

Bible Studies with Jesus—for all ages:

Psalms 23—91—100

2019

(All messages accompanying the verses are fresh from Jesus Christ)

PSALM 23

PSA.23:1 The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.

(Jesus says:)

Without Me to help and keep you, dear ones, you will be like a lost lamb wondering through the fields and forests. There are prowling beasts, but you are safe when you are close to Me.

How do you stay close by? You ask Me questions and you chat with Me. Even if you can't hear a big voice answering in clear booming words, at least you made your voice heard to Me. Then you can walk by faith, though not always by sound and sight.

So many people want to have clear indication that they are heard and seen, but it's not that way with Me. There are so many things you have to take by faith. –Like a flight instructor that is giving commands over the radio to someone needing help in the air. They can't see the one who is monitoring them and is very concerned about them making it in to safety.

Trust that I am trying to guide you the best way that I can, even if you don't see Me there with you every moment of every day. Hear from

Me in prophecy, or just speak your concerns to me if that is all you can do, and know that I see everything. I know it all and will get you to a safe landing.

Of course I am far, far better than a flight control tower guide, because I'm actually holding your plane; I am the one making it fly and keeping it in the air. I just make sure you are learning to communicate with Me, and then I do the needed things in ways so that you can see I did respond to your words of a prayer and to your heart's needs.

And when you are too tired to fly any longer and you feel you are just going to collapse, I'll take over and keep the plane going. Trust that when you have done all you can do—you have listened to Me and obeyed and are not just flying off in your own way and speed and height—then I will do the driving and piloting while you rest.

So, just like a shepherd leads and guides the sheep, and planes need guides to bring them in safely, so will I bring you through your life as you let Me speak to you, and you nourish yourself on My Word.

I love you. And I'll see you in the skies one day as you fly up, no longer dependant on the plane, your old body. We'll meet in the clouds, in the stars and in many more far out zones.

PSA.23:2 He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.

(Jesus says:)

It's just you and Me here today. Let Me show you a little place right down by the water's edge, that I know will become your favourite as you come here as often as you like.

There, that large flat rock, overshadowed by the beautiful tree. There you can stretch your legs out, put your bag down, spread out your picnic, or whatever you bring. You won't get wet, and the sun won't be too hot for you. The sound of the rippling, gentle water has healing properties. It's relaxing in one way, but stimulates you in others. It gets you to put down the burdens, but become awake in heart and mind and spirit, to live life in beautiful ways.

You place your bag as a pillow and lie down on this rock, just listening, and looking above. Ah, now is when you can hear Me speak to you. – Really speak to you, about all kinds of things. Not just commenting on your pathway, your aching feet, the heat of the day (the weather), or about how long the path will go on for. But here I can teach you things that are different than what you usually are thinking about. And I like that. It gives us new and interesting things to talk about as we carry on the walk of life. And with interesting things to talk about, it does make the time go by faster, and the way seem less wearying.

So what do I want to tell you today? Why not ask Me questions like:

--What was Your reaction when...?

--How did You respond to...?

--Is there ever a time when I should be willing to...?

Ah! There lots of question phrasings, but these are some "I'm open to Your mind Jesus" type of questions. And I'll show you lots more.

Then of course, when you are deep in the spirit—that is, you have really deeply and fervently praised Me and entered into My realm—you can just hear and see whatever I have to say, without even asking a probing question. But you have to have entered deeply for this, or else your mind takes you away here and there, and only trite things are discussed.

Mature topics will help you keep maturing and being able to handle more and meatier topics of the Spirit. And I give you mature topics when you are close by My side and are ready to hear new things. It helps too, when you aren't holding on to bad feelings from things others have done or even that I have allowed to happen in your life. This really can get in the way of clear prophecy and wild revelations that I wish to impart.

Do you have a favourite place to go, where you can be with Me in the spirit? Sometimes it helps to have a mental picture of a place, especially when there aren't too many options in the physical to go and be somewhere like some prophets of old could.

Then let your weights and bags of duties down, praise Me for how much I love you, and how amazing it is that I can and want to speak to you. And then quietly listen, or ask a few conversation starter questions, and we can deeply commune.

And I will say that verse to you in a new way: Freely you have given, and so freely you will receive.

Gave what? Your life, your time, your old ideas, and your wishes for accomplishments, and you gave up any grudges you held on to. And what will you now receive? New energy-reviving power from Heaven, new Words from your Creator, new empowerment to do new things, and greater love from Heaven.

PSA.23:3 He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

(Jesus says:)

You want to know what is right, but oh the choices are so many, and are getting more varied by the day. It's getting harder and more difficult to know what truly is best as this world gets more and more complicated, with new choices there never were before.

But all you have to do is close your eyes for a moment to hear My Spirit's whisper saying, "This is the way, walk ye in it."

I knew all that you would face, and all that would be banging at your door, "Do me! Claim me! Take me into your heart and mind!"

I know you want to walk the straight and narrow pathway, but that can only be done as you hear the whispers in your mind leading you. There's no other way to make it these days with so much begging for you to turn down their path way.

You are on the straight and narrow, but so many have paved their little roads and driveways along the way, so it looks like there are numerous turn offs. And some of these turn offs were made by people turning off the straight and narrow, so many feet walking away to the side that it started to look like a pathway, a beaten one—for beaten men and women who failed to be winners and make it to the end goal.

“Just for a minute, come this way... I’m not taking you off the right road, just giving you a bit of fun,” one turn off pathway sign might say. And it might come right when you most actually do feel the need for a break. So watch out for the so called “vacations” from doing what is right, and right in My eyes—not just what others claim is good. It would be better that you pause in walking, and get down on your knees in prayer asking for some refreshing and renewal, and get “restored” in heart and body and mind, then to just “keep going” by walking off on some side road.

It's better that you stop, and sit still, than to feel that you are doing something—even something supposedly good—but it’s going off the path. Better no progress, than to digress and transgress and get in a mess. Better to pause in prayer and sit still in My presence for a time, than to turn off for some false “entertainment and relaxation.” It’s false because it will only wear you out more and take away from your store of strength.

When you are feeling overwhelmed by choices, and it’s dizzying you to think about what way to take, that is the time to pause, to close your eyes, and just to listen for the still small voice of your Guide. Just a whisper from Above will help to recharge you and get you going in the right direction. Be wise; not all so call “forward movement” or “short cuts to the realm of glory” really are these.

The true way to the Realm of Glory is hard and long, straight and fine, narrow and without a lot of frills. And forward movement has nothing to do with always being in motion, but only about going forward, progressing—not how active you are doing this or that assignment. For you can be sick in bed for years on end, and still be making progress in heart and mind, and progress through your prayers. It’s not about how much you do that others see as “great works done in My name” that gets Me routing for you and cheering for you. But it’s rather how open and yielded you are to do whatever I need today that will further the cause of My Kingdom.

The progress I want to see is progress on My Kingdom goals, My overall plan. And if being sick in bed helps something be furthered, then so be it. Or if washing dishes all day helps something move in place so that another part of My Kingdom’s goals get done, then “Hallelujah!” you can say. Good things are coming about because of your yielded action—or patient inaction physically.

PSA.23:4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

(Jesus says:)

As Moses would lift up the rod to discomfort the wicked, so the same will My rod be lifted up yet to comfort My people.

“The Lord shall fight for you,” My Word says. With My rod I smite the wicked with their very own designs and plans; while they yet are engaged in their wickedness, it is the very thing that does become their very ruin.

Lift of up your rod, your staff, the weapon of praise, as Moses lifted it up to His God. Let the rod of your praise, your weapon of praiseful declarations comfort Me also. When I do hear your voice singing out, ringing out in praiseful worship, this is as a visit from you; this is as you comforting Me.

Fight with your praises, and the death in the valley will be the death and ruin of the enemy. Death will come, but not to you. Life will spring forth from the lips of praise.

“Be gone from My children, ye workers of death and designers of destruction. Though they pass through these valleys, with traps of death all around, their rods of praise will be lifted up and smite those wicked ones with damnation.”

I hold you up, fair one, and breathe life into you. I will breathe yet more life, so that your praises can and will be yet more vibrant and radiant, and hearty, and powerful.

Let every shadow you must cross through cause your New Empowered Weapon of praise to radiate all the more—for every time it is used, it is stronger and more brilliant and more effective.

Walk on now, and light the way through the weapon of praise—the rod of true power over all the works of darkness.

PSA.23:5 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

(Jesus says:) It's feasting time! Wanna have a party? I've got the best one all set and ready for you. All you have to do is close your eyes, close your mouth, close your hands in prayer and get them off of whatever things you are fidgeting with, close your mind to distractions, and away we go.

I'll zoom you quickly to the privacy of My eating chambers, and you'll have a feast for the mind, heart, and spirit. It's very easy to see what people have been eating most of their life, or at least for the last several months. It shows up in good or not so good ways. But it's not always easy to tell what people have been giving their mind to feast on. This is more private. But when it shows up and people can see if they are spiritually healthy or not, is in how they react to a frightening situation; or a situation that could cause them to feel real proud in a negative way. These are some tests of spiritual health.

Another test is when they don't get what they want at the moment they wish for it, if that makes them fretful or angry, that's a tell-tale sign that they are feeling rather famished spiritually; they haven't been getting deeply fed.

Another test can be when others get something you don't, or they seem to be getting all the best things, things you really wish you had, meanwhile you are not getting even half as good things—at least to your point of view and your assessment of things.

