, to those that love Me, and who I have called to perform My will.

Let's go over that little misdemeanour, or fault, or mess up, and even some that seem pretty large and looming big, too. What can you learn from them? What can I teach you through them? Ask Me. Observe any consequences I've allowed to get your attention. Repent and be made new. Those who accept a stroke of correction and who listen to My voice of instruction, and who are made humbler through the mistakes, I then give new honour to. I can bless them with more than I could have before their mistake, because they chose to be trained and taught, and this makes them able to do more than they could before.

PSA.103:12 As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

(Part 1)

(Jesus says:) I've got a big removal service, one that takes away all the trash, the sins of mankind, and stores them ready for disposal. When I then burn up everything, in the end, all the evil, then that heap is likewise going to go. It's not in a place where you can see it, but it's just something that can give you a bit of an idea of what I do. I take your sins away and then one day I'm going to press "delete". I want not even the faintest memory of evil and wrong to be lingering in My servants' minds. I want all remnants of the muck and slime of the enemy that has besmirch much of My creation, to be gone. I will replace it with clouds of rain, and rivers of happiness will run down and thoroughly refresh all My creation.

Then will come the new growth, and great joy will be known then.

You want a good bed time story? One day I'll read you the whole story, from A to Z of "What happened to Planet Earth, the full adventure story."

You'll sit with Me and we'll read and read, and you won't want to stop, because it's an engaging and exciting story, and most of all, in the end, the villain loses. The heroes are the least expected ones that rise to defeat the foe. And in the end you realise that all that happened was part of the big story, and needed, in order to make it the best story you could hear. You have glimpses of it when you read My Bible, and you have real life experiences to help you understand it. But one day I'll get out the volumes—and I have tons of volumes, that all tell more of the story. And I'll sit you down and begin to open up the full Word of Life, and in that day you'll understand why something had to be a certain way. The things your heart and mind can't reason out, you'll grasp then, and it will make sense.

If you like stories, true stories, thrilling accounts, that leave you breathless, and certainly eager for more, then you'll have to come to My special story palace where I tell the best stories ever. Will I meet you there? That's why I wrote it; that's why it happened. So the story of Earth can be told and retold, to many yet to come. When you know the story well, you can teach others and help them to understand. You'll need to get a good understanding for helping Me to rule the World.

I'm looking forward to the time we can sit together and I can talk and tell you all the things you wished to find out. It might take quite a few classes, but I'll be your teacher, and I think you'll enjoy My classes pretty well.

You'll be able to forgive yourself then, too, for any blunders you made while on Earth. Because if you love Me, and you keep trying to follow Me and do the things that I say to do, you see how I worked it out for good in the end. Story time will be a great opening of the eyes and mind and heart, to realise new ideas that you never knew before or even considered. All ages will get to come and sit at My feet and learn of Me. Everyone, all My children, will get to see how the plot all worked together for good.

And then, when that is over, you'll be able to teach it to others, to children just starting off their learning. And you would have actually lived out a part of the story, so it's your story too, in a way. You can speak to them from experience and say, "this is what happened" and then share it from God's fuller perspective, and the full picture. (see part 2)

PSA.103:12 As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

(Part 2)

(Jesus says:) Just like there is an Old and New Testament in the Bible, when I come back and make things all new again, there will be the Newest information, of all that has happened, the prophets, and the counsel, and all that has been learned, written in the next part of the Book of the Lord. It will show, in story form, just like the Bible does, how the prophecies came true, the ones that are still yet to come, or those that have happened, but the record of them isn't yet in the Book that you have available to you. So then, when you read the Book of the Lord to teach others, later on in the future, the full account of all that happened and of each prophecy's fulfilment in the true life stories written, will be available for your use as teachers of the people later on. There are all kinds of new resources that will be ready for use for teaching and train those in the new world that I set up.

If you want to be a teacher, I'll give you teacher's training classes in Heaven, and we'll read all the important and thrilling stories. You'll be bursting with excitement and joy to teach others. But your learning doesn't end there. You can keep coming back again and again to learn more and new and exciting things. It'll just keep going, because there is just so much to learn. You'll love it! Wait till you see the gadgets that I have for teaching classes then. No one wants to miss the displays, the aids and tools that I use. Those learning still on Earth, during the time of My reign, and in the new world, won't be able to have all those just yet. But those special teachers, like you, who want to learn all I have to share with you, will get to see those in use while in Heaven.

You'll certainly be glad you made the choices now to live My Word here and now, because then and there you can go to teacher training, and be able to have the excitement of sharing it then with others. But if you were to just live a closed life, not learning about the realm of God, not living My Word and telling it to others, you'd have to go to beginners classes first, and work your way up. Or if you "knew your Master's will" and didn't do it, but played around with the tools of Earth, as if it were just one big playground, rather than the battle ground that it is, or a school of tests to see where you will be placed in the next life, then there will be consequences to be experienced.

