Isaac and the Wells

Did you ever have someone take something that you were using? Did it make you sad or upset?

Isaac had learned to be patient and act kindly, even when people took away something that he and his team really needed—a well for drawing water.

Isaac let others have his own well, and he moved and worked hard to dig another one. God provided more water for Isaac and his team and all their animals.

Soon those that weren't very nice to him said they were sorry, and became friends.

It was a good idea to act kindly—because in the end Isaac got more friends!

Isaac and the Wells

Isaac was Abraham's special son, and he learned from his father the best way to live—showing love and kindness, listening to God and obeying Him, and having patience to sometimes wait a long time for the best things to come.

One time he was very patient, and showed others the best way to be. A deep hole needed to be dug to make a well to get water out of the ground. There were no other streams or rivers or lakes in that area. Isaac's team needed water for their families and animals.

Then some grabby, unkind men decided they wanted to be the only ones using Isaac's well. Oh dear! That must have been very difficult for Isaac and his family and everyone they travelled with. They'd worked so hard to dig it, and they really needed the water. Isaac decided to be patient and gentle. He let the other men have the well, and he and his team moved on and dug another one, and God provided plenty of water for them.

Because Isaac made the right choices, and did what God wanted him to do, God blessed him with much more than those selfish people had. Soon the king of that country was sorry that they hadn't been nice to Isaac. He apologised and promised to be friends. He could tell that God was helping Isaac, and he wanted to be on the right side, too—on the side of those that followed God's way and were blessed as a result.

Activity

*Each hold a fresh glass of water, and after taking each sip, stop to say something that water helps us be able to do - things you are thankful to have water for!

Isaac and the Wells

Isaac had learned many things both from his father Abraham, and also from his times alone with the Lord. He'd learned a lot about faith and patience. One particular event that's recorded about his life shows how this helped him.

Water was hard to find at times, and to get it often a deep well needed to be dug. This was hard work, and took a long time. There were no big building tools and machines to help make it fast and easy. So by the time a well was dug, and contained plenty of water for their big team to use, it was a great accomplishment and very helpful. Not only helpful, but it was essential. They needed it daily for drinking, for washing, for their animals, and so many other things.

However, others in the area needed and wanted water too. But there were those that didn't know and love God and who just wanted things to be theirs. When they saw Isaac and his team's well, they didn't say "Ah, there's water around here, let's dig a well too!" But rather, "That well is useful to us, let's take Isaac's well!" And they did.

They said that they were the only ones that could use it, and would push away any of Isaac's team who tried to use it.

So what did Isaac do? He moved. He moved to a new place and dug another well. But can you believe it?! What do you suppose happened next? Those greedy guys came and took over the next well too! So what did Isaac do? Did he say, "That's enough of being gentle and peaceful!" and try to be pushy to keep his hard-worked for well? No. He moved again.

He was probably feeling rather discouraged. But for the third time they dug a well. And this time no one took it, and they used it till it was time to move again.

You never know who is watching you when you are trying to behave well and act kindly. So something wonderful then happened. Isaac's team moved again, and when they were in the middle of trying to dig another well to use in their new place a visitor came.

There was a king from an area nearby, who hadn't wanted Isaac to live in his country. But he noticed how Isaac and his team had behaved, and also saw how God had blessed him with much as a result of his obedience. The king knew that God was with Isaac, and realised that he wanted to be friends with Isaac and his team. He saw they were good people and that God gave them all they needed, and took care of them because they followed God's way.

Isaac was surprised. "I thought you didn't like us?" he wondered. But the king said he wanted to change. They had a feast and promised to be friends and help each other. That was the first miracle. Then right when Isaac forgave the king and his people—all those ones who had taken away their wells before—and after Isaac and the king promised to be kind to one another, a man came and told Isaac some great news!

The new well they were just digging was complete, as there was a spring of fresh water in it now! Great! Things were working out wonderfully! It took time and patience, and trying again and again, and not getting angry, and then forgiving others.

It worked out far better in the end for Isaac and his team, when doing it the kind and patient way—even though it seemed to take a while to see the good results. They had a place to stay, and friends who would be there for them, and lots of water!

Isaac had learned to hear from God, too, just like his father Abraham had. God told him where to go and where not to go, and as he obeyed things went well. Isaac and his team not only had all that they needed, but more than most others around. It didn't happen all in the first day, but after years of patience and following God's voice and doing what He said to do, day by day, month after month, year by year, they saw how blessed and cared for they all were.

Let's Talk About It

*What do you think is often your first and natural reaction when someone takes something that belongs to you?

*What might have happened if Isaac and his team had acted differently rather than with patience and faith?

Activity

*Cut out a heart-shaped piece of paper. Write or draw in it the answers to this question: What did Isaac have in his heart and mind to help him act in such ways—ways that helped things work out for good in the end?

(Ideas: faith, kindness, prayer, trust in God, peace, wisdom, patience, etc.)

26:19 And Isaac's servants digged in the valley, and found there a well of springing water.

26:20 And the herdmen of Gerar did strive with Isaac's herdmen, saying, The water is ours: and he called the name of the well Esek; because they strove with him.

26:21 And they digged another well, and strove for that also: and he called the name of it Sitnah.

26:22 And he removed from thence, and digged another well; and for that they strove not: and he called the name of it Rehoboth; and he said, For now the Lord hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land.

26:23 And he went up from thence to Beersheba.

26:24 And the Lord appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father: fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Abraham's sake.

26:25 And he builded an altar there, and called upon the name of the Lord, and pitched his tent there: and there Isaac's servants digged a well.

26:26 Then Abimelech went to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath one of his friends, and Phichol the chief captain of his army.

26:27 And Isaac said unto them, Wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye hate me, and have sent me away from you?

26:28 And they said, We saw certainly that the Lord was with thee: and we said, Let there be now an oath betwixt us, even betwixt us and thee, and let us make a covenant with thee;

26:29 That thou wilt do us no hurt, as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee nothing but good, and have sent thee away in peace: thou art now the blessed of the Lord.

26:30 And he made them a feast, and they did eat and drink.

26:31 And they rose up betimes in the morning, and sware one to another: and Isaac sent them away, and they departed from him in peace.

26:32 And it came to pass the same day, that Isaac's servants came, and told him concerning the well which they had digged, and said unto him, We have found water.

26:33 And he called it Shebah: therefore the name of the city is Beersheba unto this day.

Activity

*Learn about wells and how they work. Look at pictures of wells. Do people still use wells today? In what kinds of situations or countries would they be most needed? What might a modern day well in some countries look like or have? (Electric pump, etc.)

Fountain of Faith

Joshua 23:14b

Matthew 10:8b Freely ye have received, freely give.

Proverbs 28:27a He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack.

Deuteronomy 16:17 Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which he hath given thee.

Luke 10:35b Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

*Choose as many of the above verses as you would like (can do all of them if you want to) and write them on a piece of paper or notebook. Cut and glue pictures from magazines, brochures, etc., that best illustrate the whole verse or a part.

Examples:

Luke 6:38: Find pictures of a measuring tape or rod; pictures of a bucket of water or a bottle running over.

2 Corinthians 9:7: Find a heart to cut and glue and/or a picture of a sad face and happy face.