So why are there these test and trials, and seeming lacks of balance in life, or what some people might call "unfair"? Perhaps you can look at them as a special thermometer to see how healthy you are, and to give you a nudge to get tanked up and nourished with the Word of God through taking special time with Me.

Maybe instead of feeling all sad when tests come along, realise it's an invitation to a feast, and turn and look the other way, away from the sad or hurtful thoughts and reactions of others.

Please know that whenever something tries to get to down, or you are really having a battle about something, that I have all the best and most fortifying things for you. Turn in to My banqueting house and feast on something really good that I want to nourish you with. Get your mind on Heavenly things.

How did Paul the Apostle and the others make it through their much bigger tests and hardships? By "setting their affections on things that are above, not on things of this Earth." (Colossians 3:2)

And so can you.

It's really just a hunger pang, when you start to fall in some test. It's a weary-in-the-battle moment. It's not all that complicated. It's not "all these battles and trials" and so many things hitting you; but think of it in simple terms, that you are getting hungry and I'm ringing the dinner bell. Turn and look and see that I've sent a coach of heavenly support staff, driven by the Keys of Heaven, to bring you to come and feast.

You don't have to worry about how to fight each and every negative feeling and thought you get hit with, and wonder which of the many pills from Heaven to order so you can be on to better health. Just come and eat. Come and dine. That's what I told the disciples who were feeling so many battles all at the same time, after I left being with them in the physical, and had risen. They went fishing, but really they were fishing in their mind for the answers and for healing and for their life's focus.

“Come and dine,” I told them, and they did. (John 21:12)

A meal and chat with Me gave them their focus and direction to go. “Feed My sheep, and feed My lambs,” I instructed. (John 21:15-17) They didn't need to go fishing around for big solutions to life's big problems. They just needed time with Me, and then I'd give them simple commands that they could focus on.

Healing of heart and mind all start when you, “sup with Me”, okay? (Revelation 3:20)

“He took me to the banqueting house, and His banner over me was love,” it says in Song of Solomon. (SOS.2:4)

What did I ask Peter before giving him his commission in life? I asked him first if he loved Me.

Because if you love Me, you'll keep My commandments. If Peter's love was elsewhere, and his focus was on the things of this world, it would have been pointless to ask him to do something. It would have been talking into the air. But I knew that he loved Me; he'd even splashed into the water to come and see Me! So I knew that telling him what to focus his life on now wasn't going to be a waste of breath, but well-received and certainly obeyed and followed through on.

So, that's what I want to tell you. When things are pricking you and you are crying about this and that, come to Me. I'll then feed you all the things you need, and tell you something simple that makes it easy for you to stay on the right track.

And for those who come often to Me, I'll give them extra special delights and tasty desserts to show them how much I like it that they chose to be fed at My table, and let life's tests and trials remind them to come quickly to be fed by Me.

PSA.23:6 Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

(Jesus says:)

Hi, I just wanted to come and see you for a while, right there where you are. Of course I am always everywhere, but sometimes I like to visit you in special ways.

You've read stories through the Bible when the "angel of the Lord" does this or that, or says things to humans, and it's different than the God who is always everywhere.

I don't expect you to know how it all works, but just know that as you are reading this, I'm nearer to you than usual.

I just want to whisper a little something to you.

Remember when you were a young thing, small and usually protected, and you did something that wasn't quite right? Sometimes you got a correction of some sort, or even you happened to get hurt and learned what not to do.

Now that you are older, you are under My full authority and protection, rather than in the seeable way of your human caretakers, as it was when you were young. I look out for your welfare very carefully. There are just so many things that I wish I could tell you that would help you walk on a safe and smoother pathway where faster progress could be made. But sometimes you are still like a child, wishing to explore this or that possibility, instead of taking My Word for it—just going on something I say. You like to find out things for yourself. And sometimes that helps you to learn good lessons, but other times it just wastes your time and makes things harder for you.

So to have “goodness and mercy” follow you, it’s best to remember that you are to be following Me; that I am Your loving caretaker and wish to give you the best life possible—one that is really worth the effort of being there on this planet, and all that it’s costing you. Now, best doesn’t just mean fun and easy, but what is going to shape you to make you able to manage what you are actually there to do.

So if you feel a little correction from My Spirit, or from someone I lead to teach you something on Earth, it’s to help your road be swifter to the goal. I’m nearer than a close companion who is merely by you but doesn’t actually know what is really going on inside of you. And I actually care, because all that you do really does affect Me, and I have feelings and concerns and really do wish for the best for you—both now and in the way distant future.

PSALM 91

PSA.91:1 He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

Jesus says:

“The secret place” that is where you and I are alone together; a place that is just fit for two—you and I. It’s not a large meeting, or even a circle of friends, but where two alone can meet and exchange ideas, thoughts, and enjoy camaraderie. You have to be alone for this; alone in heart and mind, without other things filling your senses. Or even other people to distract yourself with.

That’s what is the trouble these days, when so many people are lonely. If they have no other earthly companion, then they don’t know how to alleviate the sorrow. They haven’t learned how to enter into a covenant, a private engagement, a closed circle friendship where only they and their God can meet. A private affair. When you can learn how to do this—how to shut out the rest of the world and acquaintances, and just be alone in friendship or in desperation, with your Lord, then you know how to enter into My secret place. I am always eager to have private encounters with you, for I know that is when you will tell Me your deepest secrets, your greatest fears, or your most earnest wishes in life.

I can talk you through the tough times of waiting; the long and patient waiting until some dreams become a reality.

But if you have not learned how to meet with Me, talking with Me personally and hearing My words of advice and counsel, then you are not going to be let in on My secrets. Those are only for those who walk with Me very closely, and are comfortable with being—and even would rather be—alone with God, more than alone with anyone else on this planet.

A fulfilling, a truly satisfying relationship can be enjoyed, with just you and I. For with Me on your side, it's a majority; a strong force, because I am stronger than anything else.

Maybe you are afraid, just a little bit, or perhaps a lot, to be alone with Me. You know things haven't been right in your heart, and you are a little ashamed, or fearful of the way I might deal with you and help you to change. Or perhaps there are things you don't think are quite on "God's approved list" of do's and don'ts, but you kinda like holding on to that one part of your life that you think is just part of you and what you always hope to be. So that might be keeping you from Me. But you don't realise how much I am hurting, deeply in My heart, wishing for you to become far more acquainted with Me. I wish you loved Me "more than these" as I said to Peter one time.

If you love Me more than all your great ideas, wishes, and personal dreams; if you love Me more than anyone else on planet Earth; if you love Me more than hiding your sins and failures from My eyes in an attempt to keep your pride and not have to be humbled before Me; if you love Me enough to be humble and be humbled, and to forsake anything that is keeping you from Me, then this is true love. This is what I honour with the greatest show of My affection and display of safekeeping. You can have the most treasures from My hands then, because you want Me the most.

Darling, doesn't it feel good when a man puts his arm around you and says, "I'm here for you, no matter what the weather; I'm here and will always be, because I love you too much to leave you, ever. There is nothing you can do that would make me want to depart from you, because you have shown me such a tender display of love, and I know you never want to leave my side."

So it is with the God of the universe and those who love Him and worship Him in spirit and in truth. They that love Him, more than fame, more than the glory this world tries to offer, more than dear fleshly acquaintances, it is they that get to have the greatest honour and love from God's heart. When God rewards someone for their well-doing, it's a grand thing. It's something you don't want to miss. But if you are childish and only reach for whatever looks shiny and nice or seems tasty and grab it quickly, without looking for the real things that will last, you will not only disappoint yourself, but I, the Lord, Your God and King, as well.

You have to look past what looks good, that is looks good to your Earthly senses, and your Earthly feelings too, that which builds your pride, and puffs you up as better than others. That is an earthly sense and it isn't a good way to judge if something is good or bad—on how it feeds your "I'm so good" feelings. You have to see if things rather make you more humble, and make you treat others better than yourself. If something makes you thirsty for the pure words of truth from God, then it's good. If something makes you weak in yourself so that you have to depend on the Lord who is your strength, and then greater occurrences and displays of My power can be shown to help you, this too is good. If something makes you feel hungry for the truth and wish to have more time getting acquainted with your Maker, Me, Jesus Christ, and not stop there until you get to know the secrets I have to share, and get to know Me, personally, then this is a good thing.

So are there things that do this for you? Make you humble, hungry and thirsty for the truth of God and His love manifested to you, and make you feel you are weak and helpless and faint and in great need of the empowerment of God? Then these are really what are the good things that are being offered to you. Take them, and get to know My strength through spending time in the secret place of fellowship. To those who come and get secret with Me, I will show the greatest displays of power, and give them the greatest help. These who really get to know Me, who come near to Me, who show Me tender love and who put their ear right to My whispering lips and listen intently, these will be granted the greatest power and protection. And you'll be glad to have it. It's too late to try to get the best gifts from Me when you are already in a tough situation because you went your own way. But if you have tried to take special time, close with Me daily, then you can simply ask for a big gift of help when you find yourself in a tight spot.

Difficult things are happening all around you, but I do have the answer and solution to each thing. Do you want the "great works" that I'm offering to My close disciples? Or do you want to only struggle through the "in the world ye shall have tribulation" part? Why not have the ultimate deal and get the extra help. Troubles are going to come one way or the other, but the level of God's power given to you and that is granted to you, coming to aid you and rescue you time and again, will be different according to how well you “Know your God” as it says in the book of Daniel.