So realise, that what you do with the knowledge of God--or the ability to know more if you ask, seek, and knock--will very much determine what classes you get to attend in the next life, and who will be your classmates there and then. If you play around in silly things, with the children of this world, then you just might go to class with those on beginner's level, sometimes re-learning things you were meant to have known already. But if you get serious, as serious as I am about getting this world in shape, and you learn all you can from My Spirit now, hearing from Me daily, getting your classes now in prayer and in prophecy, and then doing the good I tell you to do, you'll get a higher grade. You'll be learning in the next life with some great and learned people, truly learned in God's ways; people you enjoy talking to about deep and far out things.

So make your choices now and you'll be glad at what I can offer you now.

Put aside the petty silly games of planet Earth, things that just are for spending time—or wasting time, actually. Realise that time is ticking, and you have many boxes yet to be ticked if you want to get a passing grade to a certain level in the realm above, with access to a wide variety of learning opportunities, and places of play and enjoyment. Each class has access to their level of fun places they can go to and the degree of things they can experience for fun and enjoyment. Make wise choices now! I love you. See you then!

PSA.103:13 Like as a father pitieth his children, so the LORD pitieth them that fear him.

(Jesus says:) As you take care of your little ones, God takes care of you—especially those families that love and trust Him to. If you teach your children to love and respect Me, as your Lord and creator, and they know that there are consequences for wrong doings, this makes Me glad, and I want to help that family to flourish and thrive.

If you all listen to Me, then I will listen to you and hear your prayers.

To care for someone with needs, you first of all need to see that there is something missing, something they are going without, something that hurts, and you need to know that it's better for that something to be fixed. And you have to care about it. It has to move you or affect you in some way also. You have to, in many ways, feel what that struggling soul is feeling. You have to be tenderhearted, full of compassion, long suffering and of great mercy. These are the things that moves a human to wish to do something good for the sake of another, even if it costs them a whole lot to do it.

I, Your Lord, Maker and provider, do likewise hear your heart's needs for help, and I am moved, too, with compassion to do something to help. I both know what you need, and have the willingness to provide it; for I made it so that you, My children, even had those needs. Think of every need of a human body, and their mind, and their heart, and all that someone feels at some point that they are lacking. I packed that into the plan of a human, and all for good reason. So when you hit against a need, a loss, a hurt, come to Me, for I have the clues, the joys, the supply, the ability to make it all well for you—even if some things take a lot of coming to Me before they are sorted out. This can be good too, as you learn lots in the process, and learning is a good thing, for then you get to likewise start to understand new things about Me as well. I went through difficultly, while coming to Earth to understand you, and sometimes it takes you going through difficult times and taking your heart to Me again and again, before you understand something special about Me. Thank you for wanting to learn more about Me. I need these times with you as well. Time spent hearing you tell Me of your heart's needs is fulfilling and special for Me. I delight in hearing your praises, and I also enjoy seeing your trust in Me, as your Father and provider, when you tell me about your deep and unfulfilled needs that only I can help with—or that you finally realise only I can satisfy.

Do you fear Me? Do you let Me have the final say about everything that affects your life, really showing Me, daily, that what I think is what you want to do? Do you believe obedience to Me, yielding to My every desire, is what you should reach for on a daily basis?

This is what makes Me feel compassion for you. It's those that are going My way, and have forsaken much in order to do it, that makes Me pay close attention to the voice of your cries. Those who cry and fuss because they fell down in a pit, on a road I told them not to go on, their cries are a bit more distant than those who are right near Me and following Me very closely. If those distant ones are crying out to Me—not just crying out in pain and anger—and are really sorry for their waywardness, then I hear and come running. But those who are closer to Me, not only get help for their hurts, but get special whispers granted to them, the little whispers they speak in My ear of extras, treats, that they'd like to have; things that aren't total needs, but I wish to grant these desires too, just because it's a special reward for those who are extra close to Me. If they were far away, I wouldn't give them this pleasure, because I want them to give Me the joy, first, of their friendship and closeness. A Father who gives to his children, wants the joy of being with them too, and knowing that they trust Him enough to follow through on his instructions. He wants to know that they like being with him too.

So it is with you dear ones. I am like a Father, and you are like children who have lots to learn. So stay close and I'll care well for you, and you'll get to learn so much, and learn it faster, than if you wandered around doing whatever came into your head. Let Me be a Father, and learn of Me. And I'll hold you and carry you over the places that really are too hard for you. I'll tend to your hurts right away, and I'll teach you all kind of amazing things. You'll get real smart, real fast, if you hang out with me. Otherwise you'll just 'smart' for it—that is get a hurt or sting. The smart way is God's way, okay?

PSA.103:14 For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust.