So how do you get the greatest help and provision? Know Me. Become acquainted with Me. Forsake out of your heart whatever keeps you away from being real close to Me—whether it’s a idea, a hope, dream, wish, or a secret sin that you feel you must hide. Get these things out in the open and tell Me all about it. I know about it anyway. But still it’s good for us to talk about it, and then we can progress to the next stage of our relationship.

I love you and will hold you dear to My bosom in love, and will “thrust out the enemy” from before you. Secrets are for special friends, and so are the rarest and most treasured gifts.

Be acquainted with Me, and let Me pull off the veil that covers the secret place of the Most High and reveal secrets to you. And while you are there, the shadow, the protective covering, will be around you.

PSA.91:2 I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

Jesus says:

Who can say this of Me? Who can have the privilege of stating from experience, that I, their Lord, have saved them time and again? That I have sheltered them and provided them with a place of refuge? Those, and only those, who have come to know it; those who I have granted this protection to. And who are these? Well, if you are reading this, there is a good chance you are doing so because you love Me and wish to learn more about Me. And that is exactly who I give this special protection to.

And where is this “refuge” and “fortress”? Do you have to die and come into the realm of God, the Heavenly Kingdom of God in order to be really safe and well protected—is that what it’s talking about?

Well, if you see in the passage, it’s not talking about a place, but a person. I am the refuge and the fortress. So, all you really need is Me, and you can be anywhere, experiencing anything, and still be safe and protected.

What do I mean by safe? Does that mean you won’t get sick or hurt, ever in your life? It can’t possibly mean that, since life without those things would be rather challenge-free, and lesson-void. You do need the hard times; in fact that might be just what has driven you into the shelter and refuge—driven you right in to My arms the closest.

What I mean by “protected” is that you get extra help. I send teams of angels to keep you through the troubles. And most likely you will only get to experience a fraction of what others are going through. Maybe in the physical it might seem like you have your share of the same amount of “Job” troubles and tough days, but in your heart and mind where the worst troubles hit, you will have peace. You won’t be derailed altogether from accomplishing what I have sent you out to do. You won’t fall away trampling on your own faith in a stampede of terror, as you flee this way and that way only to see that you are surrounded by the forces of evil.

Instead, if you love and know Me, your God, you will have peace of mind, calmness of heart—even if some emotions do pop up now and again—and you will be, most of all, able to think clearly as the mind of God shows you what to do and how to behave and how to make it through the disaster or whatever you are facing. Day by day you will be given help—help that doesn't vanish all ills from the world around you, but that fortifies you, strengthens you, places a fortress of spiritual and even physical protection around you.

Then no matter where you go or are compelled to go, or what is happening around you, you are surrounded by a great, invisible, protective shield that only lets through what will be for your good or will compel you to do something for the good of others. All the rest won't touch you. That's what I mean by safe. Only what is deemed for your utmost good is allowed to get near you and affect you, and all the rest is kept from you. You will see and hear all kinds of evils and troubles, but you, yourself, won't be ill affected. You'll have God's power all around you, day and night.

But you have to stay inside, and stick close to Me. Don't go running out or you will find it's not so safe out there. You can't survive on your own. You do need Me to hold you, surround you, tell you what to do, and put the protective shield of My help from Heaven all around you. So ask for it. Come near with faith and talk to Me about your needs, your fears, the troubles you face. I can make the things you fear, simply not be an issue when you get to that part of the road.

Worried about the future—that is, something that isn't happening to you right here and now? Well, as they say “put it in My hands”, that is, let me tell My troops what to do to help you. You tell Me your need, and then I instruct care takers to aid you. It's as simple as that. And I do that for those who stay real close.

What does “close” mean? What stands in the way of you being close to something or someone? Is there a wall, an object, a threat of sickness, a large distance, a sea of water, a deep valley, a fierce animal on guard, a road with zooming cars, a rule or law that keeps you apart with a threat of punishment if you approach them? These are things that keep people separate, physically. Then there are the emotional and other reasons, like a custom or cultural habit, a feeling of anger, a hurt heart that doesn’t want to risk closeness, a feeling of being disliked, prejudice against a race or person type, preferences and things that offend, or a lack of forgiveness and a wrong that has been committed and people have not made things right again.

So what is keeping you apart from Me? Since I am in the spiritual realm, there is simply no barrier that keeps Me away from you. So what is keeping you from Me? Find out. Or ask Me if you wonder why you don’t have that closeness that I’m asking for in order to ensure the full protection that I wish to give you. Start with your heart, if you want to look and see what is keeping us apart. And it can be something new each day. Or is it a business with the things you think you need to do or should do, or even just want to do? Is it people pulling you this way or that way, or troubling you if you try to take a step closer to Me? Each day you have to brush aside, or even fight away vigorously whatever it is. I’m totally available and calling for you. But it might take a bit of effort on your part to make your way here, that is if you have stepped away for some reason. But just look to Me, hear My loving voice calling you to come closer, and let that spur you on to do so. And let your love for Me, and knowing of Mine for you, make you persevere until you come as close as possible to Me.

You'll know you are close, as close as I know is possible for you when I start to heal your wounds of the day's struggles, or I am able to let you in on a secret, something you didn't know before or even think of. Or perhaps My Words that you are reading start to take on greater meaning, and start to stir your heart. You know you are close to Me then. Or perhaps you feel a freedom of heart to tell Me things you would never tell anyone else, or just your very close friends. You know you are close to me then.

Have fortress time with Me. I have a nice room all set up in the castle of My protection. It's called the chamber of prayer. It's snug and you and I can talk freely, without any listening ears overhearing. And you can get all your love needs met. Your heart has needs too, you know? And I have all the nourishment it will ever need. I might use a verse to give it to you; or a loving deed from a friend that I inspire to feed your need for love and affection; or I might tell you something that cheers your heart. Or perhaps you'll get to see something or experience something that deeply inspires you and gives you the gust of wind to keep going. Whatever you need I know just the way to fill it. So come into the chamber room of prayer, and talk, and listen to Me. You are safe there, and I love having this time alone with you.

PSA.91:3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

Jesus says:

“It’s a trap!” I might warn you if you listen. There are many things and people around who might lure you to do or be this or that, just for the purpose of getting something from you. Traps surround you. But like any cleverly set ones, they don’t appear as such. An effective trap is one that is so disguised that the thing it’s trying to snare hasn’t a clue that it is a trap.

If you notice a trap, in plain view, it’s probably just a pretend one, so you can think you are all so clever to notice them, and are put into a false sense of security of mind.

“I can see traps, I can sense snares,” but that was the trap that got you to walk self confidently away, unprayerfully away, and fall right in to the hidden, well-set out one; the totally disguised trap set there to make you unmoveable, lacking freedom to preach and teach about Me.

Is there something that feels or seems right and even attractive to your senses, but it’s stopping you from doing what you are called to do?

Then that is a “snare of the fowler” as said in this passage.

Birds need to fly and be free, or they can’t do what they were created to do. A bird in a cage can’t do its job. And so is it with you, My dear ones. You won’t be able to do the tasks that I need you to do to make the world grow better—like birds do who help to spread seeds—if you are caged up.

Nets were often used to catch prey, and it's no coincidence that the name of the device that connects you to the thoughts of those around you in the world is "the net" in its short term. (Or the spider made type of net, "the web" that is likewise created to catch its prey, and only made to do so. That is a purpose of a web; and of the web likewise.)

That should make you aware and alert. It's there to catch you, if you don't watch out.

What else does this passage say? "Noisome pestilence". In one word: bothersome. Things that trouble you. And just like My Words heal, so do the words of the enemy bring ill health.

So there is a lesson in a nut shell, that if you get trapped by the world's network hosting so many thoughts and ideas that go against My thoughts and ways, you are going to get sick. And I don't just mean a little runny nose every now and then, but worse things too. It makes you mind sick, heart sick, emotion sick, and very, very ill physically too—especially when you start to follow any odd thing that is said. Watch out.

That's why people are finding out that they aren't feeling well when they are in contact with the rays of the electronic devices. This is to alert you that there is a real connection between the words and thoughts taken in to the mind, and the physical and mental wellness or lack of it that you suffer.

I didn't say to My disciples to be fish for men to catch, but to be the fishers, the ones out to capture them and bring them out of the waters of the world. So it is with you, you aren't to be the ones caught in the excitement and lures of the attractions in the world or on the net, but you are to be the ones fishing, using the net if need be. Don't let it catch you; use it at times, but then go a step further, and take those fish you catch and feed them in a nice fish farm away from the cold deep waters where all kinds of creatures are trying to eat up those little nice fish. Bring them to a pool of safety, teach them My Word, let them grow big and strong, and learn to swim swiftly.

Can you do this for Me? Not let yourself get caught by someone else's net and be dragged down into the water, but rather stand there on guard, looking for the hungry fish who are about to be a meal for the greedy large water-lurking creatures, and use your net to rescue them.

The pools they can then swim in and be fed in—the things you place on the net for their benefit—will be safe and refreshing.

Don't let the world pull you down into it, but rather rescue and pull others out, and feed them the Word of God.

PSA.91:4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Jesus says:

The Mama bird doesn't want the little baby to wander off, and to get caught in the "snare of the fowler" like the verse above says. Instead, she wants to give it a nice and warm, snug place where it will be safe.

My Spirit comforts and guards, keeps you safe, and teaches you. Like a mother with a little baby bird, you are kept under God's special wings.

But if the little one doesn't listen and wanders out, it's going to be no good.

And what keeps you safe and sheltered? The Truth of God, the Word of God. I am the Word of God. I am the way, the truth, and the life. And I said I wanted to draw all men unto Me and be as close and safe as chicks with the mama hen.

It's the truth that comes from God that keeps you safe. The words of the world will catch you and trap you and harm you, and have you for breakfast. Ugh! I am disgusted about it. When the words of the enemy drain you of life and liberty and refreshment, and use up your strength and your will to fight, and you feel you have just been tricked into something and feel very weak--that is what happens when the world's ideas have surrounded you and taken advantage of you, making use of you for the evil one's gain.

But rather, My Words feed you, nourish you, protect you, and surround you with loving kindness.

This can only happen for those who want to be real nice and close to Me, who don't even want to look the way of the world and its luring attractants. Those wise ones who say that I am enough for them, and only go here or do that according to My wise and caring instructions, these will be safe. I'll never have you go very far in your mission. I'll keep you where you will be easily protected by Me.

The little feathered creature needs to trust that it's best to stay close to its father and mother, and not think it can survive in the world without care. Here is where the right food, good for its growth, will be offered. Here is where the parent will trouble anything that comes near to harm or steal away the little ones. Here is where they will be cuddled and tenderly treated. Here is where they will be warm. No, they might not get to just run wild, and attempt to fly before their wings even grow. No, they might not get to hang out with any of the creatures they think look interesting—like the dog and cat. No, they might not get to see what is on the other side of the big land area, just yet, and need to be content to be just where they are. But this really is the best place.

So it is and will be with you. The closer you stay, and the more truth you surround yourself with, the happier and safer and inspired you will be. You will have the best growth, and won't be caught and stolen away while you are young.

I'm the big protector, and truth is the shield. Those who feed on lies can't be safe. For lies are like predators and they devour those who come close out of curiosity. But truth doesn't devour. Truth shields and protects from that which harms you. However, if you choose to walk out and away, to take a taste and glimpse at what I say isn't safe, you will get bitten, and it might take a very long time until the pain of the enemy's bites finally stop. I can take you again under My wings and keep you safe after you got bitten, but you won't be all snug and cheery and playful for quite some time. You will be injured and it won't be fun for you, or the others, and certainly not for Me.

That is why I say, surround yourself with truth, stay close to Me, and don't, out of curiosity, go wondering off and away just to see what it's like over in some other place, nibbling on this or that, whatever you find and see, or the next thing that will happen is that you will be seen and be the nibble for a predator.

Stay close, listen to Me, and be shielded from the harm and cold wind, and troublemakers.

Did you take in God's Truth today? Did you have a good meal at Jesus' delightful cafeteria—I've got the best things to tell you, and none of them will change you for the worse, or make you handicapped, like the evil foods around—Satan's words of luring will bring unwellness to your soul.

Feed and feast on the Word of God. This will be your best protection.

Because I'm telling you the traps being set are multiplied, more than ever before. You'll need to stay closer to Me than ever before. You can't do or see or read or partake of just anything, just because it seems good to your earthly senses. Those traps are set to appeal and look safe to you when you check them out briefly. But that's what makes them so dangerous. The danger is undetected. Only by running back to be under My wings and letting Me explain things will you be safe. In constant communication with Me is the safe way; the truth I tell you that shields you, warms you, and protects you so you can keep growing and learning—all the right things and in all the right ways. I love you. Did you snuggle and listen to Me today? A bed is a great nest for us to be in. I'll feed you all that is best, and you can rest safe from the troubles that surround.

Great peace have they which love My Words. I the Lord your God will hold your right hand, saying unto you, "Fear not. I will help you." Come unto Me, all ye that labour, and I will give you rest."

PSA.91:5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

PSA.91:6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

Jesus says:

The key words in this verse say, “not be afraid”. It’s not saying that none of these terrible or bad things will ever happen to you or around you at some time, or to your friends or loved ones. But it’s the fear that needs to not take hold.

Once people are afraid of something, you can then control them. Just like an animal being trained, they’ll do what their master wants so they don’t get a whack, so can people afraid of being hurt in some way and be corralled to go here and do that, or not to do something.

It’s a tactic the enemy can use to motivate people—fear. And I am always telling My followers not to listen to the voice of the enemy, and heeding a feeling of fear in times of persecution or in times of troubles is like listening to the enemy’s voice. That is picking up on the wrong signals and operating according to that.

Say someone is being directed to reach a certain goal—be it a mountaintop, or where to find a secret hidden treasure, or how to escape the land they are in due to danger. They have a radio, and are being talked to, telling them where to go. Yet, what if someone was afraid of them reaching their goal and wanted to cause them trouble. Let’s call that person the “enemy”, because they are trying to interfere and stop the person. What if the “enemy” had a way to also get messages through on the radio, and said things that would confuse and delay or stop the mission completely, if listened to.

If these bad radio messages had a name, “fear” would be one of the signals that threatened to throw this person off course or hinder him reaching the goal. The messages might say all kinds of things to get the person to fear. Or maybe it’s a radio with a video playing, and the person sees all kinds of bad images of what might happen if he continues, just to bring fear and to control or to stop him.

Of course there will be troubles and tribulations and hard times, sickness, falls, storms and bad weather as this traveller makes his way to his goal. And that’s why he’ll need to be getting all the right and the best signals and instructions to help him make his way safely. He doesn’t need to, on top of it all, also be getting the fear put into his mind and heart.

So, as you go through your life, reaching the goals I give you to reach for, or even just trying to make it through your day happy and safe, without too much damage, you need to “not fear” and be like Paul who said, “none of these things move me”. The fear of troubles that may happen or that you are in the middle of might move you to do something unwise. So you need to constantly be checking in with Me, the one who can see everything—not only everything around you, but all that came before and all that will happen in your future. I can and will tell you the wisest moves; when to halt, and when to go forward; when to rest and when to run fast. I know what the weather is going to be like—that is the mood of the world and people around you. I know when you are going to fall—that is make blunders and mess things up, and I will have all the right remedies handy and ready to help you fix things or to get healed and have the will to keep on afterwards. I can see it all, and I know just what you need.

Just because something bad or difficult seems to be happening to you, doesn't mean you are off the track and have fallen in to a trap. Sometimes that might happen, due to your choices. But don't assume the right way will be trouble free. I do allow these things to test your confidence in My Words. It's like a contests, like a hurdle to jump over. "Who can make it past such-and-such a trouble and not be weary and afraid, but still keep listening to Me and make it over and around victoriously."

Those who do have the faith to walk through the troubles and listen to Me telling them how to survive, or what they are to learn through it, or who they are to try to help while enduring it, these are overcomers. These are greatly rewarded.

Be wise, and don't just look at all the troubles that will continue to surround you and your family. But listen carefully to My instructions leading through and around and out of them.

And if someone falls and is hurt by the world's troubles, if they know Me, then they are safe in My arms. And if they didn't choose My way, then they too are under My watchful eye, and will get what they need.

Those who are not afraid will do whatever I say to do. But those bound with fear will only do what their human reactions will allow. But those that trust in Me can ask Me to do the impossible for them. They can ask for miracles and trust that I can do anything.

Stay close to Me, so I can shield you, guard you and keep you safe. I know you all want a very nice and pleasant life on Earth, and one day I'll make it so. But for now it's going to be somewhat turbulent as so many have chosen to go the way of the enemy. So for now they are being allowed their rebellious deeds, and troubles keep coming to them, and to others, to give people a chance to stop and think. I want things to be bad enough at times that people, those worthy of saving from the dangers who aren't altogether wicked, will realise that they need Me and will call out to Me.

If a nice peaceful life made them go their own selfish and proud ways and miss getting their ticket to Heaven, then if when I trouble the wicked and the others do get touched with some of the hard times and it makes them want to call upon God, this is a good thing. I just wish they did. I want to be able to say at the end of their days, when they see what they miss out on, "I really, really tried" and they will be able to say, "I know; I was foolish not to turn to you; I was wrong". I don't want people to say, "Why, God, didn't you alert me to the danger I was in, spiritually?"

So when I do allow hard times to shake up the wicked, and to chastise the righteous to get them more fervently serving and following Me, it also works as an alarm for the wayward wanderers who don't know what end is up and haven't yet made up their mind. It helps people to call out to Me and thus get their name written in Heaven.

So listen to Me and let Me guide you through the troubles. And if you do get a bit hurt, I'll heal you and make it so that it was good in the end, and helped you reach your goals faster, or find an extra treasure along the way that would have been missed, if all had gone perfectly nice every day of your life.

PSA.91:7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

Jesus says:

You are going to see a whole lot of death and destruction around you in the world, for it is a battle zone of right against wrong, of good against bad, of light against darkness. It gets messy with so much scuffling going on—mostly in the minds and hearts of mankind, and then things get played out in the form of lack of love that causes death and destruction, and just plain evil that works against the way of God.

But you don't have to play a part in the evil, and you don't have to be a casualty either. Because you can escape the tempter's snare through the Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven. You can bind evil for a time, and loose angelic hosts that are set and ready to go at the voice of your call for My help.

Just don't lose sight of the real goal, of what you are called there to do. You are to loose the prisoners who are bound in the pit of despair and who are without hope. Will you do that for Me? In order to do that, you yourself need to realise that there is hope, there is a God who cares, and there is a Satan that has done all that he can to keep people looking down and staying down in the muck of his ideas and stuck in his way of doing things.