GEN.2:7 And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

(Jesus says:) I made you—mankind—out of the dust, out of Earth, the place each of you were to spend a time of learning. You were bound, your free spirit, bound for a time to a body that itself was also bound, for a time to a planet also made primarily of dust and Earth and physical things. Earth also being bound to its orbit in space, its place in the universe. And just like all the rest of My creation that does what I formed it to do, so do I wish for those spirits, who are abiding in vessels of clay—bodies made of the dust of Earth—to do as I need them to do. It won't be forever that you linger here, for as you know, many have gone on to another place, to continue their learning in the afterlife.

But while you walk this Earth, held there by the forces of gravity and nature, I do remember your weaknesses and frame. I know all that you need, and what it takes to keep you going. Did you know in an instant, faster than I chose to take to create the world and all that was originally in it, I could blink and it would all be gone. Just think—all problems and pains gone, forever, never ever to be remembered any more. So why do I choose yet to put up with all the trouble that is going on?

For the same reason I created it in the first place: for time to exist; I want to give time to people, to spirits, to beings, to think about things, to make choices, to grow and learn. Learning takes time and experience. Though it's a painful ordeal when it's done by first going away from God their Creator, and then learning that that was the wrong way, eventually all will work out well. You'll see.

The joy that will come in the end will make it so worth it, both for the God who made it, as well as for you all who have chosen to do My will.

I know your frame, I know you can't do even a small part of all that you'd like to do. I see how short you fall of the ideal, the goal, of being like your Redeemer and creator. But the humility you also learn in the process is very important. Without humility teams can't very easily get anything done. If we are to work together to create a far better environment one day—in the Millennium that is to come—we are going to need a team that has learned real humility. And that is a real plus that you get from living on Earth. You get to feel and see in real ways just how limited your powers and abilities are, and how much you need Me, and how you also need others on the team, Christ's team. Humility bonds you together and glorifies or magnifies, and draws attention to the right things—not human capability, for that is very small, but the power of God. When I, your Lord, Maker and Redeemer, am noticed for being the all capable God that I am, then people will call upon Me and that is when the really good things start to happen.

Why wouldn't you advertise a being who can and wants to do all things, for your benefit and for the good everyone else too? Advertise Me; make Me big in the eyes of all on Earth. For that is when I can storm in and rid the place of the devils who try to capture My sheep. When people realise just how great and powerful I am, that is when really big, awe-inspiring things start to happen.

I love you and I am here for you.

PSA.103:15 As for man, his days are as grass: as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.

PSA.103:16 For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more.

(Jesus says:) Life is really short, when you compare it with eternity and all you will yet live to see and do. So don't waste your time with things that won't matter—or worse yet, things that are going to be put to the flames in the end; all the evil trinkets and ideas of the world.

Set your goals high, and enjoy doing things for God, for His glory alone. You can't do that while staring into the dirt of Earth. You have to look up to Heaven—that is get your inspiration and ideas from Up Above, and then get doing them. Why mess around in puddles filled with mud, and perhaps a few Earthly pebbles, when there is a mountain to climb, and gold to be gathered.

What mountain of My will do I have for you to summit and reach? Get the vision in prayer and in seeking the Lord today. Then you'll be itching to get hiking. It's not very thrilling to take one step at a time. And you might wish you could get to the top of a mountain peak with only a few steps and leaps, and get to see the view. But one step at a time, one day at a time, one little right choice to use your time well at a time, and soon you'll see that you are ascending, you are heading up closer to your goal, and leaving the valley ideas further in the dust beneath.

When you are just taking one, oft times tiresome step at a time, it sure doesn't feel like a mountain, just the same thing you have been doing for the last 3,729 steps. But then you look and take a minute to assess things and find, that added up, each hard step, really was a mountain you are making it up. How rewarding it is to see. And when the victory comes and you reach a goal, you are glad you kept taking yet the next step, and that you didn't give up.

Keep on keeping on. Life is too short to be wasted. You've only got this one chance to learn what is to be learned while on Earth. And every now and then stop to see if you have been making progress, or if you have rather been slipping down to the edge of a dangerous cliff, or if you have instead been going in circles in a valley cave. Are you getting nearer to the goal that you set out for, that your Lord and God, King of the Universe called you to reach? All you have to do is know what the steps are that you need to take today. Eventually, all those steps you took, put together, will mean great progress up the mountain of God's will for you, fulfilling His plan.

So, what steps are you to take today? Find out. I'm your guide. I'll lead you up the safest and best route, that will get you to your goal, give you great views, and strengthen you as well. You'll make a great guide then, for anyone who also wishes to follow in your footsteps.

That's why there are so many examples in nature, of things passing way; the passage of time in plants, in seasons, in the life cycle of animals, in erosion, in the aging of a person that is shown on human face and hair colouring. That's so that you'll realise that time does pass, and your time too may pass all too quickly.

Use your time on Earth wisely, and then we can all rejoice in the end of time, in My Heavenly Kingdom.