Will you get people to look up to Heaven? To know that there is a way up, a path that has been carved out for them with the water of God's Word, the Word made flesh. When I came to Earth it was to make a pathway to Heaven, and all you need to do is take it.

Now, if you'd rather stay in the pit of despondency and go nowhere but further down, then it's going to be messy and very sad for a whole lot of people, and for Me, your Lord and Maker especially, as I gave My all to carve out a pathway.

I, the Word of God, was rained down from Heaven, came to Earth, and washed over the land to make a roadway. The water of God, that is Me in the form of Jesus Christ in person on Earth, was then evaporated, that is when I ascended up to the Heaven. I went into an invisible state, like water returning to the sky again, drawn by the power of the sun—like God who is the light. But I do visit you each day, like dew on the ground, I the water of God's Word, continue to refresh you. My Spirit, God's Spirit, keeps refreshing the land.

So will you help people to see that the pathway to Heaven has been carved and all they need to do is walk on it? There are still refreshing pools along the way. It's not only a dry dirt path, but there are plenty of sources of water along the pathway. That is like the Word of God that is in written form left there for all to read, and the fresh Word of God that speaks to those walking on their way to Heaven.

On one side of the path, your path of following Me, there might be all kinds of sources of death, and on the other side all kinds of means of destruction, but they won't pull you off of the path and ruin your journey as you keep walking straight on the pathway that I made for you.

You have to keep looking straight ahead, to the goal of where you and the others are to go, so you don't get scared about what is going on around you. That's why it's far more important to look to the Word of God—like drinking the refreshing pools of water that I left on the pathway of God that leads to Heaven—than to always know all the evil that is going on through the media that is very eager to make it all sound so big and bad.

Things are big and bad and will keep getting so, for both the wicked and for the undecided. I want them to take notice that there is a clear and safe pathway that they could be walking on. I want you to attract them to this pathway and point them in the right direction. Okay? Will you? It's very important to Me that you do.

PSA.91:8 Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

Jesus says:

You are going to see a whole lot of bad things, near and far, both while you are on Earth, and later on too, when God's righteous judgements are poured out on the wicked. Even the final burning of the planet to cleanse it is going to be intense. But the goodness of the Lord, the glory of God, the joy that awaits those who are loyal to their Lord and Saviour, to Me, Jesus, will be so lovely that it will wipe away all tears. Just looking at the presence of God's love and the displays of it all around, will soothe the jarring affect that seeing the punishments will have.

You'll be oh so glad then that you are nestled under My sheltering protective shield; that you chose the way of God, and did whatever He asked you to do.

To those who chose God's way, then the "reward" is going to be something altogether different. You'll be laughing instead of crying. You'll be dancing and singing, rather than weeping and wailing. You'll be eating and dining, rather than hungering and thirsting, like those who hungered after the wrong things will be.

Don't you want the sunshine and smiles type of rewards? When judgements begin to fall, and the powers of Satan are crushed and brought to a fall, you'll really want to be on the "good side" of God, not on the side of His wrath poured out.

Those whose names are written in the Book of Life, God's record of all who have lived and get to keep living eternally, will be sealed with a marking that shows they on the side of right, the righteous God and want nothing to do with the kingdom of darkness and all its evil doings. Being sealed with God's protection doesn't mean that the Devil won't try to harm you, or even that God will keep your life as a pure fantasy of nothing but joy rides, but what it means is that you are set apart and separated and won't be given the really tough times that go to those on the opposing side. Like being in a battle, you might be having a tough time, but at least you aren't on the wrong end of what is being blasted out on the wicked.

And the time of healing will be so long and so beautiful, all tears will be washed away, and joy will be yours. Rewards will be handed out to each and every single being that God ever made. Just what type of reward people get is in many cases up to their choices and whose side they are on.

But you don't have to wait until the final days to get the joys I wish to give you—including special protection in times of trouble. Nor do the evil ones have to wait for all of their payment for their crimes against the Kingdom of God and His children. In their lifetime while on Earth there will be bad things that come to them, both as a punishment, as well as a deterrent, to try to get them to change.

“But if they will not obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation” as I said. (Jeremiah 12:17)

So, there is a whole lot more destruction on the horizon, but you who know and love Me will get special protection and loving care by My arms and hands that will be there for you. The harder things get—as you read in the Bible—the closer you are getting to the joy that awaits you, and the abolishing of the evil forces that are trying to win, but never will.

I'll hold you then in My arms, feed you at My table, give you to drink from the water of Life, and bring you to meet the Father and the Spirit, and Me of course as well, in My glorified form. Wouldn't you like to see that and to be near us?

You will be, if you've walked the road to Heaven. I will heal all your hurts and you will know joy unspeakable.

Just a little time longer, and the times will be changed. The Kingdom of God will reign over all.

I love you and will provide for you, even when trouble surrounds. For lo, I am with you always.

PSA.91:9 Because thou hast made the LORD, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

PSA.91:10 There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

Jesus says:

I will and can keep you through any danger. I can keep you through all hardships. You may be going through tough times like everyone else, but you won't crumble and fall and give up, because I am supporting you.

To not have any troubles isn't that much of a testimony of My power, but having them and rising above—that is not letting the bad times end your service for Me or even your life—is a great testimony of God's saving power.

Just think. Is it more of a sample of how I can help you if you are in a situation where food is abundant and you have all that you need? Or if you are in situation where food is scarce and you pray and God provides wonderfully for you, or makes you not need it and gives you the strength. People around you who are suffering will take note that you have something, or rather someone that they need; someone who can help them out when no other human can; someone that can reach them when they are out of reach of anyone else.

So when you are connected to Me, and I have jobs for you to do, if you are brave and you have My emergency help, you can literally go through anything, and help bring people along to My Kingdom as you go through life.

I know you are afraid of pain, or afraid others might scare you into doing something against My will and it will displease you. Perhaps you are also afraid that you will feel bad towards Me, or feel hurt about the things I allow, and it might make you not feel as close to Me. You think that if you were always having a good time it would make our relationship all that much stronger.

But just like I can change all the bad things into good things for My glory and to make all people realise that I love them, so can I also change your hurt and sad feelings into feelings of awe and wonderment, when you see how clever I was, how thoughtful and what a thoroughly designed plan was in place. Don't feel bad if you have less than ideal feelings when you hit times that make you cry. Just keep saying you know I do all things well, and then fight the attacks of the enemy as well. For all things, I say, will work together for good—even the hard to experience feelings.

Does a parent love his child less just because the child doesn't understand something the parent has to do to help him, and they get a bit bugged or bothered at the parent? Does the parent know that it's hard for the child, and it's normal to misunderstand. But the parent does what is best, and knows that later on the child will understand that it really was all for his good.

So if you fall, that is have your feelings go down and are less than joyful through the hard times, know that I understand even that, and see past it as well. Just keep coming back to Me and hold Me near to your heart. Ask Me in faith for the Keys of Heavenly insight, so you can get a clearer picture and reason for having to go through the difficulties. But even if you don't know it yet, rest assured that all will indeed work out well for those who love Me and are trying their best to follow Me.

I won't take anything away from you that isn't for your good; nor will I give you something hard to bear that isn't also for the good of many. Trust that I know all things, and will work for your good, all day long, all throughout your life.

PSA.91:11 For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

PSA.91:12 They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

Jesus says:

Just like you have caretakers in the physical realm who look after you, loved ones, parents, siblings, and so forth, so do I send help in the unseen realm, for there is much that needs caring for to keep you alive and going well.

There is more that you can't see that is keeping all humanity running along, than the nature that you can see. There is a vast and unseen realm that has so many aspect to it, and part of the job is keeping Earth on God's time table, fighting the enemy, rescuing lost and hurt people, whispering instructions into people's ears, and so forth.

There are angels of healing, of compassion, of help in all sorts of ways. It all remains, for the most part, unseen. That is so that you can focus on your studies. Yes, life is a learning grade, and you need as few distractions as possible. You need to focus on loving others, and learning how to hear from Heaven; besides all kinds of other things.

Perhaps if you could see the vast amounts of angelic hosts and beings, and see how active they are, you'd be tempted to sit back and not do a thing. "Let them take care of it," you might want to say. But there is much that you, fallible and weak humans, are meant to do; things that only you are permitted to do, that angels aren't. They aren't to reach the world with the message of the Gospel, in person, "going into all the world" like My disciples were commissioned to do. But you might be tempted to sit back and relax if you got to see how many of them surround a certain human being. You might think they are going to do the job of telling them the Good News of the Gospel.

But that is what you, primarily, are called to do—people are to minister to people, not just to so called, "leave it up to God". Yes you can get lots of help from Heaven, and you need it too. But when there is work that you must do, then you, just like the angels that surround you, need to do what you have been commissioned to do. You are to warn of the dangers of not following in God's ways. You are to open your mouth to tell the Good News. You are to speak the Words of life, and so forth. Or what are you there for? Obviously it's not a comfortable life for most people, so the goal isn't to have a pleasant and easy time. You are there to preach the Gospel, or the Good News about My gift of Salvation, and to get people to read and study and live by the principles in My Word.

I give angels galore to help out, but you aren't supposed to see them, most of the time, or you'd get lazy and leave it all up to them. Ask Me about what you are meant to be doing each day, and then do it with vigour. Then, when you see you just can't do it and need My help—which it will seem like most of the time—then ask for reinforcement of Heaven to aid you, and I'll send you just what is needed.