You'll kneel by My throne and offer Me your gifts, the projects and deeds that you did for Me—a representation of time, what you did with your time; all the hours that you spent doing what I called and needed you to do. That which was real solid, will remain there for all of Heaven to see. That which is done in the glory of the world and is Earthly, without any lasting Heavenly value, will vanish, and your hands will be empty as you try to show Me what you did with the time I gave you. Choose now—who do you wish to glorify: yourself and the ideas of this passing world and its wealth and filth? Or Me and My Kingdom, love and all the good things that will last forever.

It's not only always what you do while here, for some don't have much of a choice, but how you do it, and how much of Me you are able to give away to others; how much of Me filled your thoughts and prayers while you went about your tasks.

Do all that you do with the power of love, and for the glory of God, then those things will last.

Not everyone is called to be a flaming evangelist. Take as an example of My own dear mother, called to be so, while on Earth. She just did what she was called to do, faithfully, and raised her family well, in a God loving, God respecting family. And it was well worth it. She provided what was needed for Me to live and grow and learn and prepare—while the world around Me was doing the same. So if you are helping others to fulfil their high calling, then good. Do it for the glory of God, and you'll shine in the days to come.

Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you.

PSA.103:17 But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children;

PSA.103:18 To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them.

(Part 1)

(Jesus says:) This is a wonderful promise that Godly grandparents like to claim in prayer for their grandchildren. You have grandparents and they pray for you. And if you are someone that doesn't have grandparents who know Me and pray for you, well, you can then pray for them! Or if your grandparents have passed away, you can still help by praying for other's who are still around. There are tons of older people in the world today who need a child in their life. You can pray for them to find the love of little children who will cheer them up.

It's sad that there aren't the good old fashioned families that work together and all help one another. It seems that "normal" these days is the lonely way of living, and this makes a lot of people very sad. First, homes were big, or clusters of houses together, so all the living relatives could be nearby. Then it changed, and little families with just the parents and children were together and when the children were older then moved away leaving their parents very sad. This isn't so bad if it's because the children are called to be missionaries. For I will repay the parents a thousand fold for that. But if it's just because they wish to make money and live a selfish life, not caring for their elderly parents who gave and suffered so much to raise and care for them, then this is sad. And the grown children suffer too, as they don't get the wise counsel and help and friendship that they could have had.

Then things got even more unnatural and selfish. Now you have the homes broken down far more, where parents are no longer in the same home, and children no longer have a home to call their own—homes and families are divided, and they are shuffled around between them, at best, or just are living on the street much of the time. So sad. So lonely.

But you who know and love Me can do things differently. You can care about your aging parents, you can pray for your grandparents, you can provide a stable and loving home for your children, and let your own parents benefit from their grandchildren. Have a home that doesn't divide, just to gain more profit, but that stretches to give everyone that you can a pleasant and love filled dwelling place.

See everyone given to a family is needed for some purpose; they are there not to catch dust, but to play an essential role. If you all separate and move here and there, attempting to make it on your own, you are going to have a sad and sorry time, when all that could have been solved while doing it in the original way, big families all pitching in in some way. Then instead of a father in a family needing to do all the jobs, the work could be shared with father, with son, with grandfather, giving the others time to do some personal hobbies or having pleasant times with others. But when a member of a very small family has to do everything that's needed, that is when stress and overwork come in. And that just steals joy and health too.

Imagine the difference it makes when one person has to do all the cleaning, the housework, the handyman, the work, the fund managing, and all the administration too. Or if you had two or three people to share the load. It's a more peaceful and enjoyable home.

See, that's what many people don't realise, that if they stay a small home, with as few people as possible, it's just going to wear away, erode away even more, just from stress and overwork and the lack of love caused. But like bees who warm up in a group and take turns keeping each other the right temperature—and know that being alone would mean they wouldn't survive—it's a good tip for people to try it too. Together you can help each other survive. That's why I gave Adam a mate, to help him survive, and then told them to have a large family and extended family. And they did, and that's why you are here today.

PSA.103:17 But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children;

PSA.103:18 To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them.

(Part 2)

(Jesus says:) It's easy to remember their mistake of taking the forbidden fruit, but forget that Adam and Eve did obey My other commandment, and did it very well. They did have children and multiply like I said to do, even if it was hard. –There was pain in delivering, and struggle in growing food to feed everyone. But they did it, daily, and the more of them there were, the more they all had help. New discoveries came with new people. Each new person adds something to the family. They might take time from others, who need to help care for them, and they might take food and so on, but they give too, a lot. It's good to remember all that a family member is giving to the team. It's essential to see how valuable they are.

Sometimes people make themselves of less value to the team due to their choices, and sometimes it's because of their training or rather lack of it. But they can be taught to change and make better choices. Mostly, if they haven't referred to the manual for happy and healthy and heartfilled living, then they can get astray with their own ideas. That's why the Bible talks about parents instructing, correcting, and punishing children who aren't making choices that benefit themselves, their family, and the community that needs them. When they change and do things better, then they are happily surprised at how depended on they are. First they might have thought that they weren't needed. But that's just because their ways of living and their mode of operating wasn't as helpful as it should have been. But with that fixed, and a more quality lifestyle in place, then they can go happily along being a blessing and feeling blessed as well.

So what can you do for your grandparents? Pray for them. What can you do for your own parent's grandchildren—that are your children? Let them enjoy the fun of having grandparents who love and care for them. It will make your life so much happier and better too. And they will live longer too, as there is a reason for them to be around—new children who need them.

When a new child is given, not only does the new person come with gifts and skills and abilities to share with the family, but each of the members of the family also are given the abilities to care well for them. Sometimes they have to change so that they can be what is best for the new little one in their care, and this keeps them thriving and learning.

So, each life is valuable, and each one is meant to be in families. My Word says I put the solitary in families. So those that are lonely, sometimes I raise up new families for them to join and be with. Maybe you'll be asked to be a family for an alone person, old or young. Maybe your family will be just what is needed for someone to be a part of, and they might help you out too with things that you need. Who knows what good will come when you open your heart and home and lives to each other, and to others who need a place to call a home and a family. Be open to letting others join your family, if even for a time only, or on a part time basis. You can benefit from others, and they can learn from you too—if you all are trying to go My way and do things according to how My Spirit is leading. You might get good ideas that are just what they needed, and they might teach you a thing or two that saves you lots of time and effort.

PSA.103:17 But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children;

PSA.103:18 To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them.

(Part 3)

(Jesus speaking:) Growth is what is needed for most of the people in the world today, and not living with the older ones that have learned so much, is making the younger generation get less smart, as you can tell. Meanwhile the older ones, who most of them, have known and loved Me in their life, don't have people to share the truths they have discovered with. This is sad; it's squelching proper progress, and making so many people struggle with things that the solution has already been given for. It's like power lines being off. The electricity could be made at the station and ready to send out, but if the wire is out of service, the house doesn't benefit from it. So if the people who have the skills and knowledge and gifts and abilities, are made to live alone, without children and grandchildren and others to share these things with, then it's the little ones that are suffering. I wish that all older, wise, and godly ones could have a way to share their true and good knowledge that they have learned in life, with the younger ones. But at least you there can do it, with your children, and your parents.

If you will make the right choices to live as a family, and help and teach and care for one another, making each one feel very valued, then I bless you all with long life and happy days, and less stress than those in the world have to deal with, because they were too selfish, or let themselves have such bad habits that it makes it very hard to live together with anyone.

But if you stay away from the vices and evils of the world, the things that break down lives, then you can more happily live with one another. Okay? Take a tip from the Amish. They don't let the ways and things and gadgets of the world horn in and separate their families. They care for one another, and help each other. Love and living with one another is more important to them than something that is shiny and distracting. They don't need to be distracted from life, as they instead want to live it to the full. Just like you can, in your own way. Make a life; make life exciting, through contributing in the way you were created to.

And if something offends or hinders the progress of another member of the family, then get rid of it. It's better that you live the proper life of loving unity, than that you hold on to some trinket or attitude that is harmful and unkind—just because you kind of like it. But later on, when you really are in need, who or what will be there to help you? Your family of course, not the habit or gadget or trinket or idea. That won't be there to serve you in love. So it's really helping yourself in a way to put away the things that are harmful or bothersome for those you live with, because the loving care and unity you have will pay you back in positive ways one day.

Say you have an accident, and need a time of healing. Who will fix your food and bring it to you while your body can't get around? Your iphone? Nope. It will just cost you money in so many ways. The people you have cared for and been with and treasured, they will then want to give to you, as you have done so for them, putting aside your own preferences to show them love.

Think about it; make the choices that will in the long run benefit you. It'll save you tons of money too. Just think, if you are alone as a parent or set of parents, and you need help with your children, you have to pay tons of money to get others to help you—and they may or may not actually care about the wellbeing of your child. But if you are among God fearing, loving family members, older and younger, they'll do it for free because they really do care, and it's a joy for them.

Build up a strong team, and then stick with one another, for support and strength. I am always with you and always want to be with you, My dear children.

PSA.103:19 The LORD hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all.

(Jesus says:) I love to see that each one in My Kingdom is well cared for, loved, and has what they need. Sometimes this means that you, or others, have to do some hard work now, while making preparations. I am working to prepare things, great things, for the future, when I am at last in full charge, in person, and have the consent of most of the population. It's not that I need to be voted in, for I am and will be the ruler, but it sure makes things a lot nicer when people want Me to be the boss. That means there are less people pulling the opposite way. Instead, forward progress can be made, for the good of all, not just cleaning up after the mess makers.

That is when things will get real exciting—when new inventions and procedures, plans and ideas, God's ones that bring only good, can be put in place. It's going to be a wonderful time in history, when all is for the good and benefit of those I created.