You are never alone, though much of the time it might seem like it, when you look around. Even if you aren't alone in the physical you might feel alone in heart or in goal. But know that if you are doing My work and doing it in My way, there are tons of helpers ready to help each of My children. It's a time of intense darkness in the world right now, and the more light you have the better. Light in your heart and mind, and light from Heaven to help you fight.

Keep going and don't give up. If you feel weary, please know that there is all the help you need ready for the asking. Hold on to Me, and let me hold you in My arms, and in the arms of the Spiritual aides that will get you through the tough spots. I love you.

PSA.91:13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

Jesus Says:

I love you and want to be near you always, but sometimes I can show you this through a scary time when you really need My help. If there were no sudden needs at a time when no one was there to help you out, you wouldn't know how I am present help in time of trouble. If there was nothing around to make you feel frightened, you'd never know what it means to have faith in Me no matter what. If you never had any needs, or were never hungry, you wouldn't discover how I can satisfy and give you all that you need.

So sometimes it's through the wants and woes that you get to see just what I am like and what I can do.

There are scary and dangerous animals, and people, and even spirits that cause trouble. However, with Me you can have the power to overcome and to be safe in any circumstances.

Don't worry that something will overcome you, just look to Me to give you the Keys to victory. I just want you to ask. When you do ask in faith, then I can do some things that will really surprise you and amaze you. I'm very near and am eager to help you, always.

Is there something you particularly really dislike, or that causes you emotional disturbance just thinking about it? Is there something you hope to never encounter, or never have to meet again, if you have had an encounter with it? Tell Me about it, all about it. Tell Me how you feel and what you wish I would do for you to spare you the trouble and heart ache.

Never think that just because it seems nothing can be done, or something seems for sure, that it will be. I can change anything to meet any need or requirement. Just like you are learning in your photo and video programs. If you can change any picture or video to be a certain way, changing the settings, don't you think I can change the way things are in your life, or the way you think it might be? I can put on new settings, feelings, appearances, delete things from the picture of your life, and add new things, put different effects and so on.

Your life is a video that I am not only watching, but am interacting with you on as well. It's like we are making this video, this real life video, together. Of course I have the most control on what goes on, but if you have a suggestion or a wish, or a fear you need wiped out, ask Me. I can select new features and colour schemes—that is I can change things to make them easier for you to manage, or take certain things away completely.

I love working with you to make the show of your life the best, with all the right material, arranged in the right way, and most of all having a great and happy ending, one that makes sense to you and others who get to see what happened in the course of your life.

PSA.91:14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

Jesus Says:

If you love Me, you'll keep My commandments. And what are one of the things that I have told you to do? To go out and spread the good news of the Gospel with many others. Are you doing that? Then you are eligible for the gifts that come with fulltime obedience.

What do you wish for? Is it a nicer dwelling place, or a place to call home here on Earth? Or perhaps you wish for better health, or for the healing of a loved one. Perhaps you have a hurt in your heart that you haven't been able to get fully over and you are wondering if or when it will heal and you will never feel that hurt in your heart or mind again about it.

Well, the first step to getting answers to your prayers and needs and wishes has always been to make obeying Me your number one priority. If you want it to please Me to do something you are longing for, have you done or are you wishing to do what I have asked you to do? When you take care of that—or are trying to do that day what you can--then you can come to Me with your needs list.

But I'll look at it with eyes of love and see what the real needs is. Some things you might want will actually make things harder for you in the long run. You really don't see far enough ahead to know what will or will not be the best. So you have to trust that any requests you make that seem to get turned down, are only done so because I have a better and more far reaching solution.

If you are obeying My Word I will hear your prayers and act on them in some good way. However, if you only want your will to be done on Earth, then things aren't going to work out so smoothly, and you'll be somewhat, or quite a bit, frustrated. So when you "cast your burdens" on Me, please know that I will only do that which won't let more and unnecessary burdens to be put on to you in return. And also, check your heart and mind, and even your to do list, if you have written things down, to see if you have also done, to the best of your ability, what I am wanting you to do.

It will be a lovely two-way street. I will listen to you and give the best of things to you, if you will listen to Me and give Me your best. Okay?

Try to be patient, for not every good thing can come right at the second you ask for it. Time is needed, even if it gets the clearance to be given to you. I love you and will only do what is best for you, every day of your life.

Do you need to be delivered and set free of something the enemy has entangled you with or is trapping you with? I am the best solution for that. But first of all you have to want to do whatever it takes to be set free. If I say it takes singing songs of praise, then you best do that. It's like a code that gets pushed and certain notes and frequencies open the lock. I tell you what will set you free and you'll get victory as you do it. Perhaps I say it takes asking others to pray for you, repeatedly until the full victory is yours. Maybe it takes getting to work and working hard, not being lazy anymore in a certain area, and finally doing what I have called you to do. Get up and do what I tell you is the key to victory in that given situation—or lie back and rest in My arms, if that is what it takes. Different times call for different codes of victory to bring release from a weighty trouble. Do what I say, and you will be set free.

And you can know that it's good, whatever I tell you, if you know that it's because I love you. There is no other motive in My heart or in My mind. I simply want the best for you, and will do My best to bring the best in your life. I'm willing to go through any pain or hurt in order to make things best for you. You know I will because I have proved it by My sacrifice, for you and for everyone else too. So you know that a whole lot of love is in My heart, and I will never ask that you do something that won't be what is best for you.

Keep snug by Me and I will keep holding you firm and safely through the winds and struggles of life. "Great peace have they which love My law." That's where it all starts, loving the Word of God, and putting it into action by faith. "Peace I leave with you." When all is said and done, at the end of the life-on-earth program I've put you and so many through, there will be peace, long term and wonderful peace.

PSA.91:15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

Jesus says:

I will be with you in trouble. You are never alone. I'm with you. I'm not afraid of hardship or pain, or times of struggle. I get right in there with you and help you lift the load. I'm not someone who pampers themselves, looking for all the easiest and smooth ways. I'm not into making things better just for Myself, as tempting as it might be—and as it was for the fallen one who chose that. But instead I choose a different way. I choose to have nothing to do with pride and selfishness. I choose to humble Myself and walk with you and feel what you are going through and help you to keep the faith and hold up your head high. I want you to look up and out and over, not down and in and backwards and off to the side.

I help you to look straight ahead and to keep on going. I help you to look up to your help from Heaven. I help you to look to the God of your life. For it is then that you can find relief.

How do you look up? What if you can't get outside? Is that the "up" that it's talking about?

No. The "up" is to the right way, to seeing things from God's way of viewing things.

What if you were in an airplane flying over some rocky mountains, what might you describe the view as? Would what you said you saw be different than what a man stuck down in three meters of snow on the mountain say that he saw? You are talking about the same mountains, but the view will be vastly different depending on where you are.

So it is with seeing things from God's much higher, full-range view of a situation. "Look up" might mean asking for My view point on a situation and letting it change your feelings and your reactions and actions. Imagine that there is a great big mirror and when you look up to the sky you get to see the aerial view of the whole area, something you can't see from where you are standing.

The Bible says that God's Word can be like a mirror, so listening to the way God sees things can be like looking up and seeing the image in the mirror of Heaven. You'll get a different view and it might show you a cool path to take; something you didn't know was just beyond the mountain that seems to be blocking your way.

Look up, that is see things the way I, your Lord and God and creator, want you to see things. It will help to point the way to the next place to go. Look up and get God's way of seeing things, and through it you will know where to go.

PSA.91:16 With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

Jesus says:

Today, some people might not think that living a real long time is necessarily a good thing. As you can see, the world has changed, and people's view on living long has changed as well. Even life expectancy with new health concerns has changed.

Some people might think that to “live long” they might make it all the way up to 100 years old. Other think that if they actually make it all the way to 40, now that is a verry long time to live.

But others, like you, might think you won’t even need to die, given the world’s condition, and the possibility of living right up to My return. Your life would then just blend with one and lead nearly seamlessly into the next life, and on you will go for eternity, if that is the way it plays out.

I’m not saying you will, but just showing that there is a very big difference in people’s views.

When the “sweet psalmist” as King David was also called, wrote this, he meant that he’d wanted to live out his full life, whatever God had planned for him. And this is what I was promising or offering. He didn’t want his life to be cut off before time was up, like I had to do for those who didn’t listen and kept going down their own rebellious paths, wreaking troubles for anyone else along the way.

He wanted to live to see and do all that he was meant to, before the rest and time of silence fell, and he’d get to or have to wait for his resurrection of body.

So if you want to also live as long as you were created to be living—and each person there on Earth has a different plan and schedule for their life—then you need to dwell in the presence of the Lord your God and King, for that is where newness of life is.

Live with God, and let Him dwell in you—in your thoughts, and heart, and be made manifest in all you do. What are you doing that is showing God to others? That is what He is looking for. If you aren't showing Him and His ways, His love, His methods, His feelings and so forth, then things are going to get worse, and you certainly won't enjoy living out your life. But if you live in the presence of the Lord your God, absorbing His thoughts and nature, you are going to live out your full potential. That's not to say things won't challenge the plan of your life. Choices might come that tempt you to end things or to go astray from what is really the best. But you've got to keep looking upstairs and getting a renewed vision. God's got it all planned out and will work to make things the best for you, and to make it as easy as possible for you to live out what He's really hoping you will.

It may seem like things just go from hard to harder, but really, some of those things that you think are hard, actually play out in your life to make things easier for you in other ways. Does a young child cry because they fell when learning to walk? But do they want to learn to walk anyway? So they keep trying. It's hard at first, but boy does it make things a whole lot easier in the long run, right? If they could never walk, or chose to never do so, just so they wouldn't get hurt, it would cause them an enormous amount of difficulty and heartache too.