At last everyone will see how great I am, how much love I really do have, and that all those things that were hurting them, were never part of the original plan, but mankind had messed things up. Oh, I can't wait to clean things up, and see the joy on my children's faces—children old and young, including adults of all ages—when I throw away the evil and get this world's face looking good again.

Everything that hurts and destroys is going to be done away with, and great will be the cheers of all who love good and right.

One day the whole story will be told, from A to Z and you will see the full picture. "Ah! Now I see!" you will say. And everyone will be so much wiser then. "Why didn't we get it a whole lot sooner? We could have saved ourselves so much pain and suffering!" some will lamentedly say. And that would have been nice, however, one day they will all "get it" as in understand and see things clearly. And best of all, the evil one will for sure "get it" too, as in be punished and put to a stop.

Loud will be the cheers of those who have fought long and hard against the devil and his crowd. What joy, what relief will be known in those days. And new challenges and changes will come then. There will always be something new to experience and to learn, and a whole lot of fun to look forward to.

I love you and can't wait until I can make things wonderful for each of My children. And I eagerly await for each of My children to want to be called by My name, and to accept me now as their Saviour, and as King and Lord of all, ready to serve and do whatever it takes to make the Kingdom strong, and joy filled too.

PSA.103:20 Bless the LORD, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word.

(Jesus says:) Beloved, test the spirits, the angels that try to speak to you, and see if they be of God. Do you know how to be sure if that voice that might come in your head is really of Me, by the fruit or affect it has. What effect does it have on your relationship with Me and with others? Does it make you want to read My Word and tell others about Me? Does it make you want to live a long and fruitful life for your Saviour? Does it make you want to instead just think about yourself, your woes, your troubles, and to make life hard for others?

My angels of light are always trying to whisper good things in your ears, trying to get you to do good things with your time and your day, and think thoughts that lead you to great ideas. They give heaven sent inspiration. But voices, that likewise come around daily are those that tell you to quit, to give up the fight for Heaven—that is bringing people to come to know Me as their Lord and Saviour, or thoughts that though they make you snicker or laugh for a bit, are actually hurtful and damaging to think about or to speak about.

Anything that leads you down the path of unrest, of stressful living where you are too busy to take your cares and needs to your Heavenly Father, too busy trying to work things out on your own, comes not from a Heavenly coach, but from a disrupter and demoter, trying to get you lower down in your service for the God of Heaven who rules over all.

Don't listen to the downward spiral thoughts and voices and temptations. Just because something makes you feel a little "I want it" feeling, doesn't mean it's leading you upward to greater things. "Just go down this little turn and then you'll get something you really want, and you'll at last be happy," a voice might say. But if the "down" is away from the Lord, down to the pits of despondency, then it's just a trap. It's better to walk up the spiral, the hill, the tough time and go without something luring you, than to lose ground and go downward—not just a bit, because you often then trip and fall many levels lower than you thought you would.

Don't listen to any voice that tells you "It's easier if you do or don't do this or that..." and it's an idea that tells you something opposite to My Word and My ways and My Will. Instead say, "I'm going to do twice as hard a thing rather, and go twice as fast and hard for the Lord, making greater progress, though it costs me in giving up something I might have liked. I am not living for myself. God made my life so that He could have a presence on this Earth. Jesus never took the easy way, and neither will I, if that is what is best for the Gospel to be preached."

And that is why I give you My angels, to help you do what is really hard. They give strength of will, so that you keep to your commitments and don't give up. (See Part 2)

PSA.103:20 Bless the LORD, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word.

(Jesus speaking:) [The Angels God sends] They give strength of will, so that you keep to your commitments and don't give up. They give strength of plans, plans and ideas that work because Heaven's team of help has been commissioned to fight and guard to make the plans work. They give strength of time, enough time without distraction, or a lengthening of time if need be, by manipulating things around so that you have sufficient time to do a job God's asked you to do, and aren't incapacitated in some way; you are free of physical hindrances and all. They give strength of body and mind, so that you can do it, physically and mentally. They give strength of heart, so that you want to do it, and do it out of love for others, and for Me—Jesus—your reason for doing the good I've put in your heart.

When I tell the angels, the Hosts of Heaven what to do, they have two choices. And they see very clearly the consequences of each of those options. One is to simply do it. The other is to not do it, or make variation of it; to kind of do it, but give it their own spin and a take off of what I said; a version of the command or instruction. To those that obey explicitly and very carefully, these are moved up in rank and given more power, more strength, more beauty, more honour and responsibility. Anyone who likes to put their own ideas in the mix, and only have partial obedience, take a step downward. A loss of pleasure, a loss of freedom, a loss of joy, a loss of title and allowance. No one wants that.

Yet this is exactly what happens to My living-on-earth servants as well. They too, you too, have these choices. When you know what your Lord's will is, and you do it not, there is likewise a loss. Things start failing that should be going better. Your health takes a turn for the worse; you can't think as clearly or have as much will power to do more. Things aren't as joyful and fun as they would be—even simple things that could be really fun just because you are doing it in faith and obedience—but they start to be a chore.