So just because you fall a few times and get scuffed up when walking on the road God placed you on, don't think it's all bad, but rather it's something that is planned to make things better for you, a whole lot better for you, in the long run.

PSALM 100

PSA.100:1 Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all ye lands.

(Jesus says:) I love the sounds you make, all kinds of sounds, that show pleasure or rejoicing. Shouting and cheering is one joyful sound. Singing is another. Words of encouragement to someone who did something special for you is another sound I love hearing. There are lots of ways to express something that you really appreciate or are happy about.

The sounds I greatly dislike are those that, in essence, are “booing” or putting down those who are doing good. Sounds of despair, of giving up hope, and making others feel there is no hope. Sounds that echo the voice of the destroyer and his lies. Songs that bring you and others down is a real ugly sound that gets me angry and upsets me, and makes me feel sad and missing the presence of your spirit coming closer to Me.

Sounds transport you and others up or down, forward or backward, over or under, moving or settling into a stop. The sounds you make with your mouth, whether they be words or other audible ones that express feelings and likes and dislikes, move you and others in some direction. I like the ones that move you up and over, forward and towards Me; that head you in My direction.

What did you say to day? What did you write about or express? Did you know that thoughts put out a sound to Me, the sound and feel of your heart? I can hear what you think; I can see what you feel. It’s a full sensory experience for Me. I can even smell and taste what you are thinking.

When you think thoughts, it's like putting something on the table for me at a meal time. I can see it, smell it, taste it, and yes, hear the sound your heart is making. What do you want to feed Me with today? What you think and what you say will be detected in every way possible—and in some ways that are not possible to humans, for I am God and can do and experience things in ways that you can't.

So, make a “joyful noise”. This is the most inspiring one of all, the sounds of praise, showing that you are happy with the things I have done for you and what I will yet do, if things are hard at the moment. You know, things don't have to be all perfect for you to make a praiseful sound, because there are things I have don't in the past that I am still awaiting to hear a joyful sound expressing gratitude for. So if things are hard now and you really don't like what is happening, then ask Me to remind you, or just think for a moment about something I have done and am doing for you that you haven't yet properly thanked Me for, and catch up with that. And if you can't think of anything, then praise Me with a joyful sound for what is going to happen later for “those who love God, those who are the called” and how I'll make all things work out together for good.

The world is professional at coming up with new words and expressions—or just using old ones in new ways—in order to express displeasure. Did you ever try to think up and utilise new words that express a good feeling? I have lots of words I can give you that will make a verbal exclamation and emphasise something great that I have done. When people say bad words that express their anger, hurt, dislike and displeasure, realise that there is an opposite way, and something that My children need to do instead. Whatever happens in the World, there is a better way I want you to do things. When I keep you from an accident, do you let out a new word of verbal thanks? Something You know I'd like to hear; something that gets your praise bones moving? Ugly words seem to pop out at as many opportunities as possible in the worldlings mouths, cause they are always looking at the wrong and hurtful things that seem to keep happening to them. But My children can be looking always for the good that I am always pouring out to them, and fun words, happy words, praiseful words, words of admiration and rejoicing can pop out all throughout the day.

Be known for your words of joy, in place of sorrow or discouragement. Here are some expressions in use today, and maybe I'll give you new ones, better ones. If your heart is eager to "make a joyful noise" then new words and good sounds will come. "Oo, la la!" "Smart move" "Yippy!" "Oh, yea!" "Super duper." "It rocks!" "Hooray" "Wonderful" "Far-out" "No way!" "Great" "Yes!" "Awesome". "All right!"

PSA.100:2 Serve the LORD with gladness: come before his presence with singing.

(Jesus says:) Unlike some people's impressions of Me, Your God and Lord, Saviour, Redeemer and Commander, I actually really want you to be happy! And I know the best ways to bring this about. Sometimes you do have to go through hard times and things that you very much dislike, but it's all so that you can be very very happy when the good starts to roll in.

There is so much you can and should be very, very happy about. But it's human nature to look to the more outstanding things that tend to bring you down. But realise that if you are noticing something that isn't great about your life or work or those you are living with, that it's because there is so much else that is good. Things only stand out when they are surrounded by the opposite. So if you notice something bad, it must be because there is good all around; good that you have perhaps grown accustomed to and are no longer rejoicing over.

If all were black—as black and tough as the enemy likes to trick you into thinking that they are—then you actually wouldn't be able to notice a dark mark or black blemish. But if you see something that hurts you, it must be that most of the time nothing is hurting you, and that's why it stood out to you. Remember that the next time you are bothered and are seeing more minuses than pluses in life.

Get your focus off the spot on the white wall, and look at the whole big area that is good, like a white wall keeping you from the wind and weather. Not everyone has a wall, a place to call home, a warm and protected place. So even if yours has a bit of mud on it, at least you have one, and it must be white or you wouldn't notice the dark. So it is if something seems rather dark and unpleasant to you, remember that it's framed and surrounded by much good that you are very grateful for, that others don't have.

I like to see you glad. You don't have to display your displeasure just to try to get Me to have sympathy and give more to you. In fact, it may make the opposite happen. Instead of a blessing I might give a correction or let the enemy do it, as it often happens when grumbling sets in. I can't bless you as I'd like to, when you aren't "entering into My presence with thanksgiving", (as verse 4 says).

So if you want more from My hand, then sing, praise, and exclaim the goodness of God—this will inspire me to do more and more. But if only grumbles are coming out of your mouth and sounding in your heart, this makes me contrive ways to get to you to stop and to look and to once again be happy.

See, if giving you abundant good things doesn't do it, and you still are unhappy, since I really do want you to be happy and living in love and joy together with Me, then there are other ways—and sad ways to do it. But it sometimes works better to give you hard times first, then it makes you appreciate what you had and still have all along. You really rejoice then when something is given back or restored, like health and friends, and all sorts of things.

But if you can be joyful and have a reaction of praise, first off, it might save you a world of trouble.

See what you can rejoice about today. And then come before Me telling Me about it. You'll probably find that in My hands is another gift ready to give to you, because you entered into My gates with praise, and with a song in your heart and on your lips. And things just get better from there.

PSA.100:3a Know ye that the LORD he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves.

(Jesus says:) The first lesson to be learned in the school of life is that you belong to your Maker—and that you even have a Maker, someone you came from, that you proceeded from. You didn't just happen, or exist suddenly. And better yet, aren't just going to vanish into a non-existent form. I made you, and this life, and you need to know that as step one, lesson one, first class of the day, first training period.

Lesson one: God is. God makes. God made me.

Then, if you know that, you can go on to more complicated lessons of life, like learning to love even when you don't feel like it. Or learning to share and give, even if you don't have all that you'd like to have yet for yourself. Or learning to forgive what others do that bother you, and so forth.

If you don't first have the lessons learned of Me, as your Lord, Creator, and God, you won't be able to take the next steps of learning to love others, because you won't know what real love is.

Real love is having and caring for children. That is a giving; a total giving. You give of your time and attention and concern. Your whole life then is based on what good you can do for them, how you can give them the best start in life. And that is what it is like for the One God who made you. I am constantly thinking about how to make things better and enrich the lives of those I have created.

Yes, I do have a whole lot of children, and I need each one too. Each one has a purpose and reason for existing—or I wouldn't have created them. It's not like a thing or a piece of food, but a living soul lives on and has on going needs, like a child. I made each one knowing what it would cost Me in time and effort and love and giving and all that it would take to keep that soul moving forward. I wouldn't have done so if I didn't have a very good reason, and something about them that made me happy as well, or some role in My plan for them to fill. No one could be formed by accident; each one is a deliberate work of My hands, and I have a plan to keep them progressing spiritually.

Planet Earth is one place you can learn things on, but it's not the only place in existence. I have lots of places where a soul can learn—sometimes good lessons, other times unwanted troubles to teach them what they refused to learn, and need a different approach. I have all kinds of “schools” and all kinds of reward systems, and graduation-to-the-next levels.

Life—the lives that I made—do all have a purpose. What is your reason for being here? Primarily to learn what I want you to learn. If you do well, then you’ll get to the next grade more promptly.

It helps to think of Me as a dad who is has put their children in a special school to learn, and the dad is the teacher too, and he built the place and made all kinds of learning programs. So is Earth. And yes, there are bullies in the school of life, and in time that will need to be purged from the school home of Earth. But for now, just talk to your father in Heaven and “learn of Me” like I said. I’ll teach you things that many others might not have learned just yet. Sit up close to the teacher, Me, and I’ll give you tips how to pass the grade.

I need you to graduate with wisdom and knowledge and a good sense of what life is for, then I can employ you in some far-out places that will really thrill you. But you have to learn your class lessons now.

And if you have learned the first one—Who is your Maker—then you are off to a very good start. Once you learn that, you’ll make fast and good headway. Have faith that I do all things well, and can make all that you learn and go through be a benefit later on.

PSA.100:3b We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

(Jesus says:) Who are my people? Those who are wanting the destruction of the Earth and its people? Those who try to tear down all that I am building up? Those who wish to stop and hinder all those who are following Me faithfully, in spirit and in truth? Can I call those My own? No. I am talking about those who follow Me. I said, “My sheep hear My voice, and I know them and they follow Me” (in John 10). Who are My people? Those who wish to follow My voice. Where is My voice? Where to do you find it, so you and others can follow?