So if you are having a hard day, and every step seems a struggle, and nothing is working out, and there is little to no joy in your spirit, stop to see if you have missed doing what I asked you to do. It might be just a little thing, and perhaps you thought it wasn't very important, but it cost you your smile. That's why it's good to stop for some time each day and ask Me to remind you of anything you may have missed and forgotten to do. Then you can apologise for your weakness, and tell Me how much you need Me to help you. I'll help you by sending you some strong angels who know how to obey, who know how to do My will very precisely, and know the importance of getting something done right on time.

Come to Me daily for My help, and to let Me know that you need Me to help you do what I need you to do. You let Me know you are not strong enough on your own, you are not wise enough by yourself, you are not willing enough without the enforcing of Heaven's aids by your side. You will fail and putter to a stop, or just get distracted and be unable to complete a given task without My Heavenly assistants there by your side. When you admit these things to Me, then I can select just the right help you need, and forward progress will be steady from there on.

"Come unto Me, all ye that labour" is what I said. That's because you need My help to get you through. And the sooner you come to Me and ask Me for my assistants to aid you in your labour, the faster the progress will be, and the more fun you'll have doing it as well. It's as simple as that, okay?

PSA.103:21 Bless ye the LORD, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.

(Jesus says:) Sometimes I ask one of My helpers—whether on Earth or in Heaven—to do something just to please Me. Sometimes I command and give quick and fast orders, because we are in a battle and fighting to rescue the lost. But then there are times that something would make Me happy, an extra bit of fun. Those who minister to Me to please Me are what this passage is talking about. They want to make Me happy and ask Me what they can do to please Me. Then I tell them. And it's a joy to Me. They aren't just going about things because they have to, like soldiers let themselves be ordered around, but as a team of helpers around a King who wants to get something good done for someone, and his helpers that serve out of love are eager and willing to do it. For these that minister to Me in this way—that is to minister to those I send them too, the job rewards them too, as I make sure that something special and fun happens to them in return.

When they serve in love, they are given love in return. Just like it is for you, too. You give of your time and do something unselfish, just because it will please Me, and then something special happens to you in return. Perhaps giving your tithe is one of these things. But then I do special things to reward you with more of your personal needs. Or perhaps you get up extra early in the morning and give up some of your rest in order to take more time hearing from Me or reading My Word while things are quiet, so that you can feel closer to Me in spirit. Maybe I'll then bless you with a special gift of prophecy, where you can hear Me speaking to you extra clearly during the day, and that makes things go smoother and are more enjoyable.

You know the difference between doing something that has to be done, and doing something that has more of an element of enjoyment for someone—you, or the one who asked you to do it. Like cooking a meal; you don't have to have a meal cooked and prepared nicely in order to survive. But if a meal is cooked, there are more benefits and your family can enjoy the fellowship together as well. That's a little example of the types of orders and requests I give. Some are for the survival of people on earth, in order to reap the harvest and bring as many people in to My Kingdom. These are like the commands I give to angels. But then there are things like protection for My servants on Earth while they are on vacation. It's for fun, but I wanted to reward them for giving Me their life and time, and I certainly want them to keep going strong.

Maybe the difference is that some orders I give are to stop what I don't want to have happen, like in the previous verse that says, "ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments"; and some requests are to make happen what I want to occur, a blessing to give, a flourishing of a work, something that makes Me glad it happened—not just glad it didn't happen. Like this verse says, "ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure".

And those who minister to Me—that is, help those I need them to help, and also who minister praise and joy, love and deep communion with Me—those give Me pleasure. The singing hosts of Heaven that teach you to praise, that really inspires me. Or those that work with you as you care for a sick baby and give comfort, these please Me.

I'm happy for those angelic beings that fight, that war in the realm of the heavens, that fight satan and drive out his settlements. And I'm happy for the even larger team of helpers that reach the many people who need to get closer to Me and who need encouragement. Angelic helpers, My Heavenly Hosts, also aid those who have passed away and are in the realm of the spirit. All need training, all need love, all need to learn more of the ways of the Lord their God. I'm glad for My Host of saints in all realms, that love and please Me, and who live to serve Me and delight themselves in their Lord. When you enjoy serving Me and making where you live like a bit of Heaven, this pleases Me.

“I will bless the Lord at all times” King David liked to say. That is to make My Kingdom flourish with lots of new beings who love me and enjoy living a God-pleasing life.

“Rejoice in the Lord always” the apostle Paul said. And that is good advice if you want to bless Me. For in praising Me and in letting the goodness of the Lord be shown and told, then the Kingdom of God gains strength as it’s filled with happy citizens, happily loving and living and helping each other.