You don’t find it when filled with your own thoughts and inventions that go against My plan for your life and for the lives of those around you. But you find it in the stillness, the quiet times, where you can hear the voice of the one Who loves you. You have to get quiet to hear the voice of God calling you, telling you where to go and what to do.

You have to take time daily to feed near Me, eating spiritually the nourishment I have provided—My written words, and those others have written for you. Then you are close enough to hear what I want to say to you, where I am calling you. And because you took good feeding time, you are strong enough to actually do the things I ask of you. It’s not enough to just be running around thinking about Me, like sheep bounding around but who aren’t eating the food they need nor drinking the pure waters. They need to rest and feed nearby.

Otherwise they won’t hear the voice of the shepherd, and even if they did, they wouldn’t have the strength to walk the long distances to go where I lead.

So it is with you. Just going about your day, kind of half thinking about Me being around, and saying words at prayer time, talking to someone or something that you have heard exists, isn't going to make you strong, or able to hear where you are to go, and what you are to do.

"We are His people". What a wonderful declaration for Me to hear, those who want to be part of My team, want to be in My family and belong to Me. And it goes on to say "the sheep of His pasture". This is a humble, a very humble expression. It didn't say "we are the strong lions of the team", or the mountains of strength, nor even children of the Lord. But something lower, sheep, who are made for the maintenance of those on Earth—to clothe and feed people. Humble animals who just do what they are led to do. They can't make a great name for themselves. They can easily get lost. They need a shepherd. So in this statement it's like saying:

"We belong to the Great Shepherd, and are willing to follow Him and do whatever He says. He knows best and we don't. We'll let ourselves be used of God to help others in whatever way He needs. We give ourselves to Him for His benefit, as He sees fit, however He needs us."

Can you say that to Me today, that you are Mine and want to listen to My voice and follow Me closely? Will you do and give whatever it takes to help others, even if it costs you something, and seems to take away from your own needs?

My sheep hear My voice, and will do as I do—give of themselves to help bring others into the fold of God, into God's kingdom. I am your Pastor the feeder—like the pasture feeds the sheep, so do I feed you and nourish you with My Word, with My love deeds I do for you, with the love I give you from others, with the care I give for your body, with the miracles and deeds of supernatural love that cheer your heart, with good mind food that teaches you amazing things. I feed you in so many ways, even through the love of others, through hugs and cheer and encouragement. I'll feed you today, in many ways, as you stay close by Me.

PSA.100:4 Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name.

(Jesus says:) Have you lifted up your arms in praise to Me today? I let the sun be lifted up in the sky. I create the trees to lift up their branches up to the light. I make plants to grow up and up. I cause the growth of a human body to go up, taller and straight. Buildings are made to stand up with beams that go upward. Is this not all an example that growth and strength come from a lifting up of your arms in praise?

Lift up your arms to Me, reach out to Me, and I will cause new fruit to form in your heart and mind—the good fruits of the spirit. Did you get upset about something? Lift up your arms in praise, and this will generate the right things in your mind. Good fruits rather than bad will come into your life. If you keep your arms hanging down all the time, and let your thoughts reach down, then soon you just droop.

It takes effort to reach up, just as plants have to go against gravity and reach for the light rather than the earth that tries to pull them down. They use the Earth as a base, but only to keep them reaching upward. Can you do that too? You are in the world, but don't only reach towards it, or you will fall. Use your experiences and your heartaches to get you reaching upwards.

Trees provide shelter when they are still growing, and when they are cut down. But either way they reach upward to make a place for young ones to be raised in—whether it’s a family with children, or a bird’s nest. So as you lift up your arms in praise and rejoice, not only do you grow in spirit, but you can help provide shelter for others from the storms of life, and help others to grow as well.

Praise beautifies and makes you shine. Did you lift your arms up today, real high, in praise? Let not a day go by where you have forgotten this. If your day is going down, take a look at your arms. They say a day goes the way the corners of the mouth turn. I say a day goes the direction of the arms and eyes. Look up. Lift up. Reach up. –And things will pick up and you’ll be on the up and up.

And did you know that you don’t have to wait until you leave this world to “enter into My gates”? You can come and get a touch of heaven right here and now. In fact you should! Just start praising. Start rejoicing, and like a person makes their way into someone’s heart by speaking kind and nice words to them, so will you enter right into My Heavenly realm.

The things you see then, the sounds you can even hear, the things you will be shown will be far better for your spirit than anything made on Earth, even better than nature that is around you, in its most beautiful state. Come. I’m inviting you to come and get a touch of Heaven. You need it, especially now. The more of hellish sights and sounds and pictures that move into Earth, the more desperately My children need to get their inspiration from above and take time in the courts of the living God, crying out for them as King David did. And he got them. He was able to get glimpses into Heaven, because he sought Me out, He wanted to be in My courts. That's why He praised so much, he found it brought him right to My side, spiritually, and many wonderful things He saw and heard and experienced, even though suffering in many ways while still on Earth.

So can it before you, as you praise, and cry out in prayer for a glimpse of life in Heaven. Get it daily, and rejoice that the Kingdom of Christ is the one that really rules, and it will be established on Earth as well, when the time is right. Long for Heaven and slip in for a refreshing visit, daily. Enjoy sitting in the presence of Jesus, though you still are on Earth for a time yet appointed. You can be in two places at once, kind of, at least in spirit and mind and heart. And the worse this world gets, the more you'll need it. It is what will feed you and inspire you. And you need spiritual nourishment to go on living and carrying out God's will.

Be brave though things get darker and more difficult. Take a spirit trip to Heaven. You can even eat of the Heavenly food if you like, while your spirit takes a trip. If there is something you are not getting on Earth, something that might even be good for you? Well, ask Heaven to provide it. We've got more than enough here to share. We can get it directly to your spirit and heart, and it will seem like you got it physically too. God provides all that is needed for his children, especially those who are not satisfied with the things of this world and who long to serve Him in His courts—and who praise God daily so that they might enter in.

PSA.100:5 For the LORD is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.

(Jesus says:) Truth equals good. Mercy is good. These are some of the ways I am good. I don't tell you lies; I don't mislead you to a path of life that will tear you up and bring you down. I am good. I am God. I give you lots of chances to try again to do things right, when you do start to go down the wrong roads. My mercy might be shown in a lot of different ways, all for the purpose of giving you a new and better start.

Lean on Me, like a staff when you are going up a mountain trail that is steep and rocky. Lean on Me like a child being held who is tired. Lean on Me like a person does to the back of a chair when resting. Lean on Me. I can support you in any situation. I can hold you up. I know your weakness, for I made you just so. I plan to give you all the support you need to go in the right direction.

You can rest your full weight on the truth of My Word. You can lean over in prayer as you bow to Me asking for My help in your time of need. Lean over in prayer. Lean back in trust. I like it when you can put your full weight down on Me out of trust.

I am good, I am true, and I will do what is best for you.

Is truth being known to your generation? Are you helping to declare it? Make sure you are. My truth is still true, and what I say will still happen, even if people don't know it or haven't heard about it. Are you passing on truth more than anything else you pass on? Or are your words and deeds filled with just echoing the troubles around you, or the sayings of mankind? These things will all pass away. But those prophets of God who have dared to speak the Word of God, the truth of God, will be held up as shining examples. They will get their name in lights and their honour.

If, through deceit you try to get honour for yourself now, or through sneaky ways try to get others to praise you, this will be very short lived. The truth goes on, and whoever has spoken up for it, even if it made them be the most unwanted or persecuted person around, these will get lasting honour. Those who lie and cheat and steal all to get themselves glory here and now, will go down through the history pages as pitiful, weak, and sad stories to be learned from what not to do.

Do you want to be famous or infamous? Those on the truth team will seem like they are either not heard about, or put down here and now. But the eternal records written will prove that they really are the ones who made the right choices. God's Truth will endure, whatever man may say, and so will the eternal rewards and fame of those who declared it, to their own hurt, or humiliation here and now. If you want your fame and your name to endure, choose truth above the froth and frivolous words of mankind, and the silly games they play to get a bit of honour now, that will pass away like leaves on a tree when the season changes, and the leaves are brown and lying on the ground, changing into dirt.

What is truth? Everyone wants to know this. That is why there is such a plague of lies, to keep it from being known. Who is free? Those who have found the truth. That is freedom, and will result in freedom from death, and from the weights that mankind has to carry while labouring in this life. When you hear God's Words of life spoken to you, this sets you free from burdens of the heart and mind. You see things God's way and it's like you have wings. You fly above the problems and get a whole new perspective. You feel lighter. You feel better. You feel you can do whatever I, God's Word, have asked of you. Truth brings freedom, and should be sought out and desired above all things. Proverbs talks about it as "wisdom" and that is to know the truth and God's thoughts about things. Seek it out, want it more than any riches or pleasures. To know truth and to submit to it and do what it says, is the way to live a full and noble life, without waste. Those who don't know truth waste so much. They waste time, they waste money, they waste people, and their health and life waste away. But truth, the truth that I, the Lord of love, tell you, leads to life. I save you time. I restore your health. I give you the supply of your needs as you listen to, receive, and follow My Truth.

Don't heed to folly and to lies and to the mere distractions. For you only live this life once, and I will hold you accountable for what you used your little time for. Use it to pursue truth at all costs, and hold to it, faithfully, and denying anything the world says if it is against that truth. Let My truth help you to endure, and let My truth endure in your generation, and let you live long.