Did you notice that it said, “All ye His hosts”? That’s because there are a lot of members, and many hosts. As the Bible says, I am the “Lord of Hosts”. I have many teams that are under My command and who are eager and willing to help and perform any task I send them too. No task is too menial or low for them. If I say, “Go and help the crying baby, whose new tooth is hurting him” they’ll go. It’s just to help one little child, who can’t even call out for God’s help, as he’s never learned. But I care and they go. Maybe they will inspire someone caring for him in what to do to ease the pain, or maybe they will just help the baby’s gums not to feel the pain so much, or perhaps they will appear and distract the little one, or supply something good for them to chew on to make it easier, or perhaps they will help the mother to have sufficient milk and the willingness and ability to nurse them so the pain is relieved—or all of the above. Or perhaps they will soothe and put the child to sleep, so the trouble is relieved by a good long nap.

So, as you can see, the team of angelic beings and ministers that are sent out or work here, are many and are all kept happily busy; and they also get their own needs ministered too. I see to that. All who love and serve Me, get love and service in return.

So if you have a need, just ask for what you need help with. I give all that is needed, at the best time. And if it seems something isn’t working out, or it’s taking longer for you to get this or that need supplied, know it’s not because I have run out of helpers who can minister, but because the time is not yet, or there is a battle that needs to be fought and won first.

Maybe you need to first fight the enemy in some area of your life, or read more of My Word so you can have more faith to ask for something you need. But one way or the other, I know all your needs and I have more than enough ministers and hosts that can help, when the time is right.

Did you thank Me for sending to you all that was needed for your day today? Did you just ask at the start of the day or the start of a project—but then forget to thank Me for answering and helping? I like it when you do both—ask for My help, and then notice the good I have given to you, and thank Me for it, and declare to others, like an advertisement of My power and goodness, what I have done for you.

“I will declare thy greatness” it says in Psalm 145:6 And “Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.” Psalm 66:16.

These are wonderful things to do, for I am always sending you assistance and aid and help in some form or another. Will you praise and thank Me for it? I’d so love that. It makes Me feel real good. I love you.

PSA.103:22 Bless the LORD, all his works in all places of his dominion: bless the LORD, O my soul.

(Jesus says:) To have dominion is to be in charge, to rule over, to be the king and to make the rules. Here it says “O my soul” after saying that all places where the Lord rules should bless him. He is saying, “Lord, you are in charge of me. My heart belongs to you. You can tell me what to do. You can turn my heart this way and that way, according to Your pleasure and desire.”

Does God have control of your whole being? Do I, Jesus Christ, live within your heart, as Lord of your life? If so, then you can bless the Lord, you can praise Him, you can rejoice that you are part of the best kingdom around, the Kingdom of God almighty. He cares for those in His realm, for those who belong to Him and wish to serve Him night and day.

And I am a moving and active God too. I work. Like I said when some people wondered why I healed on the weekend while others weren't to work, but to take time for God. I said that both I and the Father worked, always. We don't take vacation and forget about the world and all the projects we have going there. I work, I move, I take action.

That is why I commission those who follow Me to “Go”. I send them. I teach those who love Me to get going and working. There is a big job to be done and I need all hands ready to help, and all hearts filled with the desire to get the job done. What is the job? To make disciples of all nations. To preach the Word. To love their neighbours and care for their brethren.

Trust Me, when this project of Earth is done and over, and all lessons have been learned that can and should be learned, the benefits from going through this tough experience are going to be good. There is going to be one great celebration and rejoicing, and all will have come all that much closer to knowing God just a bit better, and will be happy to serve Him and love Him forever!

Is God able to work in your life? Does He have the dominion or charge of your heart, your plans, your family's direction, and what you do with your time? Or have you closed yourself off, saying, “Hands off”?

Why don't you stop for a bit today and tell Me that you want to offer every part of your life and heart and body for Me to work in—like a workshop. I can get to work and change and fix things up, heal and restore the broken parts, and build new additions in your life. I can infuse you with new joy and peace, and you'll be so glad you placed yourself into My hands.

Do I have the dominion, the charge over you and all that is committed into your care? When will you let Me? I know it might mean that you aren't able to try to do some of the things that are now on your wish list, because you know those things won't be on My “To Do” list for you, as they wouldn't be best for you. But if you are willing to give things up, and give Me the reins of the carriage of your life and let Me lead you, I'll take you too some far out places. The turn I take you might be unexpected, but nice, and most of all we'll be together. I'd rather that, then just being part of the rescue help to come to your aid when you keep getting stuck in the mud by taking all the wrong turns.

Wouldn't you like that rather as well? Though the rough might be bumpy at times, or the storm might set it, and sometimes we'll have to pause till the rain clears, at least we will be together and you will know that I am going to get you, eventually, safely to the place where you and I both want to go.

I love you and I love it when you allow Me to work with you, and you let Me give the orders and commands, and say what should or shouldn't happen. Then the right things can happen. I'll make sure of that.
